TRAILS GIRL, FALLS INTO LAW'S GRIP

Man Follows Young Woman Who, Directed by Phone, Leads Him to Police.

This isn't much of a story, but it is a fact. Late yesterday afternoon, during a lull in crime activities, a matter of a few minutes or so, Lieut. Chapman, in charge of the detective department at Central Police Station, answered a telephone call that came from a drug store at Fourth street and Broadway. After he had dutifully assimilated the hurried profanity which burned over the wire, he pieced out these words: "There is a man following me and I want to get rid of him."

"Are you sure he is following you?" asked Lieut. Chapman.

"Yes," answered the voice.

"And are you sure he will keep following you?" queried the lieutenant.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Then," said Lieut. Chapman, "walk slowly up to the police station."

A few minutes later the voice and its owner, Miss G. Goldberg, walked into the detective department. Not knowing he had entered the front swinging portals of the police headquarters, George Perisos, of 314 North Main street, continued to follow. He meandered into the open arms of Lieut. Chapman. Later he was admonished and sent home.

Moral: It behooveth him who would a following go, to find out where the police station is located.

Army Plans to Get Bergdoll

WON'T BE BLUFFED,' SAYS GEN. MARCH, CHIEF OF STAFF

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—If the War Department gets a chance to catch Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the notorious draft dodger now hiding in Germany, it is not going to be bluffed out by any narrow construction of international law. The department will keep on trying to "get Bergdoll" until it exhausts every means at its command.

This, in effect, was the testimony today of Gen. Peyton C. March, Chief of Staff in the Army, before the House committee investigating the Bergdoll case. The War Department, according to Gen. March, considers Bergdoll "an exceptionally bad specimen of draft slacker" and is determined "to bring him to justice at any cost." Behind closed doors, the general told the committee of intricate diplomatic webs that are being woven to extradite Bergdoll and bring him back to serve the sentence he escaped from when he was permitted to go hunting for the $156,000 pot of gold last fall.

MARCH'S TESTIMONY.

"The War Department," said Gen. March, "has made persistent efforts both through military and diplomatic channels to get Bergdoll. Of course he is only one of 15,000 slackers, but the department regards him as a very bad specimen and we want him. The efforts of those two men in Coblenz to get Bergdoll in violation of international law have our entire sympathy. We want to get him at any price."

Members of the committee wanted to know whether the effort to kidnap Bergdoll was a violation of international law. Gen. March stated that it was in violation of the armistice agreement. He added that efforts were now being made through diplomatic channels that he could not discuss publicly, but which he would be glad to tell about in executive session. After he had concluded his public testimony the committee heard him in executive session for half an hour.

REGRETS APOLOGY.

The apology made for the effort of the two American detectives to get Bergdoll was not directed from Washington, Gen. March stated. It was on the initiative of Gen. Allen, commander of the American forces in Germany. Gen. March stated that when he first heard of the kidnaping effort he assumed that it was engineered by members of the American Expeditionary Forces and he prepared a statement to the effect that he assumed full responsibility for their actions.

"I entirely approved of their efforts," said Gen. March.

"Then you would not have apologized?" he was asked.

"Not one bit," replied the general.

"Was Gen. Allen censured?"

"No, sir; his action was entirely correct from the standpoint of international law," answered the general. "But if those men had brought Bergdoll back it would

LETTER IS MADE PUBLIC.

So-Called "Hysterical" Missive Sent to Banker Filed at Mount Carmel.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Extractions from the so-called "hysterical" letter in which Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman is alleged to have admitted to her husband, James A. Stillman, that Fred Beauvais is the father of Guy Stillman, became public today.

The letter is on file in the County Clerk's office at Mount Carmel, as part of the document presented by Mr. Stillman in opposing his wife's application for $10,000 a month alimony pending the trial of the action. It has not been presented in evidence before Referee Daniel J. Gleason, who is hearing the testimony in the divorce case, and also in the action brought by Mr. Stillman to have Guy Stillman declared an illegitimate child.

The letter in question was written on the stationery of the Iroquois Hotel, Buffalo, on April 12, 1918, several months before the birth of Guy Stillman. It was in Buffalo that Mrs. Stillman visited Dr. Hugh Russell, who gave damaging testimony against her last week. The letter comprises nine closely written sheets and reviews at length the marital differences between Mr. and Mrs. Stillman, winding up with an admission that Fred Beauvais is the father of the unborn child. The letter, in part, reads as follows:

ALWAYS SQUARE.

"Dear Jimmie: I have always been on the square with you and that is why I am writing this letter. We have had our differences, and these started when your father made it plain that he did not want you to marry me. You know we have grown up apart from each other, but that has not been my fault.

"I wanted you to come home to me, but you would not come. You left me up in the country all alone and it was so cold I was lonely and needed you, but you did not come. I am heartbroken.

"Fred has come into my life. It might have been different had you shown me the attention I was entitled to as your wife, and come to me when I appealed to you."

Then follows a detailed account of the friendship with Fred Beauvais.

MENTAL FATIGUE.

Mrs. Stillman informed the banker that she had grown ill, both mentally and physically; that she had been laboring under a mental strain for many days, and otherwise mani-

FIGHT OVER NAVAL BILL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The $500,000,000 naval bill may be made the vehicle for a lively discussion of the entire international situation when the measure comes up in the Senate Thursday.

The question of disarmament is bound to come to a showdown, despite President Harding's plea for a free hand, and discussion of this issue, it was stated today, will almost inevitably lead to debate of the administration's decision to resume participation in European councils along with the sidetracking of the Knox peace resolution.

BORAH PLANS FIGHT.

Senator Borah of Idaho has given notice that he will compel the Senate to toe the mark on the disarmament issue by moving to suspend the rules to make his amendment for a disarmament conference in order. He issued a statement today in reply to the administration's contention that the disarmament question should be dealt with as a matter of executive policy. He declared that it was a primary concern of Congress because of the vast appropriations involved.

"The Secretary of the Treasury has advised us that we cannot continue to expend money as we are expending it, that to do so means disaster," said Senator Borah. "He has further advised us, as everybody who has studied the situation knows, that there is no way to reduce our tax burdens except through a cut in the Army and Navy appropriations. This makes the proposition a simple one, and particularly a matter for Congress to determine.

MUST REDUCE BURDENS.

"Any suggestion or any plan which looks to the curtailment of appropriations is legitimately within the jurisdiction of Congress and within the jurisdiction of no other department of the government. The fact that the plan or suggestion may incidentally touch our relationship with other nations should not be taken as prohibitive of Congress' action. We have no intention whatever of interfering with the executive authority. We simply propose to urge the only plan by which it is possible for Congress to reduce these fearful burdens which are now ruining the people of this country."

G.A.R. Commander Announces Formation of Organization of Americanism.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA, May 9.—Organization of the Federated Patriotic Societies of the United States, with Americanism as one of its principal objects, was announced here today by C. E. Adams of Omaha, former commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Another purpose set forth in resolutions is to "stand firmly against Bolshevism, I.W.W.ism, anarchy, sedition and all other acts that are designed to disrupt our government and disturb our economic, social and commercial relations."

The resolutions were signed by representatives of the G.A.R. in various States, T. J. Cunningham of Washington, quartermaster-general of the United Spanish War Veterans, and T. Victor Keene of Indianapolis, a member of the American Legion's executive committee. The organization hopes to enlist every patriotic society in the country, to secure a membership of more than 6,000,000. Its officers, Mr. Adams said, would be elected at the September encampment of the G.A.R. at a place to be designated later.

Government Explains Action in Case of German Convicted in Oregon.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The case of Henry Albers, a German, convicted in Portland, Ore., of having violated the Espionage Act, has not been closed through the recent confession of error entered in the Supreme Court by the government, Solicitor-General Frierson declared in a statement today, but has been "merely remanded to the District Court for a new trial."

The Supreme Court ordered judgment reversed. The government's action, Frierson explained, was taken because the District Attorney, who prosecuted Albers, introduced as evidence against him certain statements he was alleged to have made in 1914 and 1915 or before the United States entered the war.

"In two circuits—the seventh and eighth—it had been held that the admission of such evidence rendered the trial unfair and was reversible error," the statement said. "In those circuits the ruling had been acquiesced in by the Department of Justice. Upon a careful consideration of the record, the department was satisfied that it was unjust to ask for an affirmance (of the conviction) obtained in part at least by the use of evidence of this kind. Entertaining the views above expressed, there was but one course open to the Solicitor-General. He accordingly confessed error.

"This does not free Albers. The case is merely remanded to the District Court for a new trial. If he is guilty, it is presumed there would be no difficulty in securing another conviction by the use of competent evidence."

FEARING SEIZURE OF RUHR, REICHSTAG WILL BOW TO REPARATIONS DEMANDS

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[EXCLUSIVE WIRELESS DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, May 9.—At a party conference here today President Ebert is reported to have declared himself in favor of accepting the Entente ultimatum.

Dr. Von Ramer, representing the treasury, also is reported to have urged acceptance, and the press is coming around to acceptance. Nevertheless, no political leader is willing to accept the Chancellorship, entailing, as it does, the necessity for bowing to the Entente's ultimatum.

The political parties themselves have split. As a last resort it has been proposed to release members of the Reichstag from party ties. Such action is a rare procedure for Germany, but such a course was followed when the Treaty of Versailles was ratified.

By adopting this plan Germany can accept the ultimatum without the blame for doing so falling on any party.

Today Dr. Gustave Stresseman, leader of the People's party, was again the favorite for the pivotal place in the Cabinet.

REICHSTAG IS SAFE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, May 8.—Late tonight the party leaders admitted that there would be available Tuesday in the Reichstag a safe majority in favor of accepting the Allied ultimatum on reparations.

The Majority Socialists and Clericals in party conferences today voted in favor of accepting the ultimatum of the Allies. The German People's party, by a vote of 59 to 5, rejected the proposition. The Democrats were in session at midnight.

As the Independent Socialists have favored yielding to the Allies, it is believed there will be a sufficient majority in the Reichstag for acceptance of the ultimatum.

Paul Loebe of the Majority Socialists and president of the Reichstag, will be commissioned by President Ebert to form a new Cabinet. It is now believed a parliamentary coalition, which will accept the Al-

CIVIL WAR IS SPREADING THROUGH UPPER SILESIA.

Former Teuton Officers Are Arming Natives to Resist Invaders; French Blamed for Taking Sides.

BY HENRY WALES.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, May 9.—The most alarming news received in French official circles today from Upper Silesia states that the population of Kreuzberg last night attacked the French garrison, which was evacuating the town, killing one soldier, wounding three and capturing three machine guns. An isolated squad of seventy French soldiers, who were surrounded, were disarmed.

Open warfare is expected to break out hourly when German gun runners succeed in smuggling sufficient arms and munitions to the German population of Upper Silesia, who heretofore have remained passive because they were unarmed.

Two years ago the entire population of Upper Silesia was disarmed.

It was reported tonight that the inter-Allied plebiscite commission has advised civilians to leave Oppeln, as a fierce battle between Germans and Polish insurgents is expected for possession of the city.

IN HANDS OF REBELS.

By Larry Rue.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BEUTHEN (Upper Silesia) May 9.—While it was the Allies that declared a state of siege in Upper Silesia, it remained for the insurgent Poles to make the area look anything like a country under martial law.

Yesterday during my trip from Oppeln to Beuthen I passed through a country that was almost entirely in the hands of the insurgents.

My automobile was challenged by Polish sentries at the entrance and exit of every village and after I had covered half the distance from Oppeln to Gross Strehlitz, only twice did I see Allied troops. They were French and seemed entirely at home in the area held by insurgents.

I passed through ten villages and small cities and found in every one that the people were celebrating Sunday as usual. The squares were packed with men, women and children promenading in and out among the Polish patrols.

Gleiwitz was the only city through which I passed which was not occupied by the Poles. There, French sentries guarded all the roads leading into towns. Within a stone's throw of the French troops insurgents had established guards on both sides of the city.

French patrols passed through the Polish patrols while I drove by. A truck carrying supplies to Poles and others at Gleiwitz went through both lines unchallenged. A Polish officer rode with me two miles to meet the truck.

The insurgents are mostly young Poles, fired with enthusiasm and patriotism. Most have German rifles and are dressed in civilian clothes. A few wear officers uniforms. Also some wear French, and some American uniforms.

The insurgents are well disciplined. I heard no reports of outrage. The shops were doing business as usual in every town.

The Germans in the southern area mostly are remaining in their homes, although I met altogether, perhaps 100 persons, mostly barefooted, carrying their effects on their backs and fleeing from Oppeln.

The Poles are exceptionally obliging. At Hindenburg, after my passport, police card and other credentials were examined carefully, I was invited to the police station to get a Polish pass, which I did. The Poles told me there were 500 French troops at Hindenburg, but I saw none. The insurgents were in complete control.

ORDERED TO TAKE CITIES.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SOSNOWIEC (Upper Silesia) May 9.—(With the Polish insurgents.) Desperate battles for the possession of cities including Konigshutte, Gleiwitz, Rybnik, Kandrzin and Cosel, which are important railroad and industrial centers, marked the inception of the second phase of the Upper Silesian insurrection. Orders were issued to the insurgents to capture the urban districts at any price.

Dread of starvation impelled the Germans to break the insurgent cordons, cutting them off from the front. The Polish leaders fear that the Germans have concentrated in the cities and are hastily preparing

WEATHER AIDS WHEAT.

May Estimate on Winter Crop 8,000,000 Bushels Over April's Forecast.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—This year's winter wheat and rye crops will be larger than last year, while the hay crop will be about the same, the Department of Agriculture's May forecasts issued today indicate.

Winter wheat acreage showed much less than average abandonment as a result of favorable winter weather. A crop of 629,287,000 bushels, or 8,000,000 bushels more than forecast a month ago, is estimated on the acreage figures of the May 1 canvass.

Kansas reported an abandonment of 8 per cent. This was the heaviest of any of the important producing States and her crop promises to be about 1,000,000 bushels less than last year. Abandonment in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska ranged from 2 to 3 per cent. Nebraska's crop will be about 1,500,000 bushels smaller than last year.

MORE ACREAGE.

Acreage abandoned during the winter was less than 5 per cent of the total area planted last autumn, compared with an average abandonment of 11.0 per cent during the last three years. The crop this year is almost 9 per cent larger than last year, while the acreage to be harvested is 2.5 per cent more than last year.

The area to be harvested is about 1,884,000 acres, or 4.6 per cent less than the acreage planted last autumn, and 948,000 acres, or 2.5 per cent more than the acreage harvested last year.

The May 1 condition is indicative of a yield of approximately 16.3 bushels to the acre, indicating a total production of 8.9 per cent more than in 1920, 13.7 per cent less than in 1919, and 11.4 per cent more than in 1918.

The rye crop this year is forecast at 72,007,000 bushels based on the condition of the crop May 10, which was 92.5 per cent of normal. The crop last year was 49,318,000 bushels and the condition on May 1 was 88.1, while the 1919 crop was 83,909,000 bushels and the May 1

MAN SHOT IN STRIKE RIOT.

Marine Workers Forcibly Board Vessel in Bay City; Beat Crew.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—One man—a bystander—was shot and many beaten here today in water-front rioting arising from the seamen's strike. The trouble began when a crowd estimated at 1000 broke through a police guard and boarded the Shipping Board steamer Bloomfield. Three of the ship's crew were severely beaten. The crowd dispersed upon learning that police reserves had been summoned.

Thomas Colleene, a chauffeur for the Matson Navigation Co., was attacked by a crowd which declared Colleen's passenger automobile was a scab. Colleen fired his pistol twice. One shot struck Ben Lee, who was sitting in a barber shop having his hair cut. The bullet perforated the trousers leg of Lee, who was standing on the sidewalk.

Colleen was arrested on the charge of carrying firearms.

The American Steamship Co. announced that steamer Wapama, which they had obtained from the Shipping Board, had been boarded by two members of the crew of the vessel previous to her sailing and forcibly taken from her berth. It was said they were then beaten. The association also announced that its members had been ordered by their vessels up pending a settlement of the differences.

Only one American steamer cleared from here today. She was the West Isleta for Philadelphia. Her crew had been signed prior to May 1 under the former wage scale and conditions, it was announced.

Federal protection was promised officers and seamen aboard Shipping Board vessels under the new wages and conditions tonight by H. H. Ebey, district director here of the Shipping Board. He said all government-owned vessels here would be guarded against molestation.

JAPANESE CROWN PRINCE TOASTED BY KING GEORGE

State Banquet Held in Honor of Nipponese Heir-Apparent; German Ambassador Also Present.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 9.—The state banquet at Buckingham Palace tonight in honor of Crown Prince Hirohito revived the prewar brilliance of such events. The banquet was held in the state ballroom, which was decorated with flowers. One hundred and thirty guests were present, including many members of the royal family, the Japanese visitors and foreign ambassadors, including the German Ambassador.

King George, toasting the royal guest, said the visit was the symbol of the friendship which had so long united the two island empires. The Prince expressed his profound gratification at the warm welcome and hospitality. The King has appointed Crown Prince Hirohito a knight of the grand cross, Order of the Bath.

The capital of the British Empire accorded Prince Hirohito a tumultuous welcome upon his arrival here. Full honors of state were extended to him, the occasion being the first for such honors to a visiting foreign dignitary since 1914. A bright spring day provided ideal weather for the function.

The Japanese Prince, accompanied by the Prince of Wales, arrived at Victoria Station on a special train from Portsmouth. He was greeted with cordial handshakes by King George, the Duke of Connaught, and the Duke of York. The brilliant suite of British officialdom in attendance stood at attention while the bands played the Japanese anthem.

Then, at the side of the King, in a state carriage, the Crown Prince was driven off, through streets cordoned by troops and lined with cheering multitudes, to Buckingham Palace.

GREETED BY KING.

Two platforms of the great Victoria Station had been cut off from the public for the accommodation of the royal train and decorators have been at work for two days making them ready for the Prince's arrival.

King George, wearing the uniform of a field marshal and the sash of the Japanese Order of the Rising Sun, with the Duke of Connaught and the Duke of York, in naval uniforms, stood on the red carpeted quadrangle, flanked by a notable assemblage of officials.

Viscount Chinda, former Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain, who accompanied the Crown Prince on his voyage to England, served as interpreter for the royal visitor, who appeared somewhat nervous during the lengthy exchange of handshakes and greetings. After the Crown Prince and his hosts had inspected the guard of honor, made up of a battalion of the Scots Guards, the royal guest was conducted to the state carriage, in which also the King, the Prince of Wales and Viscount Chinda were seated, and the procession moved off.

CHEERED BY CROWD.

The crowd standing on tiptoe behind the troops which formed a cordon along the route of the procession, cheered the Prince as he passed and waved handkerchiefs to him, the Prince returning the salutes.

Among those in these conveyances were Gen. Prince Kanin, Japanese Supreme Military Councillor, the Duke of York, Baron Hayashi, Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain; Vice-Admiral Takeshita, Lieut.-Gen. Nara, Admiral Sir Charles Colville and Gen. Sir Charles Monroe, British officers of the suite attached to the Crown Prince; Baron Matsui, former Japanese Ambassador to France, and other members of the Prince's suite.

In front of Buckingham Palace, a great mass of people greeted the procession, and a battalion of the Coldstream Guards was drawn up as another guard of honor.

Within the palace, the visiting Prince was received by the Queen, Princess Mary and other members of the royal family, and court officials.

The Crown Prince took lunch at the palace this afternoon, visited Queen Mother Alexandra, and subsequently placed wreaths on the cenotaph in Whitehall and the grave of the unknown soldier in Westminster Abbey.

TWENTY YEARS OLD.

Prince Michi, or Hirohito Michinomiya, is 20 years old, a major of infantry in the army and a lieutenant-commander in the Japanese navy.

An observing disposition, a retentive memory and a keen desire for knowledge are said to characterize the Crown Prince, "Michi" from his earliest youth, the court chronologers say, has been especially interested in history and geography and is so well informed on world affairs that since 1919, when he attained his majority, he has taken part in the councils of the imperial family and occupied a seat in the House of Peers in the Imperial Diet.

Born on April 29, 1901, he was proclaimed Crown Prince on July 30, 1912, when his father succeeded to the throne as 123rd Emperor of Japan upon the death of Meiji. When 6 years old he was enrolled among the pupils of the Peers School in Tokio, receiving the customary elementary common school education in daily association with other children of the aristocracy. Upon his graduation in 1914 there was established the Imperial Education Institute within the precincts of the Crown Prince's estate and there for several years "Michi" studied under private tutors. This year saw the completion of his academic course which his father, the Emperor and mother, Empress Sadako, decided to round out with foreign travel. The Japanese Embassy in Washington formally announced last February he would not visit the United States.

TRIP AN INTRIGUE?

About this same time it was reported that "Michi's" tour abroad was due to an intrigue to annul his betrothal to the Princess Nagako, an expose of which precipitated a movement to have him designated as Regent. The Crown Prince's ability to serve as Regent was shown in May, 1920, when his father, stricken with what was believed to be a serious illness, relinquished his duties to his son. At this time Hirohito represented the Emperor in an important state function, receiving foreign diplomatic representatives in private audience. The alleged plot to prevent his marriage was attributed to the rivalry of political clans, but shortly after the announcement of his prospective tour it was given out in Tokio that the wedding would be solemnized upon his return.

JUBILATION RECALLED.

The visit of Prince "Michi" to Europe recalls the national jubilation which ensued throughout Japan on Nov. 3, 1916, when with mystic rite and courtly pomp he was formally consecrated as Crown Prince and heir to the throne. It was the birthday anniversary of the illustrious Mutushito whose recent death was being lamented by millions of his subjects. On this same date in 1889, the reigning Emperor had been proclaimed Crown Prince. It was the prime of the beautiful Japanese autumn, when the gorgeous chrysanthemum, the crest of the Japanese imperial house, is seen in all its glory.

One striking feature of the celebration was the Shinto ceremony in the sanctuary of the "Kashikodokoro" or sacred mirror where for many centuries other princes of the blood royal had been proclaimed heirs apparent.

On this occasion, also the Emperor conferred upon his son a sacred sword called "Tsubokiri-no-Tsurugi," which had been given to Yoshihito by his father at the time of his own elevation. Three years later when "Michi" became of age the event was celebrated with festivals throughout the Japanese empire.

FISHING INDUSTRIES SEEK FEDERAL HELP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—More than a score of representatives of the fishing industries of the Atlantic, Pacific, Gulf Coasts and Great Lakes conferred today with Secretary Hoover to work out more effective methods by which the Department of Commerce can aid the industry.

It was said recommendations would be drawn up by the fishing men and probably be submitted to Mr. Hoover tomorrow.

What's Habit to You?

From birth our lives are largely given to the acquiring of habits.

Some habits must displace others previously formed.

Commercially we form most of our buying habits from 20 to 40. During these years each generation decides for itself.

The habit of the last generation of the "Saturday night bath" is displaced evidently, for the modern hotel advertises every room with bath.

Perhaps the bathroom fixture people did not bring this change about—but they profit by it enormously.

Sunkist wants us all to form the habit of using more lemon products the year round.

If they can form a new habit or strengthen an old one, they will sell more train loads of lemons.

What does habit do for or against your business?

Advertising can create habits or can change habits.

much lower price than the Illinois manufacturer shipping all rail.

Chairman Borah stated that no requests for hearings had been received from the opponents of the proposed legislation, and none of the midwestern Senators and Representatives was on hand to argue against it today.

Midwestern organizations of manufacturers and other commercial interests and individuals desiring to submit arguments against the toll exemption bills can arrange to be hard by writing or telegraphing to Senator Borah, who will set a date for such hearing before the committee considers action on the measures.

ACT IS REPEALED.

In 1914 Congress, at the request of President Wilson, repealed the Toll Exemption Act of 1912 mainly on the ground that it was a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty providing for equality of treatment for the shipments of all nations. The majority of the committee, however, takes the position that this provision means equality of treatment for the ships of all nations other than the United States, the builder and protector of the canal.

President Harding intends to carry into effect the Republican platform declaration in favor of toll exemption for all American ships, but he believes it should be done by means of an understanding with Great Britain, the other party to the treaty. Whether he will halt the proposed legislation pending negotiations with Great Britain, or leave that matter for discussion with England after passage of the legislation, remains to be seen.

At the meeting today Senators Jones and Poindexter of Washington presented arguments in favor of their bills exempting all American ships from payment. Senator Borah has introduced a bill exempting coastwise ships only.

BURDEN IS GREAT.

Senator Jones asserted that "An American ship of 6000 tons has to pay $7200 canal tolls, a burden which American ships should not be required to bear in using a waterway constructed and protected by the United States."

"Tolls imposed on American ships constitute 3 per cent of the investment, clearly a large proportion of their margin of profit," said Senator Walsh of Montana, Democrat.

"There can be no misunderstanding of Great Britain's position," said Senator Knox, who was Secretary of State when the British protest against toll exemption was received in 1912. "Great Britain knows the rule of the maritime world respecting coastwise vessels, and she would be the last to seek to prevent our coastwise vessels from being given free use of the canal. I am not prepared to say by whom, but it has always been clear me that the levying of tolls on American vessels was inspired and hatched in this country."

"Presumably by the radical International?" inquired Senator Walsh.

"It is to be presumed that it was," replied Senator Knox.

Senator Poindexter said that the most asinine aspect of American policy is the requirement that American battleships and other naval vessels pay tolls. This statement occasioned much surprise, inasmuch as the Attorney-General ruled in 1915 that American naval vessels were exempt from tolls because they were employed to protect and maintain the canal.

BIG YIELD IN WINTER WHEAT

ten-year average condition is 89.9 per cent of normal.

Hay production this year is forecast at 107,784,000 tons compared with 108,233,000 tons last year and 109,152,000 tons in 1919.

The expected hay acreage is placed at 73,612,000 acres this year, compared with an area last year of 73,181,000 acres.

The average condition of spring pastures on May 1 was 91.8 per cent of a normal, compared with 79.8 a year ago and 84.6 the ten-year average.

Spring plowing was 77.8 per cent completed on May 1, compared with 60.1 a year ago and 69.3, the ten-year average.

Spring planting was 62.5 per cent completed on May 1, compared with 50.2 per cent a year ago, and 57.5 the ten-year average.

The April forecast of winter wheat placed this year's crop at 621,000,000 bushels and was based on the crop's condition of 91.0 per cent of a normal on April 1 and on the assumption there had been acreage abandonment of acreage during the winter. Last year's crop was 577,763,000 bushels. The condition of the crop a year ago was 79.1 per cent of a normal, while the May 1 ten-year average condition is 86.8 per cent.

The area planted to winter wheat last autumn was 40,605,000 acres, while the area placed the previous autumn was 40,605,000 acres, while the area harvested last year from that planting was 37,773,000 acres. The ten-year average of abandonment of planted acreage is 11.0 per cent.

Members of Jap Diet Coming Here For a Long Visit.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOKIO, May 9.—The delegation of the Japanese Diet bound for the United States for a three months' visit sailed from Yokohama today on the steamer Shinyo Maru.

Another passenger was Admiral Sotokichi Uriu, who, the newspapers say, is probably going to Washington to consult with Secretary Hughes on the Japanese situation and also with Secretary of War Weeks, of whom Admiral Uriu was a classmate at Annapolis.

SHIP COOKS' STRIKE TAKES SERIOUS TURN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 9.—The lockout of the seagoing stewards and cooks begun May 6 by the shipping companies because of the men's refusal to accept a wage cut of about 17 per cent, took a serious turn today. A manifesto was issued by the National Union of Ship Stewards and Cooks declaring that the offers of the owners of the old rate of pay to get ships away must not be accepted.

The manifesto said that the lockout had been declared nationally and must be settled nationally.

BERLIN TO SIGN ALLIES' TERMS.

lied ultimatum, will be constituted within the next twenty-four hours.

The advice which Robert Friedlaender, industrialist and financier, gives his countrymen in an examination of the Allied ultimatum and protocol is this:

"The fate of Germany and her future good name are in our hands; let us go to work. The document has been drawn up by sober-minded, calmly calculating business men, who have weighed the prerequisites on which their conclusions are based."

Herr Friedlaender believes the Allies' terms are acceptable, he says, because they are not unreasonable and can be fulfilled under conditions which may be taken for granted and which, indeed, will be incorporated in the treaty.

He sets forth the things necessary to Germany's ability to carry out the protocol as "the return of Germany's industrial capacity, inventive genius and enterprise, to the prewar basis at least, and that no integral parts of her territory be detached, thus causing irredentas on the borders."

He commends the authors of the reparation document and the ultimatum for wisely having refrained from projecting the questions of guilt or moral responsibility for the war into the issue. He tells his countrymen they have a thorny, rocky road ahead, but that acceptance now will remove the paralyzing burden of uncertainty and enable Germany's economic organization to settle down to producing the surplus needed to meet the terms. He concedes that the result of the efforts in this direction probably will not be visible for the first two or three years.

FRENCH ADVANCE.

A dispatch to the Deutsch Allgemeine Zeitung from Mullheim today says French troops from Geldorf crossed the Ruhr last night and occupied various points in Mullheim, including the national bank.

Dr. Wilhelm Mayer, German Ambassador to France, has declined the invitation of President Ebert to form a new ministry, and the German People's party continues its attitude of reserve. Dr. Gustav Stresemann, leader of the People's party, is strongly opposed to acceptance of the Allied terms.

WILL HOLD TROOPS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, May 9.—Even if the Germans accept the Allied reparations ultimatum, the troops mobilized for the occupation will be held in readiness for action in case Bavaria does not disarm before June 30, the time limit fixed by the Allies for completion of the disarming process, it was stated in official circles today.

WALLACE IN COUNCIL.

American representation at Allied conferences was resumed today when Hugh C. Wallace, the American Ambassador, took his seat at the session of the council of ambassadors here. Mr. Wallace received his instructions last night from Secretary of State Hughes to represent the United States government at the ambassadorial conferences.

The American Ambassador was warmly welcomed at the Foreign Office, where the council happened to be meeting this morning, and was given a seat at the right of Jules Cambon of France, president of the council. The problem of Upper Silesia was the subject of the deliberations of the council this forenoon.

Roland W. Boyden, who formerly sat with the Allied Reparations Commission at its sessions, has received his instructions from the State Department to resume his seat with that body.

BOND ISSUE TALK.

The possibility of the issue by Germany of bonds for 12,000,000,000 gold marks bearing 5 per cent interest for the benefit of the Allies, has started speculation in financial circles regarding eventual loans to be floated by the Allies with the bonds as a guarantee. It was said at the Ministry of Finance today this was among the possibilities.

Rumors are current here of a projected loan by France in the United States, but the Ministry of Finance declares no such project is under consideration.

Bankers and treasury officials do not expect the dollar to go back to sixteen, but look for fluctuations due to changing conditions in the exchange market. The general opinion is it may stabilize between ten and thirteen.

PEOPLE ARE SULLEN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUESSELDORF, May 9.—As the day approaches for the possible occupation of additional German territory by the Allies the temper of the population seems to be growing more nervous and sullen. Leaves of officers and soldiers have been reduced and fewer troops are visible in the streets.

French headquarters has informed the burgomaster the artillery would fire at the first outbreak of rioting.

Gen. DeGoutte of the French army is expected to arrive from Mayence Tuesday noon. He will make a final inspection of the army of the Rhine, visit the outposts and put the finishing touches on the preparations for a possible occupation of the Ruhr.

WOULD STAND FAST.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ESSEN, May 9.—The municipalities of Duisburg, Ruhrort, Wesel and Essen have sent a joint resolution to the Berlin government asking it refuse to sign any document enslaving the Ruhr miners to the Entente.

The first violence between civilians and troops of the French army of occupation occurred today when an automobile ran past the military outposts of Dusseldorf.

One of the occupants of the machine fired three revolver shots, one bullet severing the finger of a French sentry.

On entering the city the automobile was stopped and its occupants arrested. They will be court-martialed.

TROUBLE UNTIMELY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 9.—Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons today said that while he might not be prepared to agree with the contention that Germany's answer to the Allied reparations demand would necessarily be influenced by the Silesian trouble, yet it was very unfortunate that this incident should have arisen at the moment when Germany was deciding as to the disarmament demands.

Asked if Great Britain could not do more towards settling the trouble by influencing the Polish government, the Prime Minister said:

"We are doing everything in our power to bring such pressure as we can on the Polish government."

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9. Prison-made grain bags attained their lowest price in ten years when the San Quentin penitentiary board today set the new price at 7 cents each, a drop of one-half cent. Warden J. A. Johnston announced that 2,000,000 bags are ready for delivery.

GET BERGDOLL AT ANY COST.

have been entirely satisfactory to me."

ANSELL'S PART.

Gen. March said he knew little of the circumstances which led to Bergdoll's escape. He said that Gen. Harris had brought to his attention the letter written by Gen. Ansell, attorney for Bergdoll, asking for the release of Bergdoll long enough to permit him to locate the mysterious pot of gold buried in the mountains of Western Pennsylvania. He said he told Gen. Harris to do nothing in the matter that was not entirely right. Later on, he said, he approved the order for the court-martialing of Col. Hunt, commandant of Fort Hunt, where Bergdoll was imprisoned.

W. L. Alexander, redemption change teller of the Treasury Department, gave interesting testimony bearing on the pot of gold. On October 27, as he recalled it, James E. Romig, the Bergdoll family adviser, stepped into his office with an enormous bundle of bills, some of them certificates and others Federal reserve notes payable in gold on demand at the bank of issue or at the Treasury Department. Romig wanted $50,000 in gold immediately; Alexander refused to give it to him without a written order from his superiors. Romig took the matter up with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Loffingwell and obtained an order for the gold. Alexander then paid it over to him in ten bags containing $5000 each. The total weight of the gold was more than one strong man could carry. Romig finally toted it out of the treasury into an automobile.

SOUGHT GOLD AGAIN.

On November 17, according to Alexander, Romig and a woman appeared at the treasury with another big roll of bills and demanded $40,000 gold. Again, after much parleying and red tape, their demands were heeded and $40,000 in twelve sacks, weighing in all 240 pounds, was turned over to them. Alexander thinks now that the woman was Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of the escaped prisoner.

Alexander testified that the treasury officials were very reluctant to pay out the gold, but found that they were without authority to refuse because of the character of the notes and the certificates presented. They called for payment in gold on demand and the Treasury decided that the government must keep its pledge, Alexander said. The bills and notes were "done up." Alexander testified, in bundles of $500. They were wrapped with straps bearing the stamp of several banks. Alexander's memory on this was vague but he thought that the straps bore the stamps of the First National Bank of Camden, and "the First, Second or Third National Bank of Philadelphia."

Alexander described Romig and Mrs. Bergdoll as "foreigners." The quantity of gold they took away from the Treasury was the largest ever taken at one time in his twenty years' experience, he said.

POSED AS FOREIGNERS.

"We thought they were some foreigners, who believed that the government was going to be overthrown and wanted to get all they could," said Alexander. "Mr. Pierce, the cashier, talked to them and told them plainly that if he had his way he'd put them in the penitentiary."

Col. Julius A. Penn, assistant to Gen. Harris, adjutant-general of the Army, told how his chief had called him on the telephone and consulted him regarding the letter Gen. Ansell wrote requesting the temporary release of Bergdoll.

"Gen. Harris said he thought it was a reasonable request of a responsible attorney and I thought so, too," said Col. Penn.

MORE OF IMPUDENCE.

A new form of impudence by Bergdoll made its appearance at today's hearing. He is making a practice of sending copies of German newspapers to Representative Kahn of California, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, and Secretary of War Weeks. He always picks out issues containing bitter anti-American articles. Representative Kahn today laid before the committee a copy of the Ebenburger Zeitung containing a report of the release of the two American detectives who tried to kidnap Bergdoll. The Zeitung denounced the release of the American detectives and gave a lurid account of how Germans were fleeing from the United States to escape persecution.

Mr. Kahn informed the committee that the newspaper was addressed to him in Bergdoll's handwriting. He had sent the wrapper to Philadelphia and had the writing identified as Bergdoll's, he said.

BAILEY'S EXCUSE.

Col. Edward S. Bailey, Gen. Ansell's law partner, was on the stand today. Representative Flood of Virginia asked him why he and Ansell had failed to comply with the invitation of U. S. Dist.-Atty. McAvoy at Philadelphia to appear before the Federal grand jury investigating the Bergdoll case. Col. Bailey replied that he and Gen. Ansell considered that their part in the Bergdoll case was already well known and that there was no necessity for their appearing before the grand jury.

"I am not afraid of any grand jury," said Col. Bailey, showing considerable emotion as he testified. "In spite of public opinion, I have done nothing wrong. The truth will prevail."

Col. Bailey's testimony fully supported Gen. Ansell's previous contentions regarding the part played in the Bergdoll case by Judge Wescott, the prominent New Jersey politician.

SPIES CLUTTER UP IRISH CITY.

Espionage Favorite Sport of Dublin Populace.

Nearly Everyone in Pay of Some Organization.

Sinn Feiners Execute All the British They Catch.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DUBLIN, May 9.—Dublin is a city of spies. The hotels are filled with them. They haunt the streets and hang about the business houses, newspaper offices and the government bureaus. The people speak in whispers and look carefully around to see who is listening before communicating anything important.

These spies are both British and Sinn Feiners, but the Sinn Feiners are more numerous and more clever. The British spies are rather obvious. A Sinn Feiner may be anyone. A famous British officer serving in Ireland told me recently he considered the Sinn Fein intelligence service the best organized and most efficient in the world.

Every hotel servant is a spy. The maid who makes your bed is sure to gather up any torn scraps of paper and pass them on to a quarter where they will be pieced together in search of information which may be useful to the "army of the republic."

BURN ALL LETTERS.

An American official told me he made it a rule to burn all correspondence. When you are talking in a hotel dining-room the waiters are liable to be found standing close behind, taking in every word. If you take a guest to a room the chambermaid finds an excuse to enter silently to see to the bed, fire or some other trifling duty.

A striking feature of Sinn Fein intelligence service is the counter-espionage work. The British intelligence is loosely organized, and the chiefs usually do not know the actual operatives. The men they employ are known to the Sinn Fein. Hardly a day passes that a body is not found with a tag, "Executed by the I.R.A. Spies Beware."

The British often declare these persons are not connected with their espionage system. The Sinn Fein declare it makes no mistakes. A typical case is that of Kitty Carroll, who was murdered some weeks ago in County Monaghan. The manner in which the story came shows how widespread are the Sinn Fein ramifications. It was told by a gentle old lady whose fame as a writer extended to two continents. She told it as a matter of course, displaying no trace of sympathy for a sister woman done to death.

TAKEN OUT AND SHOT.

"Kitty Carroll," she said, "was a spy. She had been giving information to the police verbally. The Sinn Fein warned her and she started writing. Her letters were intercepted, and she was taken out and shot."

The growing nervousness of the Black and Tans and other British forces in Ireland seems to indicate this espionage is getting on their nerves. Men who realize their every move is watched are liable to shoot before investigation. The Irish Republican army is high feather, having got over the winter, which was the most critical time, when the men were driven into the cities by the weather.

With the coming of summer they are taking to the hills again and reviving the policy of ambushes and intensified guerrilla warfare. They are strongly reinforced by young men thrown out of their jobs by the destruction of industry and trade due to the state of the country. Signs of this already have appeared in the revival of attacks on the police barracks, which were checked during the winter.

The police have made a more successful defense than before, which means more bloodshed on both sides.

CHURCHMAN, WAITRESS, BONDS GONE.

Police Searching for Married Treasurer, Woman and Missing Funds.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Shubel K. Siver, treasurer of the First Reformed Church of New Brunswick, N. J.; Miss Adelle Gouin, a waitress in a restaurant at Perth Amboy, and $5200 in Liberty Bonds belonging to the church are missing.

The police of New Brunswick and a New York detective agency are today seeking them. Pastor Jasper S. Hogan of the church, stated from the pulpit Sunday that a charge of embezzlement would be preferred against Siver.

Siver is 48 years old, is married, and up to last Wednesday, when he disappeared, lived with his wife and three sons.

The search for the missing pair and the Liberty Bonds was made by Pastor Hogan after Mrs. Siver had visited him on Thursday last, telling him that her husband had not come home. Immediate investigation was made of Siver's accounts with the church and the loss of the bonds from a safe deposit box in the National Bank of New Jersey was discovered.

BULGARS, MEN AND WOMEN, MUST DO WORK FOR STATE UNDER UNIQUE LABOR LAW.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 9.—All classes of society in Bulgaria have been called upon to fulfill their civic duties under the provisions of the compulsory labor law, adopted a year ago. The law provided that men who had attained the age of 20 years and girls who were 18 years old were to be called upon for a certain amount of compulsory labor for the state. Men were to work twelve months and women six months, and none was allowed to emigrate until duties imposed had been performed.

The number of persons coming within the scope of the law was 700,000, of whom 600,000 have been at work, the labor duties comprising roadmaking, sanitary service, digging canals, street paving and the building of schools and reading-rooms.

fested a condition of deep despondency.

The letter was denied admission into the case by Justice Morschauser, when he decided the alimony plea on the ground that it was a confidential communication between husband and wife.

Mr. Stillman's attorneys, however, have insisted it is competent, and say they expect to get it into the record before the case is concluded.

FIGHT TO FINISH.

Mrs. Stillman's attorneys are now ready to submit in detail the stories of the banker's alleged infidelities. Ten women are to be named. The indications are now that no possible compromise can be effected in the case.

Previous to his retirement as head of the National City Bank, it was believed that Mr. Stillman might possibly drop his charges in the interests of the institution. His resignation, however, is believed to have been offered by him expressly because he is determined to fight to a finish, and therefore wished to relieve the bank of all embarrassment.

GIVE MEN CHANCE TO CLEAR RECORDS.

ADJUTANT - GENERAD REPLIES TO PAPER WHICH REFUSES TO PRINT SLACKER LIST.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Adjt.-Gen. Harris, replying to a Washington newspaper which declined to print the slacker list, and argued that its publication should not have been undertaken unless the official records were positive in every case, declared today that every possible effort was made by the government to get men who actually served in the war, but did not respond to the draft call, to clear their records.

"It should be borne in mind," the adjutant-general said, "that the action of the War Department in publishing these lists is based upon a widespread demand that the offense of those men who failed to meet their obligation to do military duty during the nation's time of peril be not condoned and that steps be taken to apprehend and bring to trial every man who was guilty of wilful desertion."

UNITED HOUSE SEEKS TARIFF.

California Delegation Asks Lemon Protection.

Send Letter to Ways and Means Committee.

Declare Rates Recommended Absolute Necessity.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Once again the California delegation acted as a unit in demanding increased protection for the lemon growers of California. For the second time Democrats joined with Republicans in requesting the Ways and Means Committee to make it possible for the California industry to compete with lemon by-products from across the Atlantic. They sent the following letter to the Ways and Means Committee this evening:

"Chemical subcommittee, Ways and Means Committee.

"House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

"Gentlemen: Realizing that you are now in the process of writing the tariff schedule on chemicals for incorporation into the permanent tariff bill which will shortly be introduced in Congress, we, the undersigned, composing the entire California delegation in the House of Representatives desire to bring to your attention the necessity of fixing the following schedule on the chemical products of the lemon industry:

RATES ARE NECESSARY.

"Seventy cents per pound on citric acid. 40 cents per pound on citrate of lime; 50 per cent ad valorem on lemon oil.

"These rates are necessary in order to build up and protect the lemon products industry.

"With the entire lemon industry in California in a demoralized condition, and 17,000 acres which will produce about 10,000 carloads annually, coming into bearing, all of which production will be a surplus over over the present annual consumption of raw fruit, it is absolutely necessary that this surplus production be diverted into the products industry.

"At the present time we are producing only about 1,200,000 pounds of citric acid, and our annual consumption is about 6,000,000 pounds, 4,800,000 pounds of which is supplied from abroad, almost entirely from Italy.

DOUBLE PURPOSE.

"The protection asked for would serve the double purpose of enabling us to supply our own annual consumption of products, and at the same time give an outlet for the increased production to which we have referred, which otherwise would become a waste and ultimately result in the destruction of approximately $500,000,000 worth of lemon groves.

"The rates recommended represent the sentiment of the growers, have been scientifically arrived at with due knowledge of practical agricultural conditions as they actually exist in California, and take into consideration the freight differential between California and eastern markets.

"Respectfully yours,

[Signed] "First District, Clarence F. Lea; Second District, John E. Raker; Third District, Charles F. Curry; Fourth District, Julius Kahn; Fifth District, John I. Nolan; Sixth district, John A. Elston; Seventh District, Henry E. Barbour; Eighth District, Arthur M. Free; Ninth District, Walter F. Lineberger; Tenth District, Henry Z. Osborne; Eleventh District, Phil D. Swing."

CIVIL WAR IN SILESIA RAGES.

plans for a campaign to wipe out the insurgent forces which have swept over the country with the exception of the towns.

BITTER FIGHTING.

There has been bitter fighting, resulting in many killed and wounded on both sides, along the Korfanty line, which forms the insurgent battle front. Another bridge has been blown up, making ten.

The Korfanty insurgents ordered the Polish miners and laborers to resume work today excepting those who have joined the insurgent army. More than 100,000 volunteers are being armed. Thousands of miners and students are entering Silesia from Poland to join the insurgents despite the vigilance of the frontier officials. Trainloads of foodstuffs, clothing, and medical supplies are being rushed to the Silesian border from all parts of Poland.

Reports that German reichswehr troops are concentrating along the plebiscite line continue to reach the insurgent headquarters. More than 60,000 German volunteers are reported to have registered at Oppeln to crush the uprising.

BERLIN, May 9.—General alarm seems to be felt in Entente circles in Berlin that the Polish insurgent seizure of Upper Silesia may result in a German-Polish war, with the possibility of all Central Europe being involved in another conflict.

From all accounts, civil war now is spreading throughout Upper Silesia, the Germany having organized locally to repulse the invaders.

RESISTANCE CANNOT LAST.

So far, the German government has refused to send government troops to assist the Silesian Germans, but it is feared here that its resistance cannot last long if the Supreme Council of the Allies does not afford relief from the situation the Poles have created in violation of the Council's orders.

It is considered here that French and Polish official circles can hardly continue to sustain the claim that German propagandists have greatly exaggerated the situation, which is regarded in Berlin as a repetition of the experiments of D'Annunzio and Zeligouski at Fiume and Vilna, respectively, but upon a much larger scale.

Comment in Entente circles indicates that Germany's refusal so far to send government troops into the district is creating sympathy for the German government in those circles, the French excepted, and the feeling appears to be growing that the Supreme Council will treat Germany generously in deciding upon the division of Upper Silesia.

Gen. Larond, head of the Inter-Allied commission in Upper Silesia, and other of the French officials, are being harshly criticised by the rest of the Entente delegations for permitting the adventure of Korfanty, leader of the Polish insurgents, to assume such proportions.

GERMANS TAKE CHARGE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

RATIBOR (Upper Silesia) May 9. Former German army officers have taken charge of the district on the west bank of the Oder in this section of Upper Silesia, and are issuing rifles, furnishing machine guns, drilling the population and garrisoning the town. The French and Italian troops are being ignored, and are remaining neutral on guard duty, while the entire east bank of the Oder as far north as Krappitz is in possession of the Poles.

The Germans have commandeered automobiles and established courier services. The headquarters staff has requisitioned barracks and is accepting volunteers, who have been so numerous that guns were issued to only three men in every fifteen.

At Krappitz, a huge flag of the German Empire is flying above the market place, over the heads of the small French force there.

The French and Italians in Ratibor have been on constant guard duty for days without sleep, although they have taken no active part in the fighting.

WON'T BE INFLUENCED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, May 9.—With the object of showing that it will not permit itself to be influenced by any action of the Upper Silesian population, the council of ambassadors today decided to take two steps, as follows:

To request Poland to disavow the Polish agitators.

To remind Germany that the inter-Allied commission in Upper Silesia provided for under the Versailles Treaty possesses authority over the region until the Supreme Council has announced its decision as to the plebiscite, and to request Germany that it consequently abstain from all intervention.

FRENCH KILL GERMANS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

OPPELN (Upper Silesia) May 9. French soldiers today shot into a crowd of Germans, who were threatening a Polish prisoner, killing two and wounding several. To assuage the ensuing excitement the burgomaster issued a proclamation urging the populace to maintain peace and have confidence in the Allied commission.

STRIKE RIOT IN BAY CITY.

were discontinued today after Chairman Benson, of the Shipping Board had reiterated his stand for a 15 per cent wage reduction. Representatives of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association announced they would leave Washington to attend to other matters, and Secretary Davis said he had arranged for no further conferences.

Should the situation change, however, it is understood the Secretary will attempt to bring the several parties together.

W. S. Brown, president of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, said his committee had made the best proposition possible to the Shipping Board and the ship owners, through Secretary Davis, and that no further concessions would be made. The proposals, based upon votes at all ports yesterday, were submitted in the afternoon.

A conference was held earlier between the joint committee representing the Marine Engineers' Association and Secretary Davis. They later communicated with Secretary Davis by telephone and later announced that, as efforts had proved unavailing, the conferences would be discontinued until there was indication the resumption would be warranted.

BENSON STANDS FIRM.

Chairman Benson said he stood firmly for the 15 per cent wage reduction and, regardless of whether an agreement was reached, he intended to put into effect on Shipping Board vessels some system which would enable men showing efficiency to get the benefit of the resulting savings in the form of extra compensation.

Reports today, the chairman said, showed that the outlook was hopeful and that an increasing number of officers and men were volunteering to return to work. Sailings were nearly normal, he added.

CLERKS LAID OFF.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, May 9. — The Pacific Steamship Company announced today it had begun laying off approximately 200 clerks employed in Pacific Coast ports as a result of the marine tie-up. Between 400 and 500 of the company's regular longshoremen have also been laid off. No American vessels were expected to clear port today. The steamer Admiral Schley, which arrived last night from San Francisco, was tied up today.

PORTLAND (Or.) May 9.—Taking cognizance of an appeal from Juneau, Alaska, last week to the Portland Chamber of Commerce, for relief from shortage of supplies caused by the marine strike, representatives of the striking organizations here at a meeting today took action offering to furnish men free of charge to serve on boats to Alaska to relieve distress if shipowners would donate the use of the ships.

RETURN FROM CONFERENCE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May 9.—Harry Ohlsen, local agent for the Sailors' Union; Ernest F. Peeg of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, and Patrick Flynn and George Clark of the Marine Firemen, Oilers' and Watertenders' Association, returned yesterday from Washington, where they were in conference last week with Admiral Benson of the Shipping Board.

Representatives of the maritime unions never got to the point of discussing wages with Admiral Benson, the delegates declared upon their arrival here. The question of working rules was gone into first, but the conference was broken off without reaching an agreement of any kind.

The union men took the position from the start that wages were a secondary consideration, Ohlsen declared, and that they desired to consider working conditions primarily. Ohlsen declared negotiations were broken off when the shipowners would not agree to give Americans preference in selecting crews. A 15 per cent cut in wages, in addition to the elimination of overtime, would make the cut about 50 per cent of the present scale, the union men state.

TEN VESSELS TIED UP.

Four more oil tankers were tied up at the harbor today, when their crews left their respective ships, bringing the total number of ships tied up in port here to ten. Vessels tying up today were the Union Oil tankers La Placentia, Lansing and Washtenaw, and the General Petroleum tanker Yorba Linda. Ships already tied up were the Yale, Wallingford, Carlos, Santiam, Whittier and Olsum.

The Pacific Steamship Company's steamer Admiral Schley, which was due here this afternoon from Seattle, was tied up at San Francisco upon her arrival there, and will not sail for the local harbor and San Diego. The first Admiral Line steamer to arrive will be the President, from Seattle, which is due here Wednesday. Admiral Line officials say every effort will be made to keep the President in operation.

Writ in Lindsey Case Refused by Denver Jurist.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, May 9.—Judge Warren A. Haggott of the District Court handed down a written opinion today declaring he had no right to issue a writ of execution in the case of Juvenile Judge Ben B. Lindsey, who is under sentence to pay a fine of $500 or go to jail, following Lindsey's conviction on charges of contempt of court. Judge Haggott said the matter was up to the District Attorney.

Dist.-Atty. Phillip S. Vancise said he would apply to the clerk for a writ of execution of the sentence within ten days. Judge Lindsey declined to say what action he would take, but implied he would make a decision before the writ was put into execution.

Judge Lindsey was senteced to pay the $500 fine or go to jail when he was adjudged in contempt of court when he refused to testify what a ward of his court had told him about a murder.

SUSPECTED SLAYER SHOT DEAD IN JAIL.

OPENS FIRE ON POLICE CHIEF WITH CONCEALED GUN; RETURN SHOT KILLS HIM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURG (Cal.) May 9.—Francisco Rios, section hand employed by the Southern Pacific Company and arrested here today as a suspect in a murder case at Susanville, [illegible] county, was shot and killed in the City Jail by Chief of Police John Williamson.

Rios was taken into custody by Chief Williamson at the Southern Pacific station. At the jail he was searched, but managed to conceal a revolver and a cartridge belt. As Chief Williamson was locking Rios in a cell he said the prisoner fired one shot at him. The bullet went wild. Chief Williamson then shot him six times, once through the heart.

"Did you ever try ED. PINAUD'S LILAC Perfume?"

"Not until recently. I have used ED. PINAUD'S Eau de Quinine Hair Tonic for years, but as I have the 'high price' perfume habit, I never tried the LILAC until a friend sent me a bottle."

"How do you like it?"

"I like it so well that it has cured me of paying three dollars an ounce for 'fancy' perfumes. In using ED. PINAUD'S Lilac I find that its odor blends delightfully with the fragrance of ED. PINAUD'S Hair Tonic."

"I too have noticed that the odors of these two preparations blend finely; this is a great advantage to women who use them."

WASHINGTON, May 9. — The steamer Charles H. Cramp is being equipped by the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Steamship Company for use as a practical laboratory for experimenting with the shipment of citrus fruits and vegetables from the Pacific Coast through the Panama Canal to eastern markets. The plan is being worked out in co-operation with the preservation of fruit and vegetable projects of the Federal Bureau of Markets.

SPACE DIVIDED.

Cargo space will be divided into compartments in which different conditions can be produced and controlled. In the tests it will be possible, according to the officials, to make records under variable transit conditions. Factors to be studied include temperature, ventilation and humidity and the equipment being placed in the Cramp will make possible study of these conditions individually and in combination.

Oranges, lemons and apples will be the principal fruits to be transported in the Cramp. The ship will ply between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts while the tests are being made. Several of the American steamship lines are said to be interested in this experiment for its possibilities in shipment of perishable fruits not only to the eastern markets, but to Europe.

Several shipments of fruits from California through the canal have already been made. Twenty-five carloads of lemons over the canal route were recently landed in New York with satisfactory results, but experience demonstrated that it would be necessary to ship oranges this way under refrigeration. Both of the shipments were accompanied by representatives of the Bureau of Markets.

UNIONS SEEK CASH FOR THEIR COLLEGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CINCINNATI, May 9.—John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, announced that international unions, central trade bodies and State federations would be asked to endow scholarships to the first workers' college in America, to be established at Katonah, N. Y.

Plans for the new school, he said, have practically been completed and a number of students have taken up their studies.

RAIL INQUIRY STARTS TODAY.

Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to Quiz.

Southern Pacific Official is the First Witness.

Loss Estimate Under Federal Control Increases.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Investigation of the railroad situation will be opened tomorrow by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific Company, will be the first witness.

Presentation of the railroad case will be under the general charge of Alfred P. Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives, and besides Mr. Kruttschnitt, other railway executives to appear will include Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The committee also will call officials of the railroad unions.

TRYING TO REDUCE.

In a statement T. DeWitt Cuyler, president of the Association of Railway Executives, said the executives were straining every nerve so to reduce their expenses that they may be able at the earliest possible moment to adjust rates to changed economic conditions and certainly to the end that no individual rate shall be so high as to interfere with the normal movement of a commodity.

Declaring the Transportation Act had not broken down, he said the managements did not approach Congress asking for any amendments in existing legislation.

"They desire to make clear," he said, "their present situation and the measures they are taking and propose to take to work their way out."

LOSS ESTIMATE GROWS.

Loss to the government in operation of the railroads under Federal control will be about $1,200,000,000, or $300,000,000 more than estimated by former Director-General Hines, according to an estimate today by Director-General Davis.

The Director-General made his estimate in a report to Chairman Good of the House Appropriations Committee. Because of claims not considered by Mr. Hines which have arisen, Mr. Davis said, and the underestimate made in the allowance for maintenance, fire losses, additions and betterments made for war purposes, and other accounts, it is estimated the operating loss to the administration will be about $1,200,000,000.

MAY GO TO HIGH COURT.

Differences between the administration and the carriers as to the liability of the government for undermaintenance during Federal control, amounting to several hundred million dollars, may be carried to the Supreme Court for final adjustment, the Director-General's report said. It was estimated that when all the carriers have filed their maintenance claims they will aggregate between $700,000,000 and $800,000,000.

The report showed that the Railroad Commission had assets aggregating $430,930,138.08, consisting of negotiable obligations of the carriers, such as equipment, trust obligations and notes and bonds taken during Federal control.

The delay in settling claims has been caused chiefly by the slowness of the roads in filing claims, the report said, adding that practically no claims had been filed in 1920. Up to the present, 149 of the 555 roads taken over have filed their claims.

"I have no desire to exaggerate the importance of the complexities of making this final settlement," the Director-General said. "It is absolutely the greatest adjustment between one tenant and over 500 landlords that has ever occurred."

NEGRO IMPERSONATOR KILLED BY OFFICER.

COLORED MAN, DRESSED IN WOMAN'S GARB, LURED ONE VICTIM TOO MANY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 9.—The female impersonations of Dean Hunt, colored, long known to the police, ended today in a rooming-house at 935 South State street when Police Lieut. James J. MacMahon shot him through the heart. The negro was shot while he struggled with the policeman for his revolver.

Hunt and several other young colored men had been arrested a number of times in connection with the robbing of persons in a number of South State-street resorts. They were clever female impersonators, and lured their victims into the places by soliciting them, garbed in female attire, from second-story windows. All were light skinned, and through the judicious employment of "make-up," including a heavy layer of powder and rouge and a wig, they appeared from the street to be handsome young octoroons. Thus attired in feminine finery, they sat in the windows and flashed their smiles at the white men who passed in the street below. When they succeeded in luring one into their resorts, they slugged and robbed him.

Police Lieut MacMahon, who has charge of the South Clark-street station, was making an inspection of the district this afternoon, when Hunt made the mistake of soliciting him from the rooming-house as he passed on the opposite side of the street.

The lieutenant responded by smiling back at the negro and starting at once up the stairs to the latter's room. After reaching the room the policeman told the negro he was under arrest. The struggle followed in which the colored man was killed.

Lumbago.

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in this house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches." — [Advertisement.]

COLIMA BOXES GEORGE AGAIN.

Middleweights to Furnish the Main Bout at Doyle's.

Fisticuffs to be Held at Vernon Park in the Open.

Seven Events Are Carded for Tonight's Program.

Young George gets another chance as a main eventer at Vernon tonight when he meets Bert Colima at Doyle's. The show will be the first of the open-air shows to be staged during the summer months, the ring being pitched at the Vernon ball park.

The two boys met in an open-air show several months ago and drew the biggest crowd that ever saw a four-round match at Vernon. In a number of his recent bouts George has looked none too good, but he is due for a good bout and should make a good showing against Colima, who is admitted to be the classiest 145-pounder ever developed at Vernon.

CLINE-WELCH.

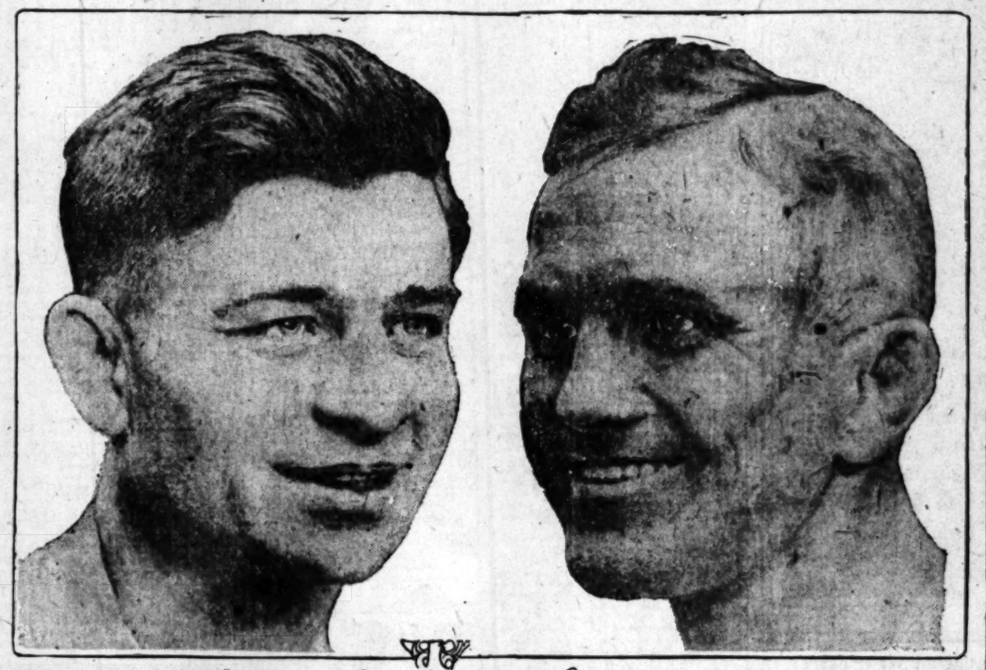
Gene Cline and Scotty Welch will box the semi-wind-up. The two met a few weeks ago and Cline won by a knockout. The blow that turned the trick was a body punch and Welch believes that it was an accident. Cline is confident he will repeat tonight.

Georgie Marks is matched with Ad Rubidoux, the Riverside boy, who has made a great reputation boxing around San Bernardino. Both boys have plenty of class and a fast bout is assured.

SAILORS TO BOX.

Sailor Kramer will meet Jack Kiloran, a sailor from the U.S.S. Texas. They will box at 125 pounds. Ted Frenchie will take on Jimmy Powell, a newcomer, who is confident he will make trouble among the 118-pounders. Other bouts listed are Ralph Pena vs. Sailor Kelly, 145 pounds and Sidney White vs. Sailor Farrer, 118 pounds.

Our Champion Wrestlers Just Before the Battle.



Principals in a Little One-Act Drama at the L.A.A.C. Last Night.

Ted Thye, left, champion middleweight wrestler of the world, and Walter Miller of the L.A.A.C., who featured in a toe-twisting, leg-pulling and general all-around rough-house last night to determine the grappling championship. At a late hour both wrestlers were getting along splendidly in the gentle art of tearing each other apart, and the handsome mugs (above) probably will be covered with beefsteak, scratches and black-and-blue spots by the time you pick up your paper this morning.

MILLER-THYE IN FIGHT FOR WRESTLING HONORS.

Club Champion Rushes Things During First Hour—Northerner Fails to Make Scheduled Weight.

After wrestling for two hours, fifty-nine minutes and twenty-three seconds without either man securing a fall, the wrestling match between Walter Miller and Ted Thye last night was declared a draw. Miller was the aggressor throughout the match, but he was unable to pin his opponent's shoulders to the mat.

At 11:15 o'clock last night the Miller-Thye wrestling argument had developed into a very speedy and equally wicked fight. Both men were working full tilt to secure a fall and without results. Miller forced Thye to scramble for the ropes at one time and some rough tactics were pulled by both men on the boards outside the ropes. The grapplers were both in such splendid shape that the fast pace did not appear to tell on either to any great extent.

With the Los Angeles Athletic Club gymnasium jammed to the guards with enthusiastic wrestling fans, Ted Thye, middleweight champion of the world, and Walter Miller, exditto, shook hands at 9:28 last night and started a long-pending match for the title.

IN GOOD SHAPE.

Both men appeared to be in excellent shape with Thye looking considerably heavier than the L.A.A.C. champion. Thye had agreed to make 160 pounds for the bout, but on the scales, just before the contest, he weighed 163 and forfeited 500 large iron bucks. Walter Miller tipped the scales at 157.

Miller opened the excitement with some fast work that soon landed both grapplers on the mat. The little Mercury wrestler appeared to be anxious to settle the argument right off the bat and started out in a business-like way to eat his opponent alive. Thye, on the other hand, was the picture of confidence and drifted along through the first few minutes of the match without a worry in the world as far as anyone could find out.

EXCITING.

After ten minutes of rambling around the ring, Miller succeeded in fastening a headlock on the northern champion and for a few seconds the fans were on their chairs. But Thye finally squirmed out of danger and within a very few minutes had Miller in a mean situation with a similar hold. During the first three-quarters of an hour both grapplers had twisted out of more-or-less wicked means without very material damage to either one.

For the first hour of the scrap Miller was doing most of the work. The L.A.A.C. man injected all sorts of speed into the bout, but he couldn't quite get that contented look off of Thye's face. Just after the first hour of wrestling it looked like the northerner was waiting for the club hope to work himself to death and then step in and add the finishing touches.

Before the start of the feature bout at the L.A.A.C., Bull Montana appeared on the boards and challenged the winner, the loser, any stray wrestlers in the audience or in the entire world for that matter. Bull was given a real hand and retired with a large and expansive grin.

NO PINK TEA.

The Miller-Thye bout was no pink tea during the first sixty minutes. Considerable rough stuff kept the bugs on their feet a large part of the time and in several spots there were regular Bull Montana trimmings.

At the last minute Eddie O'Connell was picked to referee and he played the third role in the ring with gusto and eclat. The crowd was one of the largest that has ever been packed into the L.A.A.C. gym. Standing room was at a premium.

13,388 MILES vs. 500 MILES

MEN WANT stamina, power and speed in the car they buy. Naturally, they turn to Essex for those qualities, for Essex has 13,388 miles of Ocean to Ocean speed grind back of it for stamina.

Many cars make laudable short speed runs. But buyers can't forget that the greatest test America ever gave a motor car is the run between San Francisco and New York. Conquered by Essex four times, faster than ever covered by any other automobile. Superior evidence of the supreme sturdiness you desire in your new car.

RECORDS ARE BROKEN BY AIR MAIL PILOT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA (Neb.) May 9.—W. A. Lackey, relief air mail pilot of Omaha, broke three records on the Omaha-Cheyenne division in two days, it became known today. Saturday he lowered his record from North Platte, Neb., to Cheyenne, Wyo., of 2h. to 1h. 50m. He then flew back to North Platte in the same time, traveling 150 miles per hour. On his last trip from Omaha to North Platte he made the trip in 1h. 43m., lowering his previous record by seven minutes.

TRACK COMBINATIONS WILL TANGLE IN U.S.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 9. — A cable message today from Oxford University contained final acceptance of the invitation to have a joint track team of Cambridge and Oxford University athletes meet the Yale-Harvard combination at the Harvard Stadium, July 23.

The meeting will be the fifth between composite Oxford-Cambridge and Harvard-Yale teams. Each has won two sets of games. In the last meet, held at Queen's Club, London, in 1911, England won five events to America's four.

TROEH AGAIN COPS TRAPSHOOT HONORS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 9.—The thirty-seventh annual trapshooting tournament of the Northwest Sportsmen's Association was brought to a close today over the Portland Gun Club traps. Frank M. Troeh, world's champion trapshoot of Vancouver, Wash., shattered 119 out of 120 targets, giving him a total mark for the four days of the tournament of 472 registered targets out of a possible 480. E. H. Keller of Portland, played second high man for the four days' shooting, scoring 459 out of 480.

INVITE BRITISHERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PRINCETON (N. J.) May 9.—Princeton and Cornell universities today cabled to Oxford and Cambridge universities an invitation for a track and field meet at New York on or about July 29. The American universities would combine their teams and face a combined team from the English institutions.

GUISTO RELEASED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND (O.) May 9.—The optional release of First Baseman Louis Guisto to the Oakland Club of the Pacific Coast League was announced tonight by the Cleveland American club. He had been passed during the war and was unable to stand the climate in the American League cities.

AMERICAN POLO TEAM WINNER.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

RANELAGH (Eng.) May 9. Members of the American polo team, consisting of C. C. Rumsey, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., J. Watson Webb and Devereaux Milburn, today, in a practice game, won, 9 goals to 2, against a team made up of British and American players.

OUR GOLFERS TRY LINKS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 9.—No time was lost by the American amateur golfers who arrived to compete in the British championships May 23 in fathoming the intricacies of the Hoylake links.

Almost immediately after arriving the Americans proceeded to the course and played a round. They were followed by large galleries and gave a fine display of golf.

Bobby Jones and Dr. Paul Hunter defeated Francis Ouimet and F. J. Wright 2 up in eighteen holes. Jones had an 80, Ouimet a 79, Hunter an 80 and Wright an 82. W. C. Fownes, Jr., Jess Guilford and J. Wood Platt played together. Guilford made an 80, while the other two men had 82's.

The London Times says Gershom Stewart, member of Parliament, has arranged a golf match between the American and British players at Hoylake.

STOCKTON AFTER MEET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STOCKTON, May 9.—Efforts are being made to obtain the 1922 California Interscholastic Federation track and field meet for Stockton, according to Homer S. Toms of the local high school, who is secretary of the northern section of the federation. Expenses of the meet must be guaranteed, Toms said recently, but it is certain the gate receipts will more than pay the cost.

Rules of the C.I.F. provide that the meet must rotate in each of the four sections. Two years ago the southern section held the meet; last year it was in Fresno of the central section, this year it was at Berkeley, in the north coast section, and next year the northern section, in which Stockton is located, gets it.

Between 1500 and 2000 visitors would come here from all parts of the State for the affair, Toms believes. At the recent Berkeley meet forty schools from Red Bluff to San Diego were entertained.

HAGEN BELIEVES AMERICAN GOLFERS WILL WIN HONORS FROM THE ENGLISH TEAMS.

BY WALTER C. HAGEN,
Twice Open Champion of the United States.

The chance of one of our golfers winning a British championship has started golfers from one end of the country to the other speculating and frequent arguments have resulted. The amateurs will have the first try at the British crown and then the women golfers will take up the battle to be followed by the pros and amateurs combined at St. Andrews in the open.

From all that can be learned about the respective merits of the amateurs of both countries, I am inclined to favor the chances of our boys. Ouimet, Jones and Evans, forming the big three, are backed by Fownes, Wright, Platt and Guilford and others, a formidable combination that will be hard to stop.

THE FIRST THREE.

In figuring out a winner we need not go further than the first three, just as we would figure this combination in our own championship, but I am inclined to think that the last three named will be of more than a little help. Should they serve the purpose of knocking out a good man or two they will have done their bit nobly. Golf is a strange game to figure out at all times and it might come to pass that one of the lesser lights should make a better showing than one of our big stars.

Bill Fownes is a reliable, steady player and I would put him in a class with the best of the English golfers. The question is whether he can last through eight matches, which are necessary to win. It may be a harder grind than our own championship and it may be easier. One must meet eight opponents in all and defeat them one after the other to win, but in reality one is called upon to play less golf. This actually requires only five days' play with a thirty-six-hole final. The start is rather easy as on the first two days, only one match of eighteen holes is required.

In our championship, where thirty-six holes are required, there would be five full days of match play and in addition a thirty-six-hole qualifying round. So the grind is hardly as great as ours. The question is can young Freddy Wright and Woodie Platt, who have not had the experience of the other contestants, stand the nerve strain. Platt, at least, has proved that he fears no one and his victory over Ouimet at Pittsburg and Dave Herron at the Engineers' Club should fortify him for tougher opponents if any are to be found. I doubt very seriously if any golfer in England of the younger school is any better than Platt or Wright. Comment on Ouimet, Evans and Jones is unnecessary. It would be hard to make any American believe that Tolley, Whethered, Armour, Hope or any other British star is as good.

WIND OVERRATED.

While in England last summer I did not get a chance to play the Hoylake links, although I had planned to do it. They say the wind blows there more than a little and that it will affect every shot in the game. English players know little more about playing in the wind than we do. Take the case of Tolley. Whethered and Hope, if they could not keep straight on a course such as the Engineers', wheer there was no wind, what chance would they have over a windy course? Many of these Scotch and English stars have not played a great deal at Hoylake, as this club is located at Liverpool and not in the beaten path. Most of them have seen no more of Hoylake than our own boys had seen of the Engineers' course. It is not always necessary to know a course well to play well enough to win a championship there.

One thing that favors our chances this year is the fact that the old school of British golfers has faded away. It is regrettable, of course, that there are no longer any John Balls or John Grahams to fear, and that we are not taking seriously any of the older school. Hilton, Maxwell, Blackwell, Jenkins and others are not the golfers that they were. If we are to be stopped a younger man must be counted upon to turn the trick.

Young Braid, son of Jimmy Braid, Brethertey, Holderness, Whethered, Tolley or Armour are among the younger players that Great Britain

AMERICAN TENNIS TEAM TO SAIL SOON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Amateur athletic authorities to represent the United States at international sport conferences in Geneva and Lausanne this month will sail within a few days.

Frederick W. Rubien, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, leaves Thursday aboard the Mauretania, which also will carry the American tennis team abroad for foreign championship competition.

G. T. Kirby, president of the American Olympic Games Committee, sails Saturday, and J. C. McCabe, of Boston, another A.A.U. official, will follow soon.

Much work confronts these delegates, who will consider acceptance of records, recommendations for future sport programs and control.

BIG BILL JAMES TO PITCH BALL IN IDAHO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OROVILLE, May 9. — William (Big Bill) James of Oroville, whose spectacular pitching helped win the world baseball championship for the Boston Braves a few years ago, has left to pitch this season for Lewiston in the Northern Idaho and Utah State Baseball League.

James, it is said, has regained some of his old-time vigor. Following his work with Boston, James underwent a slump from which he never fully recovered.

HAWXHURST FIRST IN TARGET SHOOTING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DEL MONTE, May 9.—L. S. Hawxhurst, San Francisco, won the preliminary 100-target shoot which was the opening event today of the California Indians sport powwow. His score was ninety-nine breaks out of 100.

Frank Mellus, Los Angeles, D. C. Davison, Modesto, and George K. Coleman, San Francisco, tied for second place with ninety-eight breaks. E. A. Shouse of Oakland, was next with 97.

FULLERTON HIGH IS CHAMP OF LEAGUE.

Fullerton High School yesterday won the baseball championship of the Orange League by defeating Anaheim High School by a score of 10 to 0. Fullerton will play the winner of the Lincoln-Jefferson game in the play-off for the Southern California championship. The score:

South's Best Feminine Golfers Dusting Off Their Clubs for Championships Next Week

LADY GOLFERS TEST MIDWICK.

Course is Thrown Open for Practice All Week.

Title Battle to be Fought There May 16-20.

Athletic Club Tourney is Attracting Entries.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Midwick Country Club, where the Southern California golf championship for women will be decided next week, began to take on a busy feminine air yesterday. Several of the fair contestants who will battle for the honor of the south availed themselves of the opening of the course for practice, and began accustoming themselves to the air currents and the roll of the greens.

As the Midwick links will be open every day this week, with the exception of Wednesday and Saturday, it is expected that there will be a goodly number of the ladies on hand each afternoon until the tourney opens on the 16th.

A qualifying round of eighteen holes will be played Monday, the first sixteen players to form the championship flight, the remainder to go into subflights of eight. Match play starts on Tuesday, continues on Wednesday and Thursday, and the finals are scheduled for the morning of Friday, the 20th, a special event, mixed foursomes, being programmed for that afternoon.

Miss Margaret Cameron of Annandale, holder of the Northern California championship, played around yesterday with Mrs. Dorothy Hill, a member of the Ramona club. Miss Cameron is favored to beat Miss Kavanagh, the State champion, next week in spite of the fact that she failed to advance further than the first round in the championship play at Beresford a couple of weeks ago.

Others who played at Midwick yesterday were Mrs. K. Clark of San Gabriel, Mrs. J. S. Clark of Annandale, Mrs. Charles Perley of San Gabriel, Mrs. Paul Pitner of San Gabriel, Mrs. J. G. Owsley of Midwick and Mrs. Charles Lathrop of Annandale.

Entries continue to pour in for the second annual Athletic Club tourney to be played at the Pasadena Golf Club, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

It has been settled by the tournament committee that the championship will be decided by resorting altogether to medal play, the contestant with the lowest score at the end of fifty-four holes being acclaimed champ for the year 1921. Eighteen holes will be played each day.

Prizes will be put up for the best round each day, and there will be trophies for the first and second low net scorers for the fifty-four-hole ramble.

Elmer Ralphs yesterday threw his hat in the ring, and announced that he was out to get his name on the Retzer Brothers challenge cup, which "Gloomy Gus" Henderson copped last year by beating Ralphs in the finals. Other stars already entered are Frank Tatum, runner up to A. D. S. Johnston in the recent Annandale tourney; Fred Rutledge, Ben Fahy, George Cline, Jim White and Pat Higgins. Old Man Keppen, is burnishing up his war clubs, and hopes to finish better than last, his position on the score card last year, and others of the has-beens will be there when the gang tees off Thursday.

Brooks Tompkins, a member of the San Jose Country Club, is a guest for a few days of his father-in-law, Constable George Lyons. Tompkins will be remembered as one of the best high school pitchers in these parts a few years back, later going to Stanford, where he was a star. He is now a lawyer in San Jose and an ardent golfer. So ardent, in fact, that Mrs. Tompkins has joined that huge host of females known as golf widows. Brooks has a 3-year-old daughter, who tells a glib little tale of when her daddy plays golf. Put the question to her, and this answer runs like this: "Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday."

In the sweepstakes for women at the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday Miss Mary Browne was first with 95-8-90. Mrs. G. M. Midgeley placed second, scoring 100-8-92.

Bathing Beauties Start Avoiding the Water Again.

Here's the 1921 bathing girl at her very best. The young lady is Jacqueline Logan, Paramount actress, who used to dance in Mr. Ziegfeld's Follies and now performs in front of the camera out on the Lasky lot. Arch Reeve, who designed the costume shown here, insists that it photographs wonderfully, but sadly admits it would be an awful thing if the bathing suit and salt water ever got tangled up with each other. But, then, where's a movie bathing girl who would ever dream of going in swimming?

NEW COUNT PUTS SAXON AT THE TOP.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CAMP CURRY (Yosemite Valley) May 9.—Admid the clicking of cameras, the clatter of the bounding dominoes and the gnashing of teeth, the curtain was rung down yesterday on the annual Camp Curry economy run, with the announcement of the official victors in the affair and the photography of all concerned. In only one particular did the final results differ from those given out on Saturday night, and that was in Class No. 2, in which the Saxon was awarded the trophy over the Stephens, which had previously been announced as the victor.

A careful recheck of the figures showed that somebody's arithmetic had missed fire on Saturday, and the Saxon had been cheated out of about four ton miles on the final average. The final figures for the two cars now show the Saxon first, with 47 and 24 one-hundredths ton miles, and the Stephens second with 44 and 41 one-hundredths.

Other winners were the Gardner in Class No. 1, Templar in Class No. 3, and Dorris in Class No. 4.

There was much heated conversation regarding the possibility of protests, but the official winners were named as above, and any protests will have to be decided by the contest board of the A.A.A., headed by Richard Kennerdell, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The majority of the contestants commenced the return trip yesterday evening.

Terrible consternation reigned this morning when a forest ranger conducted a raid on a session of African golf, having been attracted by the stentorian tones of a gentleman who was exhorting the dice to do their duty. Three of the cube tossers were pinched and later were sentenced to be thrown off at Half Dome, sentence suspended.

DOUBLE-HEADER IS SPLIT TWO WAYS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—Causey's double in the tenth, followed by infield taps by Neale and Meusel, gave Philadelphia a 2-to-2 victory over Brooklyn in the second game of today's double-header. The champions won the first, 5 to 2. In the first contest, Smith and Grimes waged a pitchers' battle unevenly until Pinch - hitter Lebourveau's double tied the score in Philadelphia's seventh inning. Betts replaced Smith and Bruggy's wild throw of Konetchy's bunt gave Brooklyn the game. The scores:

HAGEN BELIEVES IN OUR GOLFERS.

must rely upon to turn back our amateurs.

As the English championship is played in eighteen-hole matches with no qualifying round the fear of the short round is to be considered. Anyone—he need not have exceptional talent—might accidentally uncork a fine round and sniff out one of our stars. It has happened before. There was C. B. MacFarlane, who is hardly to be mentioned in the same breath with our own Chick Evans, getting a victory over him at Sandwich in 1914.

MacFarlane, covering the first nine in something like thirty strokes, stood five up on Chick and practically assured himself of the victory. Had it been thirty-six holes, Chick would have had a chance to regain the lead accomplished by this lucky golf. Lucky it was too because MacFarlane never did such a thing before or since.

It is quite possible that some freak round may come up to upset our plans, but hardly probably that anything serious is going to happen to all three of our stars.

SHOULD WORRY.

The nerve test is to be considered, but in this case I am positive that the British golfers will have more to worry about than the Americans will. Here is where the shoe is on the other foot. The reputation of Evans, Ouimet and Jones has traveled across the water long ago. Surely Tolley, Armour, Whethered and Hope spread the news and then it was confirmed by no less an authority than Vardon and Ray.

Our last invasion, a year ago, was not taken seriously. The little band of golfers that put in an appearance at Muirfield were not thought much of. No one seemed to know even Gardner, and none of the Britishers were doing any worrying or losing any sleep over an American victory until along about the middle of the week. After Gardner had begun to mow them down and settled into his stride the British began to realize that the Yankee, as they called him, had more than a good chance. Golfers that might have beaten him easily had they met him on the first day were more or less nervous when it came their turn to play him. When called upon to meet Tolley in the final round, Gardner went to the post a favorite for the first time in any match. He stood two up at the end of the morning round and should have won, but a streak of bad putting ruined his chances of victory. At that he carried Tolley on to the thirty-seventh hole.

RAH FOR 'EM.

The British field is not a large one, scarcely 140 Scotch and English golfers in all taking part. There were many in this list that would not have been eligible over here in an American championship on account of their handicaps. It is a pity that there is no qualifying round to weed out the surplus which, while not large, is entirely useless.

I, for one, would be greatly surprised if an American amateur did not win at Hoylake. What happened to Jerry Travers, the misfortune of Chick Evans and Ouimet's failure, all in 1914, have nothing whatever to do with this season. The fact that this trio failed once makes it all the more probable that such a thing will not happen again.

The betting should favor an American to win and I am inclined to believe that it will.

BEES ESTABLISH NEGATIVE RECORD.

So little was doing on the left side of the diamond for Salt Lake in the first game yesterday that a new negative record probably was established. There was not an assist either at third or short.

Sands, who played third for three and one-third innings, didn't have an assist. Brown, who had been playing short, but finished the game at third, had two chances, but made errors on them both, while Barry, who played four and two-thirds innings at short, didn't have an assist. In fact, Siglin was the only infielder with an assist.

Present Pierce-Arrow pacemaker of trucks

It is a big advantage to owners to buy an up-to-date modern truck which embodies every recent improvement that truck engineering has developed. No change of design is introduced by Pierce-Arrow until proven in use.

UNTIL War demanded uninterrupted production, Pierce-Arrow embodied each improvement developed in the current production then being made. During the War this was impossible, but experiments went on just the same.

When War needs permitted, all these tested improvements were introduced in production. That is why present Pierce-Arrows lead all trucks and are the most efficient trucks made.

largest of any tournament ever held in the West.

A large number of stars are expected to come from the San Francisco Bay region. Among them will be, it is believed, Roland Roberts, John Strachan, Peck Griffin, Griffin, Willis Davis, Robert ...sey, Howard Kinsey, William Johnston, Carl Gardner, Elmer Gets, William Parker, Winston Smith, Bettens, Helen Baker, Mrs. Leachman, Winnifred Suhr, Marjorie Thorn, Mrs. Marjorie Kress, Pauline Wirtner and Ruth Fly.

During the tournament a dance will be held and the players will be taken on a steamboat excursion on the Sacramento River.

SERAPHS GRAB BOTH CONTESTS.

...tained here have by no means been entirely due to punk playing on their part, but to a very considerable extent to high-grade stuff by the Angels.

Taken in the large, however, it was a wild and woolly week, with Russian trimming, and produced a total of eighty-one runs—thirty-two for Salt Lake and forty-nine for Los Angeles. This gave the Bees an average of almost five runs per game, enough to cop many pastimes if they had the pitching to hold the opposing attack within reason.

Walter Leverenz was white meat and brown gravy for Killefer's crew in the eye-opener. In the fifth he was relieved by Harry Blaeholder, a Southern California boy, with whom Cravath desired to experiment. The experiment proved successful, and the young right-hander let the Angels down without a hit. Wildness to the extent of four walks, a wild pitch and a hit batsmen kept him in the hole most of the time, but he remained cool and collected without help from the fire department or bill collectors.

ON SIDELINES.

Radiant Red Killefer was on the sidelines with a luminous cracked rib protruding from his side, the same having been inflicted on him by Hollis Thurston in the second game Sunday. Red, being an iron man, with a Bessemer back bone and steel slats, didn't discover the accident until somebody pointed it out to him yesterday noon. Mr. Killefer tucked the rib back in its original position, and decided to take an afternoon off.

On the contrary, Woodenshoes Cravath, whole and in his right mind, decided to get out and play right field here for the first time in thirteen years, and shifted Strand to center. Gingiardi was entirely silent yesterday, where as heretofore only the "g" has been silent, the same as in Gin. He was shifted to the bench, where he could toss the ball aimlessly to the man nearest to him without doing any damage.

RUBE IN GAME.

Rube Ellis was the only other man in uniform who was a member of the Angels when Cravath was cavorting here. Killefer made it a sort of "old home week" by letting Rube play the tail end of the first game in right field for Sam Crawford.

To see these two lone survivors, the last of the Mohicans whom he once managed, out there on their last and only legs, brought alcoholic tears to the eyes of Jim Morley. Wonder how Jim does everything backwards without meeting with an accident? When rum was cheap, he swore off on a stack of prohibition literature, and took to milk. He would come out to the game with cream all over his feelers, showing where he had robbed somebody's milk bottle the night before.

THE RED WINE.

But as soon as the country went dry, Jim began looking hard and unflinchingly upon the wine when it was red, although the color was a secondary consideration. And neither is he a stranger to Jackass brandy under a Scotch nom de plume. Prohibition has dropped a lot of fine citizens from the foot rail to the cellar floor, and caused the Demon Rum to masquerade in soft-heeled boots.

Looking back on the week's wreckage, Cravath remarked that he would simply charge it up to profit and loss—his loss and our profit.

COMBS LEV.

Los Angeles combed Leverenz for two in the second inning, and Walter forced in a run with his own wildness in the third. The fourth was a fuzzy frame. Brown opened it by booting a roller by Aldridge. Statz sacrificed, and McAuley walked, and Carroll's Texas Leaguer loaded the bases. Sandow Griggs, who is handy with the mop, cleaned them up with a double.

Crawford flied to Cravath, Griggs taking third after the catch, and scored when Siglin took Cravath's throw and relayed the ball against Heinie Sands's bunions, whence it caromed to the stands. Heinie's bunions were badly hurt, and he held his foot in his lap until relieved. Brown went to third, and Barry to short. An error gave Salt Lake its only run off Aldridge.

Not content with whiffing six in the second game, Reinhart went out and gathered himself a double and a single and two runs. McAuley had a perfect average in this set with a sacrifice and three singles.

Brown is believed to have compiled a new record in the first contest, when he had but two chances and booted them both.

There was a dog fight in the stand when a meat hound viciously attacked a large box of uncooked hot dogs, which somebody had inadvertently left in one of the grand stand runways. The meat hound was outnumbered, but chewed up most of his opponents.

"OVER THE HILL."

SUPREME HUMAN DRAMA SHOWS AT AUDITORIUM.

By Edwin Schallert.

Mother love in all the divineness of its beauty, in all the beauty of its simplicity, scattered the bloom of its joys and gathered the harvest of its sorrows before a public that has seldom if ever been so deeply moved by a motion picture at the first showing of "Over the Hill" last night at Philharmonic Auditorium. Eyes that are seldom tear-dimmed knew once again the worth of tears; hearts that react often to the lighter manifestations of joy knew once again its depth. And the pulses of finer human feeling beat high once again in the hearts of all at the view of William Fox's great picture story that is not only a picture, but a heart-throb from life itself.

The gilded wealth of gorgeous settings topples by the wayside when placed beside the simple outlines of this human tale of the hearthside. The flaring romances of history, the artificial tales of fevered gayeties, the dizzy eccentricities of riotous farce all pale before a background of wallpaper and stiff plush chairs, which mark the scenes where the little round of family pleasures, sorrows, happiness and distress pursue their way.

The father, who is too lazy to work; the children, who are continually getting from mischief into trouble and from trouble into mischief; and the mother to whom all these things finally come with their message of smiles or message of tears—these are the people around whose lives is woven the story of "Over the Hill."

You laugh over the pranks of the youngsters in school and you sigh for the weight of care on the mother's shoulders in the prologue, but then, that is only the beginning. It is when the children have become men and women that the real drama of this picture begins. And its theme might have been drawn from that line in "Lear" familiar to all—"How sharper than a serpent's sting it is to have a thankless child."

Nothing is more poignant than the way the widowless mother is made to seek an abiding place first in the home of one of her children and then in the home of another. Space does not permit the recounting of the details of her search for a corner in which to close her days, until finally the way leads to the poor house. Nor does space permit the recounting of her rescue by the "wild Indian" son on his return from the West.

Suffice, it is all very real, all very human and all seems very true, even though the lack of feeling on the part of the children is overemphasized for dramatic purposes.

The acting gives the proper impetus to make convincing the emotion of the picture. The impression by Mary Carr in the mother role is unforgettable. Her transition from middle-life to old age is uncanny in the illusion it creates, which is more than a mere illusion.

Veritably you feel that this woman has grown old before your eyes even if you do not see the stages in the change.

Her smiles and her tears, too, bring an answering smile and tear from the audience, because every thing she does is so near what a mother would do under similar circumstances.

I would like to give a full share of credit to the other portrayals. The casting is away above the classification of exceptional. The people are what they portray. At least that is the way it seems.

William Welch is remarkably convincing as the father, especially in his dramatic scenes. The kid actors, some of them Mrs. Carr's own children, are child wonders all, and Johnnie Walker as the Black Sheep, Wallace Ray as the artist son, Noel Tearle as the elder brother, the Pharisee, and Dorothy Allan as his wife are exceptional as types and players.

Vivienne Osborne has the requisite charm of the girl who waits for the "black sheep's" return, and Edna Murphy, as the wife of the artist son, also deserves manifest credit. The direction of Harry Millarde is imbued with the rarest sentiment and feeling, and the scenes with the phantom children are a work of art.

"Over the Hill" is a picture that truly uplifts and inspires, and that without seeming to do so preaches the sermon of "Honor thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee, that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

MEIGHAN PICTURE IN SOMBRE VEIN.

The cold, sullen and relentless atmosphere of prison life has seldom assumed such reality on the screen as in the picture, "The City of Silent Men," in which Thomas Meighan, is appearing this week at Grauman's Theater. The grimness of the Sing Sing that is portrayed positively reaches out to the senses in the opening scenes of the sombrely clad story.

"The City of Silent Men" will rank as a powerful dramatic achievement for Meighan. It is not a pleasant play, although its ending is satisfactorily and convincingly happy. In a way it resembles the familiar "Alias Jimmie Valentine," because of the same plot motif—the detective hounding the crook hero.

However, a number of new twists take much of the sameness out of the story, not the least of which is the clever escape of the convict from prison in order to see his mother before she dies, and the climax where he thrusts his hands into the mangling machine to prevent a duplication of his fingerprints.

Of course, our hero is innocent of crime, as is finally proved through the efforts of his bunkmate who assisted him in escaping. The romantic love interest flourishes chiefly in the latter part of the picture, when as a man endeavoring to live down his past, the ex-convict falls in love with the daughter of the head of the firm of which he is manager.

"The City of Silent Men" is an apt and descriptive title, in that it signifies the taciturn disposition of the convicts, and their use of a deaf-and-dumb code to communicate with one another, so that the guards may not hear them.

Sterling is the one adjective that fits most of Meighan's characterizations. This is another of the same worth as his best. Meighan's control over popularity is justified through the fact that he is ever and always, in his acting and his feeling, a man.

A rare bit of character is that by Paul Everton as Old Bill. Lois Wilson again appears as a personality of charm and depth in her role opposite Meighan. She has grown greatly in her interpretive warmth.

George MacQuarrie, Kate Bruce and Guy Oliver are good.

The Mexican band is a pleasing musical diversion, and the prologue is attractive.

MARY NASH EXCELS.

"THY NAME IS WOMAN" VIVID IN ITS ROMANCE.

By Grace Kingsley.

The rarest treat in the way of acting which theater lovers of this city have had a chance to enjoy in many a day is the appearance of Mary Nash and her company at the Mason, in "Thy Name is Woman," a play by Carl Schoner and Benjamin P. Glaser. The piece opened at the Mason last night to a capacity house.

This is Miss Nash's first visit to Los Angeles, but the ovation she received last night makes it sure that all her audience hopes and prays she will come back again.

Not only is the star's characterization of the Spanish heroine a thing of finely tempered emotional expression, brilliant in its changing moods, revealing the evidence of a subtle intelligence, and of the ability to get conflicting feeling and thought over in a fairly uncanny fashion even in moments where she is apparently passive, but her play is the best the Mason has housed in some time.

Described as a Spanish melodrama, it is really, much more than that. It is a play of involved human motives of many psychological twists, with much of the conflict a waging of a battle of wits and of will power. There are but four characters in the play, the man, the woman, the soldier, the guardsman, and there is but one set—the interior of the smuggler's home.

Briefly the story swings on the opening situation, when the old smuggler, married to a young wife, learns that a young soldier has promised to try to trap him by making the wife love him and give up his secrets. She rebels, but finally consents. Both she and the soldier feel the call of youth and love, and when he finds in a closet the baby clothes for which she has had no use, there is a vital revealment of her soul to him. The high spot in the whole drama proves to be the situation in which the young wife finds herself when, scorning herself for her love of the soldier, which grows up in her, she scorns still more the two men. This scene reveals Miss Nash at the height of her powers, too, especially as there is no obviousness in the way in which she conveys this tragic state of things. It is by sheer dramatic power of suggestion that she accomplishes the striking impression. She becomes finally almost a Carmen in her changed attitude toward life. The lights and shades of the play are furnished by the wit, the changing mood, the subtle humor of the heroine's lines. Miss Nash becomes almost a Latin in her coquetry, her vivacity, her sudden change of whirlwind mood.

The tremendous climax of the last act, its pathos and the beauty of the acting, when the husband, stabbing his wife, asks her for one last kiss, has not been duplicated by any play we have seen here, aside perhaps, from the great classics. Here Miss Nash recalls the finest days of Bernhardt.

Extremely competent is the company which supports Miss Nash, including Jose Ruben, an actor of fine subtlety, Rod La Rocque as the young soldier, and John F. Morrissey as the frontier guard.

"KING SOLOMON, JR.," HEADS ORPHEUM BILL.

They're giving a $3 or $4 show down at the Orpheum this week at the usual prices. A regular bargain. Take the headliner, Franklyn Ardell, for instance, in "King Solomon, Jr.," that smart, little tab alone is worth the price of admission.

"King Solomon, Jr.," is a girl act of a new sort. It justifies its existence entirely by being full of good music, real fun, smart lines and feminine characterizations that register every tick. It is jitney satire on prohibition, feminism and other palpitating present-day topics.

The supposed time is 1950, and a foreword on the curtain announces, "due to prohibition, there are only a few men left, and each one is entitled to have as many wives as he can support."

There are six wives of different types including the chorus girl, the vampire, the congress woman, etc.

Mr. Ardell registers the last word in delightful humor and pleasing personality, while the girls show he is a good picker, and are all worthy to be chosen even by a husband, who can have all the wives he wants. The chorus girl part is a peach, and so is the girl, who plays it.

With personalities that are entirely charming, and with voices of what even a hardened critic may be permitted to allude to as heavenly sweetness, Harriet and Marie McConnell are among those vividly present on the bill. They are a tremendous hit, and should have a better place. They sing everything from grand opera to ballads, and enhance the beauty of their act by using a diaphanous curtain and beautiful lighting effects during a few of the numbers. Marie appears first back of the curtain, and afterward emerges. The butterfly song and setting, where she wears a brilliantly beautiful butterfly costume, is very lovely.

A big hit is registered by Billy Beard, in a fast monologue, most of the jokes being first-run. All are put over in brisk shape.

Williams and Pierce step out in rube make-ups, but discard them, and both are neat steppers. The man especially has a wealth of new dance material of the eccentric type, which he gets over with laugh-paging trimmings.

The closing spot has the Sylvester family, a nice bunch of folks, composed of mamma, papa and the four children. All sing and dance nicely, with the tiny girl the hit of the show.

Cummins and White deliver thrills as well as neat technique in their acrobatic turn, with some women in the audience crying out, "Oh, don't do that!" when the man twists his arm like rubber in a ring stunt.

Ben Harney puts over some unusual ragtime dancing and singing, and the Ford Dancers show well in a holdover.

PRISCILLA DEAN IN STRIKING NEW ROLE.

If it weren't for the fire, dramatic strength and magnetism of Priscilla Dean herself, we should, I fear, find "Reputation," at the Superba, rather tiresome and unconvincing. For one thing, we're pretty weary of those double roles, the good sister and the bad sister, or the mother and daughter, played by the same person. It's a case of the latter in "Reputation."

One thing we can say for the picture, it is an ad. for the acting profession, inasmuch as it certainly reveals how wonderful an actress keeps her age. Even the theatrical manager and the company were entirely hoodwinked. For, apparently, they couldn't tell Priscilla Dean, daughter, and P. D., mother, apart.

Mamma is a very good actress, but a very naughty lady, and daughter is a very poor actress, but a very nice girl. They don't know they are related, however, the child having been reported dead in the orphanage, in which it was placed as a baby—so when daughter impersonates mamma, mamma failing to show up in New York for the opening of a play, there are big doings. Mother finds somebody is out to steal her laurels, and is bent on revenge.

As the mother, Miss Dean has a wonderful chance for acting, and her work at the end, where, herself a dope fiend and drunk, and discovering that the girl, who triumphed in her role, is her own daughter, she ends her own life, is powerfully striking and dramatic. Here Miss Dean deserves credit for sinking her own identity in that of the role.

Niles Welch, May Giroi, Lydia Yeamans Titus, Spottiswoode Aitken and the others of the cast are excellent.

"Gilded Lily" Continues.

Now in the third week of its engagement here, "The Gilded Lily" continues to draw large audiences to Grauman's Rialto. The picture has an interesting story of Broadway bright lights, and of a young girl's search for happiness amid the mazes of pleasure.

Mae Murray has an attractive role, and is ably supported by Lowell Sherman, Jason Robards, Charles Gerard and others. The picture was directed by Robert Z. Leonard.

Plays Role He Created.

Roy Atwell, who originated the part of Jenkins in Rudolf Friml's opera, "The Firefly," shortly to be sung by the California Opera Company, at the Mason, will give his famous song, "Some Little Bug Is Going To Find You Some Day"—a favorite when he was co-starring with Emma Trentini.

William G. Stewart, managing director of the California company, states that he has assembled a choral section for the coming productions of "Firefly" and "Mikado," equal in beauty and vocal talent to his famous New York Hippodrome chorus.

Irene Pavloska, the opera mezzo-soprano, will sing the leading feminine roles of Nina and Yum Yum in "Firefly" and "Mikado," respectively.

Estelle Dreyfus, Soloist.

Estelle Heartt-Dreyfus, well-known soloist, will be the guest soloist on the "All Spanish-Mexican program" of Graupan's orchestra next Sunday. Her appearance on this occasion will be a special recital given in conjunction with the orchestral program arranged by Mischa Guterson.

On Western Tour.

Pearl Cole McMullen, the singer, left Friday on a motor tour to San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver, Omaha and Yellowstone Park. During the trip she plans to give song recitals and teach a special class in Cheyenne, Wyo. In that city she will be house guest of U. S. Attorney and Mrs. Charles Rigdon. Mrs. Rigdon was formerly a pupil of Mrs. McMullen.

Linder to New York.

Max Linder and Clarke Irvine, his advertising manager, left yesterday for New York in the interest of Linder's new picture. They will return here to work on the comedian's five-reel comedy.

No More German Films.

The feature of the first session of the Goldwyn sales convention, at the Culver City studios yesterday, was the announcement of F. J. Godsol, chairman of the board of directors, that the Goldwyn Company owns no German pictures and does not intend to purchase any. This sets at rest the rumors regarding the importation of Teutonic films. Mr. Godsol said:

"The Goldwyn company owns no German pictures and has no intention of buying any. The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari is the only picture with which we have been in any way concerned. We do not own this picture, but merely released it through our distributing corporation. We have no intention of releasing any more German pictures."

At yesterday's session the officials and managers of the twenty-two branch exchanges witnessed previews of "The Invisible Power," a Frank Floyd production of an original story by Charles Kenyon, and also of "Dangerous Curve Ahead," an original photoplay by Rupert Hughes, which E. Mason Hopper directed.

A. S. Aronson, sales manager, told the delegates that his study of conditions throughout the country lead him to an optimistic view regarding general motion-picture business.

"THE MAGIC CUP."

CROOK PLAY AT CLUNE'S TELLS A CLEVER STORY.

By Antony Anderson.

We are not accustomed to look for much of genuine "heart interest" in the general run of crook plays written for the screen—and therefore we are not disappointed when we don't get it. Give us plenty of exciting episodes and hairbreadth escapes, with a nice distribution of poetic justice in the final feet of the last reel, and we feel that we have spent a pleasant and profitable evening.

But "The Magic Cup," showing at Clune's Broadway this week, with Constance Binney and Vincent Coleman in the heroic roles, is a crook play with a difference. There's a touch of humanity in all the characters, humor in some of them, and the story is not spoiled for us by this, but is as interesting and thrilling as it is original. I wish I could remember the author's name, he deserves special mention for good work.

The sentiment is, for the most part, quite the real thing, and if, as in the apprehended death of little Katey, it approaches rank sentimentality, now and then, this is easily forgiven. We are willing to believe that even "Paste" Parsons, the man who converts hocked jewels into spurious ones for Uncle Abe, is soft-hearted.

Pretty Mary Malloy works as the girl in charge of the dumb waiter at a hotel in Washington Square. She owns a wonderful silver goblet that sports a coat-of-arms. She hocks it every time she needs money to help some of her poor neighbors in Greenwich Village. The cup flashes a brilliant idea into the brain of Uncle Abe's crafty lawyer, and Mary is innocently induced to pose as the grand-daughter of an Irish lord.

Enter the clever newspaper reporter, who publishes the touching story of Mary and her long-lost grandfather. Incidentally, the reporter falls in love with Mary.

Soon, however, he grows suspicious of the spurious grandfather, telegraphs to Ireland, and brings the real lord to New York in hot haste.

Tableau. Wholesale arrests, with the manacles even on Mary. But Mary's father steps in and saves the day, for, though a derelict, he is the rightful heir to the dukedom.

Constance Binney is very charming in the role of Mary Malloy, and Vincent Coleman is as good looking as he is clever in the reportorial role. The support throughout is good, but the photography is not.

FRESH LAURELS TO SWINDLERS.

Doctor's Death is Added to Nefarious Deeds.

Chicago Physician Falls for the Old, Old Story.

Is in Ill Health, Awakening Hastens His Demise.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) May 9.—Word of the death of Dr. Edward C. Seufert of Chicago has been received here, adding another to the victims of the syndicate of swindlers which operated with immunity in preying upon tourists during this last and greatest of fleecing seasons.

While friends here, to whom he told his story, say he did not lose his fortune, they are convinced that, since he was in ill-health, his experience with confidence-men hastened his death.

Dr. Seufert came here several weeks ago for his health which he attributed to nervousness and did not regard as serious.

THAT CASUAL ACQUAINTANCE.

While strolling through Plaza Park one day he formed the casual acquaintance of a white haired man. The stranger introduced himself as J. C. Wells of Long Island, a retired business man. To those who later observed him in company with the physician, he appeared the personification of dignity. His manner was reserved, almost to the point of coolness to everyone except Dr. Seufert, for whom he at once manifested a high regard.

Walks and automobile rides followed. On one of these occasions Wells confided to the physician that he was not satisfied with his hotel. Dr. Seufert suggested that he secure accomodations at the St. George Hotel, at which he was staying. It is the game of the confidence men, once they have started to work on a victim, to be as near him at all times as possible. Wells moved over to the St. George and obtained a room just opposite to that occupied by Dr. Seufert.

INSIDE TIP AGAIN.

On another day when they were strolling through the park they met a prosperous looking individual whom Wells hailed with joy and introduced to Dr. Seufert as a man who had cleaned up a fortune through inside information on the races.

The doctor consented to ride with them to New Augustine, where the one who knew the winners by heart had agreed to make a few bets for Wells and his friend in a branch club of racing exchange—or the "store."

The wise one placed bets for all three, which were quickly won. Then he received the tip for the big killing. The scheme was to clean up $800,000 on a 2-to-1 proposition. It was not necessary to put up the $150,000 in cash. The man who knew the horse attended to that little matter. He wrote out a check for $55,000 and signed it, scribbled off another for $50,000 and signed Wells's name to it, and went through a similar process for $45,000, using the name—"just temporarily"—of Dr. Seufert.

THE OLD, OLD STALL.

The horse "won."

All three were busily engaged in counting a pile of $1000 bills which the cashier had pushed out before them in sealed packages, when an "official" of the "club" stepped from an inner office. He put the old query about "whether the gentlemen had an account with our firm?" They had not. Then the money would have to be held until they could show they were able to pay in case they had lost, as the "firm" did not accept checks from strangers. The three agreed to get the respective sums to cover their checks.

Attaches of the St. George Hotel tell how Dr. Seufert returned there in feverish excitement and immediately left for Chicago, without stopping for all of his personal effects. There, it seems, a friend convinced him of the truth, for he returned a sicker man from the reaction of the strain and the long journey. Wells also had checked out to make a "trip home" for his money—going to the Granada Hotel, only two blocks away, where the gang made its headquarters.

POLICE HAND IN HAND.

On the night of Dr. Seufert's return the white-haired Mr. Wells entered the lobby of the St. George. So distressed did the physician appear at sight of him that it attracted the attention of F. D. Dudley, part owner of the hotel.

When Wells had gone, Mr. Dudley questioned Dr. Seufert and learned that Wells had insisted that Dr. Seufert meet him in the park later that night. Mr. Dudley saw to it that the authorities were notified so that Wells could be arrested when he appeared in the park. But as Mr. Dudley puts it, "when I notified the authorities of St. Augustine, I notified Wells. There was no arrest."

Dr. Seufert suffered a relapse from the ordeal through which he had passed at the hands of the con men, and was extremely ill when he departed for his home shortly afterward. He died April 27.

FIGHT OF JAP GOES TO SUPREME COURT.

ORIENTAD WORLD WAR VETERAN SEEKING CITIZENSHIP PAPERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 9.—The case of Ichizo Sato, a Japanese who is making a legal battle for registration as a voter in Sacramento county, will be argued before the State Supreme Court, sitting en banc here tomorrow. The case involves the question of naturalization of Japanese for service with the military forces of the United States.

Sato was in the United States Army during the World War. He was in the Phillippines and at the close of the war was granted citizenship. About a year ago, he presented his citizenship papers to County Clerk Hall of Sacramento county, and asked to be registered as a voter.

His request was denied. He brought mandamus proceedings and the case was decided against him in the Superior Court and Appellate Court.

RED TAPE IS DRIVING WHITES FROM ALASKA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Unless development of Alaska is stimulated depopulation will reduce its inhabitants to Eskimos and Indians only, J. D. McPherson, a civil engineer who has spent twenty-three years in the Territory, declared today before the House Territories Committee.

He urged passage of Chairman Curry's bill to create a board of five members to administer the affairs of the Territory. He said it was virtually impossible for white settlers to get possession of Alaska lands or resources without consulting one or a dozen of the thirty-two different conflicting and overlapping Federal bureaus.

UNCLE JOE FOR ECONOMY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon of Illinois, member of the Appropriations Committee, was discussing government economy with Secretary of War Weeks today.

"Uncle Joe, was very emphatic in declaring that we must have more economy in our government service," said Secretary Weeks. "He said if we did not he feared to think where our lavish expenditures would land us. He said it reminded him of a problem presented to his arithmetic class in school when he was a very small boy. The teacher, he said, gave them the old problem about the frog in the well. If the frog crawled up at the rate of two feet a day and fell back three feet, how long would it take him to get out of the well?

"Uncle Joe explained that they all worked industriously for a long time and that the teacher finally asked one of the boys how he was getting along with the problem. 'Give me just a few more minutes,' the boy responded, 'and I'll have that frog in hell.'"

SPENCER TAKES FLING AT FORMER PRESIDENT.

SENATOR READS WILSON'S REMARKS FROM STATE DEPARTMENT NOTES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, revived today in an address to the Senate the controversy he had with President Wilson last October during the Presidential campaign, concerning what Mr. Wilson said at a plenary session of the Peace Conference on May 31, 1919. The controversy revolved around an alleged decision by Mr. Wilson that if the territorial integrity of Rumania and Serbia should be threatened, American forces would be sent overseas to assist them.

Recalling that Mr. Wilson had denied having made such a statement, and also had said he did not have a transcript of his remarks, Senator Spencer presented the full text of Mr. Wilson's address, which he obtained last month from the State Department. From this text Senator Spencer read the following quotation:

"We must not close our eyes to the fact that in the last analysis the military and naval strength of the great powers will be the final guaranty of the peace of the world. . . . There underlies all of these transactions the expectation on the part, for example, of Rumania, and of Czecho-Slovakia, and of Serbia, that if any covenants of this settlement are not observed the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that they are observed."

Senator Spencer said he would make no comment on what this record showed, adding that it spoke for itself with convincing force.

Referring to the final statement on the subject by President Wilson that he was "perfectly willing to leave it to the voters of Missouri to determine who is telling the truth," Senator Spencer said he might be pardoned for recalling that at the election on last November 3 his majority over his Democratic opponent was 121,663.

"Circumstances!" exclaimed Napoleon

THIS is the story of the thing which has been done that could not be done.

It has a direct application to every business of national proportions in America: it answers questions like these:

"What is the saturation point in the market for my product?"

"Because business in general is bad must my business be bad?"

"Must I wait for things to pick up or can I make things pick up?"

Five years ago The Literary Digest had reached the limit of its possible circulation in the judgment of many thoughtful observers.

"Fiction magazines can go farther," they said, "for ten readers seek amusement to every one who thinks. But a weekly of news comment and public opinion cannot hope for more than 500,000 circulation: that is a maximum."

Business still wavered in uncertainty at that time. Only the few understood that uncertainty is opportunity for courage and for faith.

The Literary Digest, rejecting the counsel of timidity and doubt, entered upon the largest, most costly campaign ever undertaken by a magazine to widen its market—a campaign of continuous national advertising involving the expenditure of more than one million dollars a year.

Its circulation when the advertising began was 485,930.

In eighteen months the circulation was 950,000. The advertising continued.

Today the circulation is 1,300,000, and The Literary Digest continues its advertising.

What obstacle can any manufacturer ever encounter that The Literary Digest has not encountered in this five-year period?

Strikes? The typesetters of New York walked out in a body, suspending hundreds of magazines. The Literary Digest photographed typewritten pages, printed more copies than ever, and increased its advertising.

Shortage of raw materials? Often with less than two hours' supply of paper on hand, defying blizzards and freight embargoes, with fleets of motor trucks battling their way through storms and night over frozen roads, The Literary Digest managed still to appear on the newsstands on time; and continued its advertising.

Panic? The lean hard months of last Fall and Winter did not once interrupt the week-by-week schedule of the campaign. And in April of this year, while many businesses held back, waiting for the turn, The Literary Digest went out to meet the turn.

At the rate of four hundred thousand a day, eleven million circular letters went into the mails in April, addressed to the business and professional men and women of America. A $300,000 circulation-building investment by which, in April, 1921, The Literary Digest gave practical evidence of its faith that intelligent America is ready now to buy. The return mails brought emphatic proof that the faith was justified. And it continues its advertising.

With what result?

The circulation of The Literary Digest is larger today than at any period in its history.

It will be larger this Summer than in any previous Summer; it will be larger this Fall than in any previous Fall. To imagine that there are only 500,000 or 1,000,000 or 2,000,000 families of Literary Digest quality in America is grossly to underrate America.

And buying power, as it reasserts itself in America, will come from these homes first.

The merchant, the executive, the banker and professional man, and their wives—the ten per cent who set the example—are buying now, today.

It is only commonsense to advertise continuously to those who are in a position to respond. This is logic; it is sane business; it is economy; it is the direct road to renewed prosperity.

The courageous will take their faith in their hands and begin. The timid will be deterred for a time by circumstances!

"Circumstances," exclaimed Napoleon, "I make circumstances!"

GERMANY SHOWS MADNESS IN ACTS, STATES HARDEN.

Continued Delay in Not Signing Allies' Terms Suicidal; Calling Names Only Convinces World of Bad Faith.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, May 9.—Maximilian Harden, Germany's leading publicist, expressed the opinion that Germany would be mad to let a single day pass without accepting the Supreme Council's ultimatum, by such delay paving the way for the occupation of the Ruhr Valley. Such an event, he believes, would mean the destruction of Germany's political life.

In an interview granted to The Times correspondent today, Herr Harden explained his view of the grave situation that confronts his country, as follows:

"We are trembling on the brink of destruction, yet we hesitate to grasp the one thing that can save us. By saying 'yes' to the ultimatum, we prevent the Ruhr occupation, and we must say it some time. Meanwhile, if we delay, an incident may well occur which will bring on the occupation before we answer and once the French get into the Ruhr Valley who knows when they will leave?

"I do not share the view common in Germany that the French have turned into bloodthirsty imperialists and want to eat us alive. In the first place, we are in no position to cry imperialism at the French, the protest comes strangely, even ridiculously, from us. The French want to re-establish themselves, they believe we owe them an immense sum of money, and all the world believes it with them.

DELAY IS COSTLY.

"We are gaining nothing by our delay at this late date, by our attempts to convince the world that we did not start the war, which latter is the most exasperating of all to our enemies. Then, if we could prove this to our own perfect satisfaction, no one is ever going to believe it.

"We have the fact before us, and futile name calling is going to do us no good. By our endless excuses during the last two years we have only convinced the world that we have been acting in bad faith, and thus have brought pressure upon ourselves.

"If we had had a wider political vision we would have seen from the beginning that the payment of indemnities, however large, is but a small matter for us, as well as for all the other countries, compared with the re-establishment of economic relations in Europe. Europe is a small place, dependent for its leading position in the world upon its intelligence, not its natural resources. It needs to hang together economically, or go down.

"While we delay this re-establishment in Europe, Germany is breaking up. If we had agreed earlier to do our share there would at this moment be no Upper Silesian tangle, no Dusseldorf occupation. Now we are threatened with a death blow on the Ruhr, and still we are mad epough to let the precious days slip by without doing anything.

BUSINESS IS WRONG.

"There are actually people in Germany, important people, who say we will not sign the ultimatum. The steel and coal magnates, such as Herr Stinnes, are against it. They cannot see the matter politically; they think as business men. They meant through the war to get economic control of Europe, and now they see that it was not Herr Stinnes, but Minister Loucheur, of the liberated regions, who is getting that. Consequently they would rather give up territory to be occupied than come to terms with the Loucheurs. They still believe the German technique is better than any other, so if they can maintain German industry as an entity, then under French control, their superiority in this respect will bring them out on top.

"But what about Germany meanwhile? Politically, Germany will go under. The business magnates think they will succeed in swallowing the French industrials who are going to swallow them, but what about the German people whose political life will be thus ruined at its very beginning?

"The indemnities are a small matter compared with the political life of Germany. If at the end of a few years it is seen Germany cannot go forward under the law of indemnities, it would be lifted from Germany by the very people who are now imposing it on us. But if we do not hurry and sign, and some incident is produced which will let the French into the Ruhr, there is no telling when we shall ever get them out."

WIFE'S CALLER SHOT BY ENRAGED HUSBAND.

CREEPS INTO HOME IN STOCKING FEET AND SURPRISES MILK WAGON DRIVER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 9.—Removing his shoes, James R. Smelling crept into his own home this afternoon and shot and probably mortally wounded John Baker, 30 years old, a milk wagon driver, whom he found in the company of Mrs. Smelling.

Baker was shot twice in the chest. Although weak from the loss of blood, he rushed to his milk wagon in front of the Smelling home and drove to a hospital, more than a mile away. He collapsed as he staggered into the institution. Physicians declared his chances for recovery slight.

"Baker and I have been friendly. He dropped in unexpectedly today for a visit. Suddenly my husband rose in front of the door of our front bedroom and fired five shots," Mrs. Smelling told police.

"Baker tried to steal my wife and wreck our home. I gave him what was coming to him," Smelling said.

"I took my wife and two children to Chattanooga, Tenn., three years ago, hoping to get her away from Baker. We have only been back a few weeks. I intercepted a letter in which Baker made an appointment with her and in this way got my tip of the illicit meeting today."

GLOOMY FORECAST ON TRADE BALANCE.

CANADIAN MINISTER SAYS YOUNG BILL IN CONGRESS IS UNFAVORABLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OTTAWA, May 9.—Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, today told the House of Commons that Canada's unfavorable balance in trade with the United States was likely to continue.

After stating that the balance last year was $296,000,000 in favor of the United States, he said the Young bill, which had been favorably considered in Congress, called for imposition of duties which, however, would prohibit importation of Canadian agriculture commodities. These commodities amounted to nearly $178,000,000 last year, he said.

Speaking on the budget, Sir Henry said Canada's trade showing last year was remarkable. Notwithstanding declining prices, imports and domestic exports totaled $2,429,000,000, a gain of $125,000,000 over the previous year.

Predicting a decrease in customs revenue this year, he said the policy of the government would be to pay all current expenses, including capital charges out of current income.

GREAT RAIL CORNER TWENTY YEARS AGO.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Today was the twentieth anniversary of the Northern Pacific corner, in which traders either lost or made big fortunes. Some holders of Northern Pacific, who had purchased the stock in normal market conditions, sold their shares at fabulous profits. Others, caught on the short side, suffered great losses, but the short interests in other securities, which broke badly, cleared up huge profits. On a single sale of 100 shares of stock one man cleared $75,000.

Sales during the five-hour session May 9, 1901, aggregated a total of 3,122,890 shares, the second time in history up to that time that sales exceeded 3,000,000 shares. The tape was ten to thirty minutes behind.

Delaware and Hudson broke to 105 and then on the next sale sold at 120. United States Steel made a plunge from 47 to 24. On that day 458,600 shares of steel preferred changed hands at a decline of 26½ points. Transactions in steel common May 9, 1901, fell 68,300 below transactions in the preferred.

ITALY'S CENTENARIAN STATESMAN IS DEAD.

COUNT GRIPPIE, WORLD'S OLDEST DIPLOMATIST, SUCCUMBS AT 102 YEARS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MILAN, May 9.—Count Giuseppe Grippie, Italy's contenarian statesman, died yesterday. It was announced today. He was taken ill while attending the races yesterday.

The count had long been one of the most picturesque characters among Italy's distinguished men. Born 102 years ago, he maintained his active life up to the very last, due to his remarkable physique.

The count, who, for a number of years had been known as the world's oldest diplomatist, began his diplomatic career in Vienna under Metternich, and in 1840 was appointed diplomatic adviser to Marie Louise, ex-Empress of France. He was Italian Ambassador to Paris under Napoleon III, and served at London, Stockholm, Munich and Stuttgart, was Italian Minister at Constantinople and then Ambasador to Russia.

ARDOUIN BLAMELESS IN BURGLAR'S DEATH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—A Coroner's jury today absolved Louis R. Ardouin, amateur heavyweight wrestler, of all blame in connection with the death of William E. Anderson, whom Ardouin strangled to death last night when he discovered him in his home apparently attempting to rob a bureau drawer.

At the inquest today Anderson's stepdaughter testified he had been in no financial difficulties and that alcohol had been responsible for his purported burglary attempt.

UNIVERSAL DEPRESSION.

Monthly Cables From Foreign Attaches Show Business at Low Ebb.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—World-wide business depression is indicated by the monthly cables from commercial attaches and trade commissioners made public today by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. In many instances an easing of money conditions, reflected in decreased bank rates, is noted, but in most countries no marked resumption in trade activity has taken place.

Cables from London show that the financial situation is improving, but that industry is retarded by the coal strike. A firmer tone prevails in the cotton and leather trade. Both imports and exports are decreasing. The cost of living is decreasing, as is evidenced by a further decline of 8 points in the index number during the past month.

Paris reports that imports are increasing and exports decreasing. There has been a notable decrease, however, in the imports of raw materials.

The representative of the Department of Commerce in Berlin, cables that there were 759 minor failures in Germany during the first quarter of 1921, as compared with 213 for the corresponding period of 1920. Unemployment is constantly increasing and the hours in many industries have been shortened.

A cable from Vienna states that the cost of living in Austria increased 2.8 per cent from March 15 to April 15, the greatest increases having been prices of textiles, clothing and shoes. Both imports and exports are decreasing.

A dispatch from Brussels states that since the slump in export trade the idle ships at Antwerp have increased from 111 on March 31, to 127 on April 30. The idle tonnage during April at Antwerp amounted to 1,032,167, as compared with 969,913 during March, an increased number of ships left in ballast during April. General unemployment in Belgium remains a serious problem, it being estimated that 179,000 are now idle.

ENGLAND TO SUPPORT DEMAND OF AMERICA.

WILD STAND FOR EQUAL CHANCE IN MANDATED TERRITORIES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Reports in diplomatic quarters here are that Great Britain in return for American participation in European war councils, will support the United States' contentions for equal opportunity in mandate territories and particularly the demand of this government for internationalization of the island of Yap.

State Department officials say that the British government has not replied to the American note to the powers on mandates and that no official word of any character has come from the British government on the subject.

Informal assurance, however, is said to have come from representatives of the British government that England would not oppose the mandate principle set forth by the United States in the Yap note if this government would resume participation in the Supreme Council and other Allied councils worked out on post-war problems.

This assurance, it was said, had considerable to do with the administration's decision to accept the Allied invitation to send representatives to the European councils.

CAPT. PAUL FOLEY RESIGNS AS DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS; RESUMES SEA DUTY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The resignation of Capt. Paul Foley, U.S.N., as director of operations of the Shipping Board, was announced tonight by Chairman Benson. W. B. Keene, assistant director of operations, has been designated acting director.

Capt. Foley, who was appointed in 1920, succeeded John E. Cushing of San Francisco.

Capt. Foley said he had submitted his resignation after the chairman had decided today to have Assistant Director Keene represent the division of operations before the House Committee on Appropriations.

Capt. Foley is a line officer of the Navy and will resume active sea duty.

PACKER REGULATION BILL UP IN SENATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Enactment of the Norris packer regulation bill, creating a live stock commissioner in the Department of Agriculture, was urged on the Senate by its Agriculture Committee today as a means of eliminating distrust and persecution in the methods under which markets are conducted.

The committee declared that the live stock marketing and manufacturing companies were public utilities, and as such properly came under Federal regulation.

GOLDEN GATE STANDS AS PROTECTIVE BARRIER HE TELLS STEPHENS IN LETTER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 9.—The Golden Gate standing as a protective barrier from America of hordes of unassimilable aliens is the way Gov. Morrow of Kentucky sees the Japanese problem of California, according to a letter received today by Gov. Stephens.

"I desire to assure you of my earnest approval," Morrow wrote, "and to assure you that I appreciate the determined stand of California to prevent further Japanese immigration and the fact that the Golden Gate stands as a barriar—holding back the tide of immigration which cannot be Americanized or incorporated successfully in the life of the republic."

ARTILLERY HORSE IS A.W.O.L. TWO YEARS.

EQUINE STOLEN BY GERMANS FINALLY RECOVERED; WAS SOLD SEVEN TIMES.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

COBLENZ, May 9.—After being A.W.O.L. for more than two years in German hands, one of the horses of the Sixth Field Artillery has been found and turned over to that outfit. The horse was stolen in Maxsain in November, 1918, and all efforts for over a year of the army to recover it were without success, so that further search was abandoned.

Recently the D.C.I. took up the case again and after a long search this one artillery horse was recovered at Burg Barnheim, Bavaria. Three Germans were arrested for the theft and all were sentenced to one year in prison and to a fine of 10,000 marks each.

According to the D.C.I. investigation, the horse had been sold seven times during the period he had been away from Uncle Sam's picket line and had traveled across Germany, but showed no ill effects from his experience.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Bond Men on Record Trip; New State Bank for Glendale; Hollywood Looms Large.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Arizona was invaded over the week-end by representatives of Los Angeles investment banking houses, who made the trek to the desert metropolis of Phoenix to see at first-hand the reason for the remarkable reaction and development of business and industry in the face of a dormant cotton market.

The journey had a distinctive feature, in that it is said to have embraced the largest number of bond merchants to have been sent on so long a tour of investigation, the result of which is likely to be, in the near future, an offering of a group of exceptionally supported Arizona securities.

It is agreed that there is nothing the matter with Arizona that money will not cure, and it is probable that the Pacific Coast, and especially Southern California will take over this attractive financing, which has heretofore only been given outlet through eastern channels.

Blyth, Witter & Co., and the California Company were responsible for the expedition, which sent about thirty-five guests into the Salt River Valley, although at Phoenix the duties of host were taken over and admirably executed by officials of the Chamber of Commerce, the Central Arizona Power and Light Company and the Southwest Cotton Company.

The two days were devoted to a careful study of conditions and to personal inspection of the valley, its crops, finances, history, prospects, accomplishments and its ideals. Leading bankers, farmers and business men devoted their time and services for the benefit and instruction of the delegates from Los Angeles, and it may be doubted if any group of investigators ever covered so many miles or were so thoroughly informed in so short a space of time.

Automobile trips, dinner, supper and luncheon conferences and evening meetings and picture displays were requisitioned. The result is said by members of the party to have been altogether favorable to the Arizona contention that there is nothing inherently wrong on the far side of the Colorado.

D. T. Babcock, resident partner of Blyth, Witter & Co., admitted yesterday that the trip was made in the interest of financing some of the stronger Arizona corporations by providing funds for extension work or to reduce their bank loans. The financial institutions on the Coast, he said, recognize that the business ties between Arizona and California entitle the former State to the utmost consideration in financing her top line, Class A corporations.

Morgan Adams, president of the Mortgage Guaranty Company, of which the California Company is an interlocking entity, said that the representatives of his organization, which already has placed large sums in Arizona, made the trip in order that the sales force might become familiar with the security and the geography offered by the larger land and corporate enterprises of the State.

Members of the Blyth, Witter organization who made the trip were: D. T. Babcock, resident partner; L. R. Miller, country sales manager; F. E. Sanford, city manager; Quincy Case, Nelson Douglass, M. A. Cadwalader, R. C. Harrigan, L. W. Bradley, R. Neiderhauser, R. B. Brown, W. M. Edmonson, J. B. Bruner, Andrew Dunlap, L. B. Henry, manager of the Pasadena office; H. R. Baker, W. G. Driver, P. A. Howard, J. S. Bullis and Dean Kennedy.

Representatives of the California Company included, in addition to Mr. Adams: W. G. Kollock, president; A. E. Van Court, secretary-treasurer; J. R. Maxwell, B. L. Hames, Walter Smith, W. B. Johnson, W. Page, E. J. Clement and H. H. Wagenseller.

NEW STATE BANK.

The Glendale State Bank, of which exclusive mention has heretofore been made in Trade Talk, will be ready for business about July 15, according to a statement made yesterday by Attorney W. E. Evans, who prepared and filed the articles of incorporation.

The organization of this new financial institution is one of the most interesting developments of the year, because of the character of the officers and the fact that every director, executive and stockholder is a representative Glendale citizen.

The new bank is to be incorporated for a fifty-year term, with a capital stock of $100,000, divided into 1000 shares of the par value of $100 each, of which 35 per cent is to be allocated to the savings department and 65 per cent to the commercial department. There are sixty-two original subscribers.

The incorporators and first board of directors are: Charles H. Toll, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, who will also be president; A. R. Eastman, who will be the manager. Mr. Eastman was an Oklahoma banker before coming to Los Angeles ten years ago; when he became associated with the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank; C. D. Lusby, who has also had a long active banking experience, will be cashier; W. E. Evans, Peter L. Ferry, Howard W. Walker, Oma A. Fish, J. H. Braly and C. E. Kimlin.

The bank will occupy the west half of the Central Building at Brand Boulevard and Broadway. Contracts have been let for the fixtures, which will be modern in every respect, and will include a safe deposit equipment.

HOLLYWOOD CLEARINGHOUSE.

The Hollywood Clearinghouse Association has now been in operation for more than three months and affords an interesting basis for comparison. Manager T. M. Perry has prepared a statement and a striking analysis is made by Mr. Perry and Ralph C. Long, president of the association.

In this statement it is revealed that the total February clearings amounted to $10,293,302. The total March clearings $14,128,786. The total April clearings $10,764,439.

These figures are merely an index to the total financial dealings in Hollywood, for a great many checks never pass through the clearinghouse, but are cashed directly over the counter of the bank drawn upon.

An outstanding feature of the report is the large decrease registered in April, accounted for by the fact that many of the customers of Hollywood banks are high salaried stars and officials of the motion-picture industry whose income tax payments were very high, resulting in a drain on the banks with which they maintain deposits and increased clearings.

In addition there are, residing in Hollywood, many retired men whose income tax payments are large, the gross materially swelling the March clearings.

At first blush Pasadena and Long Beach would be rated ahead of Hollywood as business and financial centers, and yet the clearinghouse totals closely approximate those of each of the two cities mentioned, which also report a corresponding decrease, although not as large as in the month of April:

	Long Beach.	Pasadena.
February	$12,094,794	$12,993,780
March	15,465,944	13,949,273

THE BRIGHT SPOT.

Southern California has been and still is the brignt spot on the financial and industrial map of the United States, but inasmuch as each section of the country is more or less dependent upon every other section, the recent announcement of a lower discount rate made by the Boston Federal Reserve Bank is of importance, in that it shows an easier credit situation and is substantial evidence of the more optimistic tone of business in the East.

BANK REORGANIZATION.

F. D. Trekell, a Los Angeles capitalist having large Arizona interests, has been elected president of the Commercial National Bank, of Phoenix, as a part of the reorganization of that institution. A large interest in the bank has been purchased by John C. Moore, president

HIGH SPOTS.

Investment bankers make epochal trip into Arizona to investigate conditions first hand preparatory to placing large loans there.

Glendale State Bank will be ready for business in July. Every capital stock subscriber, executive and director is a resident of that city.

Hollywood bank clearings approximate those of Pasadena and Long Beach. Moving-picture salaries a factor.

Southern California remains the bright spot on the industrial and financial map. Business takes on more optimistic tone.

In reorganization Los Angeles capitalist becomes president of a Phoenix bank.

Farms company mortgage bonds are popular with investors and issue sells rapidly.

Steady Opening at an Advance Causes Reaction

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 2 to 8 points on Wall street and Liverpool buying, but met considerable New Orleans and southern selling at 13.30 cents for July and 13.75 cents for October.

This caused reactions in the absence of any general demand and the market was very quiet with prices rarely steady during the early trading. July ended off to 12.68 cents, or about 7 points net lower.

Private cables reported a very poor spot demand.

Locally business was restricted with traders inclined to exhibit more or less nervousness and sympathetic with awaiting a decision on the matter of war reparations.

HUTTON'S REVIEW OF COTTON MARKET.

The cotton market opened at a trifling advance over Saturday's close and fluctuated between the opening and decline of about 75 points a bale all day, finally closing around Saturday's close. This proves that buyers will not pay more than about 13 cents for July, while sellers are not willing to let their cotton go for less than this price. Meantime reports coming in are more encouraging for mills doing a fair business with next winter's blankets and running on better time. All of which is encouraging to holders of cotton and more particularly as the sales of last week reviewed the unstressful cotton at about $2.50 a bale over previous sales.

Fixed and Quick Assets

FIXED ASSETS of the Portland Flouring Mills Company have a present appraisal value of $5,409,000, after proper depreciation allowances. NET QUICK ASSETS of the Company are $3,764,282. TOTAL ASSETS are thus over $10,000,000.

The $3,000,000 of First Mortgage 8% 15-year Sinking Fund Gold Bonds of the Company are a closed first mortgage on all the Assets of the Company. The Security behind these Bonds is thus more than three to one in terms of money values.

The term "Fixed Assets" mean Lands, Buildings, Machinery, Equipment, etc., of the Company's fourteen modern Milling Plants and over one hundred Warehouses and Elevators, all located at strategic points in the great Wheat Sector of the Pacific Northwest. These are the essential permanent factors in the essentially permanent business of the company, which is the largest Manufacturer of Flour and other Cereal products in the Pacific Northwest.

The term "Quick" or "Current" Assets is one that all Investors, but especially those who have been accustomed chiefly to Real Estate Mortgage Loans, should familiarize themselves with. Upon the [illegible] tor of "Quick Assets" chiefly rests the [illegible] any loan.

"Quick Assets" of a Business Corporation [illegible] then, the Cash on hand, the Accounts and Bills receivable for Merchandise sold, the Merchandise stock available for immediate sale—in this case Wheat, Flour, Feed, Grain, etc. The "Quick Assets" of Portland Flouring Mills Company [illegible] more than ample to pay its entire indebtedness including these Bonds.

The available Earnings of the Company for a long period of time have averaged $936,000 annually—sufficient to pay the interest charges [illegible] times over and the Sinking Fund in addition, and leave a handsome margin besides.

The more you study the Facts and Figures in this issue, the more you will realize their Safety, their Liquidity, their Dependability, now and for years to come. Our Circular on these Gold Bonds gives the clear and impressive details.

The Price is Par and Accrued Interest, bringing the Investor full 8 per cent on his money.

From Perpetual Waterfalls

A valley yielding fruit, grain and dairy products in abundance furnishes a continuous market for the power of the San Joaquin Light & Power Corporation, whose total output of electrical energy exceeds 130,000 horsepower. Very nearly all of this energy is hydro-electric, the product of perepetual waterfalls. The Company's market includes the seven principal counties of the San Joaquin Valley, a territory dependent upon electricity and whose demands for power are consistently ahead of the available supply. For nine years the average net earnings of the Company have been more than twice the total interest charges. With the recent completion of the Kerckhoff Plant, generating 50,000 horsepower, net earnings have increased to more than 2½ times these charges. The Company's present issue of bonds, amounting to $7,000,000, is authorized under a unifying and refunding mortgage providing ample security. This financing is to provide for the construction of two new power houses, substations, transmission lines and other construction work. We are offering the 1951 maturity of these bonds at 97½, yielding 7.20%, and tax free for California investors.

Closed First Mortgage Serial Gold Bonds

Maturities 1923 to 1928

The bonds of Tropico Potteries Inc., are a closed first mortgage on properties valued at two and one-half times the amount of the bonds.

Present earnings of the Company are at the rate of six times interest charges on these bonds.

Tropico Potteries, Inc., is engaged in an important and rapidly growing industry. Over $18,000,000 worth of clay products were produced in 1920 in the State of California alone. Building permits issued in the city of Los Angeles in 1920 practically doubled the number issued the previous year, and represent a frontage of more than 100 miles.

The principal products of the Company are architectural terra cotta, faience tile, vitrified clay sewer pipe, terra cotta flue lining, chimney pipe, drain tile, water pipe, etc., all important factors in the building industry.

The plant is located at Glendale, on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad, seven miles from the business center of Los Angeles, and is of the most modern type and construction.

The Company owns in fee beds of raw material of highgrade texture for its manufactured products, which engineers state are more than sufficient to supply its needs for over fifty years, regardless of the extent to which the business is developed.

The management of Tropico Potteries, Inc., is of the highest type obtainable. After an exhaustive investigation among authoritative ceramists, Mr. F. B. Ortman, formerly associated, in important executive positions, with the New York Architectural Terra Cotta Company and the Northwestern Terra Cotta Company of Chicago, was selected as the General Manager. Mr. Ortman possesses the rare combination of executive and technical ability, and his experience and training cover all branches of the clay products industry.

We highly recommend these bonds for investment and offer a limited remainder of this issue subject to prior sale.

Seneca Oil—

Our Grandfathers used the famous "Seneca Oil" as an embrocation. It was really crude petroleum from Lake Seneca of New York State, and this was practically the only use to which the oil was put in early days.

Consider the multitude of uses for refined petroleum today. It enters into every walk of life and has become a necessity of civilation.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Stock trading today was highly irregular in respect to price changes and occasionally unsettled the undertone, affording a striking contrast to last week's confident and broader movement.

Motors and related shares were heaviest features, sustaining extreme declines of 2 to 6 pints, presumably because of further readjustment of price schedules. In the financial district, talk was heard of an impending trade war, but this was scouted in well-informed quarters.

It was generally understood in industrial circles that present production of motors, their accessories and kindred specialties was barely 50 per cent normal.

Oils, steel, equipment and textiles were sympathetically influenced because of the reversal in the motor division, reacting 1 to 4½ points from last week's final quotations.

Miscellaneous issues yielded to the same extent.

Rails rose briskly in the later dealings on buying of the leading transcontinentals, grangers and coalers at gross advances of 1 to 3 points and impelled short covering in the better known industrials, although oils showed further pressure. Sales 935,000 shares.

The money market was featureless, all call loans on the exchange being made at 6½ per cent, while 6 per cent ruled outside. Sterling exchange hardened, while continental remittances, Dutch and Scandinavian rates expected, reacted moderately. Greek exchange was extremely weak, falling 30 points.

Dealings in bonds approximated the high mark of the previous week, transportations reflecting the strength of railroad stocks. Liberty issues moved within a narrow rate at irregular changes, mainly downward. Total sales, par value, $11,875,000.

Protection

—that's What You Want!

—it's the first essential of the safe investment.

It should be considered above all things—don't be beguiled by rash promises of exorbitant and immediate returns—invest in a guarantee that offers complete protection of both principal and income. It takes a strong, reliable company with ample financial resources and a stable security of non-fluctuating value to REALLY PROTECT an investment.

The Mortgage Guarantee Company is the largest of its kind west of New York City — it has more than $15,000,000.00 in resources

Its CERTIFICATES are SAFE.

SOME OF THE REASONS

Why We Believe

Huntington National Oil Company

Is an exceptionally attractive investment Opportunity:

1. Huntington National will drill its first well on land determined by geologists and nearby production to be proven land, on one of the two Huntington Beach leases, just a few hundred feet from Huntington Central No. 1, now a producing well. Two other Huntington Beach leases are ideally located, and our Signal Hill property is directly in line with the Shell well (reported a producer) and the Miley and Standard drilling wells.

2. The capitalization, $500,000, is unusually small for a company having such excellent holdings.

3. Operations have already started, and will be pushed with every effort consistent with progress and safety.

4. The organizers and officers of this company are men of real foresight, which was proven when they originated the 10c par value Oil Stock (with the Huntington Central Oil Co.) realizing that it gives stockholders a much better chance for immediate profit than higher par values.

5. Shares are now being sold at 10c—par value. We believe that within a very short time, there will be a strong upward trend of the market, caused by the growing demand for Huntington National, and therefore advise your getting full details and making arrangements to place your order WITHOUT DELAY.

Texcal No. 2

is just a starter! When this well burst into production Sunday no estimate was possible as to amount of its immense flow. Monday, the production increased steadily and this well is now rated as 2000 barrels or more.

The big point on TEXCAL! A first well on production raised the price of stock overnight! And Texcal has Number 1 at Huntington Beach which should be pouring cement in its stock—Number 3 located, to be drilled on the same leased ground—the Highway well at Playa del Rey being drilled in—now going through the last capping and looking like an enormous potential gusher—and the 5-acre tract near Western Union's 2400 barrel well, where Texcal is to have a derrick up within 30 days or less.

Shares at $1.05

Today Only

Gives it to you to realize the tremendous advance that is sure to come when FOUR MORE BIG WELLS ARE BROUGHT IN! My only word of advice to you, is to BUY TEXCAL TODAY. Every minute you delay means a further jump in the price that you will pay.

AT BRECKENRIDGE

$3120 a Year in Dividends

On an Investment of $100

Each leased syndicate has paid its unit-holders at that rate. Other syndicates have paid much bigger—Gonzolus, for instance, $1,000 per month.

H. & S. Syndicate

Is a 40-acre lease in the great Breckenridge-South Band Extension, and is surrounded by big dividend payers, among them wells now producing 11,000 barrels per day. The four wells of the H. & S. syndicate should establish new high records for Stephens County, which is today producing 14% of the entire oil output of Texas.

Under the Foster-Breckenridge Plan, you buy oil, not stock. One unit of use of the 1150 units in H. & S. will receive a royalty for 1 barrel out of every 1150 barrels the H. & S. syndicate receives from its forty-acre lease.

WE ARE OFFERING H. & S. UNITS AT $100 EACH. WE WILL SELL ALL UNITS AT $95. Write for Foster's Breckenridge Report, the latest authentic news from the field.

Wheat Goes Up and Falls Again in Day's Market.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 9.—The government crop report showing 625,000,000 bushels of winter wheat was only a little below the expectations of the trade and not enough to benefit the bulls. It compared with 621,000,000 bushels last month and 485,000,000 bushels last year when the condition was 79.1 while at present it is 88.8. Average estimated yield was 485,000,000 bushels with a final return of 577,000,000 bushels. Acreage loss through abandonment from that seeded last fall was 7,884,000, leaving 38,721,000 acres for harvest, while a year ago the Department of Agriculture estimated it at 54,495,000 acres and at the last raised it to 57,773,000 in its final report. There have been few years when the winter wheat crop has exceeded present prospects. Loss in acreage and condition was largest in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, the latter losing 14 points in condition, Kansas 4 and Oklahoma 5 points for the month. Kansas has 125,888,000 bushels, or nearly 2,000,000 bushels short of last year, Oklahoma 37,000,000 bushels, a loss of 9,000,000 bushels, and Nebraska 58,348,000 bushels, or 1,500,000 bushels under last year's.

Bullish crop reports from the Southwest sent wheat prices higher early in the day while a slump in the cash prices and reselling of 240,000 bushels of wheat at Baltimore by the British with offers of more started a selling movement which carried prices down. While the close was at a good rally from the inside there were net losses of ¼ to 3¼ cents on wheat. Corn showed strength and closed ⅛ to ¼ cent higher and oats were ¼ cent lower on May and ⅝ cent higher on the distant months. Rye lost 2 to 7¼ cents. Buying by a few eastern houses carried prices up over 3 cents over Saturday's close but weakness in the cash price and heavy selling credited to eastern houses who were the best buyers last week, caused buyers to back away.

Lighter selling pressure in corn with a reduction of 2,907,000 bushels in local stocks and 2,918,000 bushels in the visible offset the effect of the break in wheat and brought in enough buying to rally prices around 1 cent from the low point. May was down to 59 cents and finished ¼ cent above that figure, while July met buying at 61⅛ cents and selling at 62¼ cents. Arrivals of 227 cars were the largest in several weeks.

Crop reports on oats are spoiled and brought in local support enough to offset the effect of local selling. The finish was 49 to 49¼ cents for September, which is the most active trading future. May weakened despite the decrease of 700,000 bushels in local supplies.

BARLEY MARKET AGAIN WEAK AND UNSETTLED.

Although slight gains were made by a few shipments of barley during the session on the local grain exchange, yesterday, the undertone of the market was weak, and the buying interest was very slow. Track barley slumped $1.50 per ton from the level of Saturday's market, but other nearby deliveries closed unchanged to 2¾ cents per ton higher. In the future months, May barley ruled 50 cents lower, while the June article advanced 25 cents during the call. Sales were limited to a car of No. 3 eastern kafir in bulk at $1.72½ and a car of eastern spot milo, released, at $1.90.

Arrivals—Wheat, 10; barley, 13; corn, 4; milo maize, 5; kafir corn, 2; flour, 6; bran, 2; C. S. and Products, 4; total, 54. May, 11.

Seventy-two Different Railroads Analyzed

Some railroads which were formerly considered A-1 are now rated second or third class, or are considered hazardous from an investment standpoint, while others which were formerly rated as second or third class, or of doubtful rating, are now in the A-1 group.

The question before the investing public at this time is "Which are which," and in order to help investors solve this question, for some time to come we are going to issue analyses from time to time covering 72 different railroads, which will be sent free to anyone upon request, the first of the analyses ready for distribution including

S-A SERVICE

A distinctive feature of S-A service is the assurance that S-A labor-saving machinery not only makes towards efficiency in your plant, but is itself the most efficient machinery of its kind that can be bought.

Belt conveyors equipped with S-A UNIT BALL BEARING CARRIERS are just one proof of S-A modern efficiency. Actual tests have demonstrated that conveyors equipped with S-A unit carriers require one-third less power than those furnished with other types of idlers. They lower lubrication and operating costs. Their sturdy, easy turning rolls add many months to the life of costly conveyeor belts. IN HARD COMPARATIVE PLANT TESTS THE BELT MAN FIGHTS TO HAVE HIS BELT TEST MADE ON S-A UNIT BALL BEARING ROLLS. Don't let first cost govern your selection of belt conveyors. Consider ultimate costs, efficiency, service and life. Buy your machinery on this basis and your choice will logically be S-A equipment.

REMEMBER UNIT CONSTRUCTION MEANS FLEXIBILITY AND USE ON ANY WIDTH BELT. DON'T CARRY MANY SIZES OF WHOLE EXTRA CARRIERS. CARRY A FEW EXTRA S-A UNITS.

You Cannot Afford to Hold "Idle Money" When You May Become a Preferred Stockholder in the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation

Men and women who can lay by a few dollars each month are purchasing the Preferred Stock of this great public utility institution because it will always pay better than 7% and gives positive security.

The great public service record of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has been marked by sound management and high efficiency.

For 27 years this corporation has never failed to pay a regular dividend.

In addition to its vast Los Angeles business it serves eleven other cities, and much unincorporated territory.

Now the unprecedented commercial development of Los Angeles, with thousands of additional homes calling for service, requires much additional equipment and many miles of service extensions.

Every dollar of the proceeds of the Preferred Stock of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation now being sold by authority of the State Railroad Commission, will be expended for this purpose. This will automatically increase the earnings of the corporation.

You may secure this Preferred Stock at $85.00 per share, at which price it will pay you better than 7%.

You may purchase it for as little as $5.00 down and $5.00 a month.

Among other advantages this Preferred Stock enjoys preference over the Common Stock, is not Callable, and is free from State and normal Federal Income Taxes.

The dividends from 4 or 5 shares of this Preferred Stock will pay the gas bills of the average family.

We will gladly go into details on any feature of this Investment which may not be entirely clear to you.

Special! Special!
HUNTINGTON-HAWTHORNE

3 Wells Started in 2 Fields

290 Feet from Texcal's Big Well Lease

(which came in Sunday, May 8, and estimated at from 1500 to 4000 barrels.) TEXCAL has entered the class of Huntington Beach big producers.

300 Feet from Standard A-4 1000-Barrel Well

145 Feet from Argonaut Oil

(This well is now being brought in.)

HUNTINGTON-HAWTHORNE OIL & GAS COMPANY—Own a full acre lease—Lot 14, Block D, Garfield Tract. Lot 16, in the same block, is where the ARGONAUT well is. Lot 17, in the same block, is where a TEXCAL well is.

H & H. WELL NO. 3—On Lot 14, next to the biggest wells in the Huntington Beach field, with derrick up and contract being closed for rotary drilling, offers one of the most sensational speculative opportunities in the Huntington Beach field.

NOTICE! H. & H. COMPANY has 501 acres of leases—321 acres in the Huntington Beach field and 180 acres in the Hawthorne field—the choicest located leases in both fields. This company is operated by two successful oil men. They have three wells started—and three wells will be completed.

Special Offer—May 10 to May 16 10c

$35,000 worth of H. & H shares to be sold by us and through us at 10 cents. The facts are the H & H COMPANY hold a note of a private individual secured by a block of H. & H. shares. This block will be sold to pay this indebtedness at 10 cents, and the company receives a benefit from this sale—and YOU get advantage of a 10-cent price for a 20-cent stock.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED. This amount of stock should not last until May 16. It should be oversubscribed before Wednesday. Orders from out of town should be sent by wire. Don't wait another day before you take advantage of this offer. You are getting a 20-cent stock for 10 cents if you take advantage of the block that we are offering—and do it NOW!

TEXCAL OIL. Telephone and wire your instructions. Buy at the market. This company will be one of the big producers adjoining the STANDARD OIL'S big leases, where both the big wells come and the big production is today. TEXCAL, after months of the hardest kind of grind, which took grit—TEXCAL enters the big companies' class—and we predict above a dollar for TEXCAL shares.

The onlooker may see most of the game, but he certainly doesn't get very rich by it. With wells coming in almost daily at California's newest and possibly richest oil fields, are you just an "onlooker" or are you laying the foundation for possibly a real fortune.

Now, I have warned you of the weak spots in oil-speculation, and how Producers 50-3 Syndicate guards against them; I have shown you our financial arrangement with the Trust Co; I have shown how our small capital of $126,000 is divided into 5,000 units of $25 each—every one to be sold for CASH—no promotion units; and you know that 5-6ths of all oil we produce will go to unit holders.

It remains only to put your wishes into ACTION for you to become a unit holder in my syndicate. Three ways present themselves—a call at my office—a call over the telephone—mailing the coupon and which-ever you decide to do TODAY, will be a decided factor in your future.

DEMAND IS SLUGGISH ON PRODUCE MARKET.

STRING BEANS SLUMP UNDER HEAVY ARRIVALS; STRAWBERRIES DECLINE.

A weak undertone prevailed on the local produce market yesterday, owing to the limited demand on the part of the retail trade. Arrivals were again in liberal supply, and the offerings of the farmers were moved slowly at prices for the most part fractionally below those of the preceding day. A sharp slump was taken by string beans, arrivals of which were very heavy. Kentucky Wonders were selling at 12 to 15 cents per pound, while the wax variety was bringing from 11 to 14 cents, a drop of about 2 cents per pound. The cucumber market was weak, sales of the hothouse stock ranging from $1.50 to $2 per dozen, while the outdoor stock was in slow demand at $2.75 to $3 per dozen. Strawberries were again very weak, the fancy offerings bringing from $2.50 to $4 per crate, while the poorer stock was selling as low as $2 to $3. Rhubarb was scarce and firmer showing an advance of 20 to 25 cents per box, and turnips were in good demand at an advance of 2 cents per dozen bunches over previous prices. New corn is arriving in increasing quantities from the Imperial and Coachella valleys, with demand active at $1 per dozen. Eggplant is also being received here, with sales on the local market ruling around 20 to 25 cents per pound.

Despite the fact that the demand for lettuce on the part of eastern buyers continues slow, a better feeling prevailed for this commodity in the earlier shipping market yesterday. Wire inquiry was moderate, but good stock was moving at $2 to $2.25 per crate over the rails, with cash sales ranging from $1.85 to $2. Practically no sales have been reported for Coachella Valley onions, although prices for the wax variety are firm around $1.25 to $1.85 per sack, with the yellows quoted at $1 to $1.50 per hundred.

DAILY MARKET REPORT.

These are the actual prices obtained yesterday by Los Angeles wholesalers from their sales to retailers, peddlers, hotels, restaurants, cafeterias, etc., as compiled by the United States Bureau of Markets. Terms—Cash on the walk:

APPLES—Arrivals past 48 hours, 4 cars California; 3 unbroken cars on track at 8 a.m. Supplies liberal, movement slow, market steady. DIVISION OF ENERGY UNDER ADVISEMENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—An agreement whereby the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation will dispose of half of the electrical energy to be developed by its Kerckhoff hydroelectric project and two steam plants to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for distribution was taken under advisement today by the Railroad Commission.

The Southern California Edison Company has an agreement with the San Joaquin corporation to take one-half of the energy from these enterprises.

The agreement taken under advisement today will necessitate the building of a system between Merced and Newman to connect the two companies.

PARAMOUNT OIL CORPORATION
The above photographic reproduction was published over an advertisement of PARAMOUNT OIL on April 4th—the advice was not to sell TEXCAL—or to trade it—but to hold it—for TEXCAL was to get a big well—TEXCAL brought in a gusher Sunday afternoon—May 8th—from 1500 to 2000 barrels—and TEXCAL is one of the neighbors to the PARAMOUNT OIL CORPORATION. PARAMOUNT DRILLING SITE—where the company has already started operations—is within approximately 600 feet of this big TEXCAL WELL—PARAMOUNT OIL CORPORATION have approximately 21 acres in the Huntington Beach Field.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW.

of the Fidelity National Bank and Trust Company of Kansas City. John R. Hampton, has been made chairman of the board, and Cashier Hugh B. Cassidy given additional rank as vice-president.

MOHAWK MINING.

Announcement of the sale of an initial block of Katherine Mohawk Mining Company's treasury stock is promised as soon as a permit from the California Commissioner of Corporations, said by company officials to have been granted, is returned from Sacramento.

METZLER & CO.

Metzler & Co., headed by Irving S. Metzler, formerly of the Los Angeles branch of the Bank of Italy, and later vice-president of the East River National Bank, in New York, have opened offices at 111 Broadway, New York. The new firm deals in government, municipal and corporation bonds.

DIVIDEND NOTICE.

The San Joaquin Light and Power Company has declared its third dividend of $1.75 per share on the prior preferred stock, and its twenty-sixth dividend of $1.50 per share on its preferred stock. These dividends are payable on June 15 to stockholders of record on May 31.

MORTGAGE BONDS POPULAR.

William R. Staats Co. and Blyth, Witter & Co. report a ready sale for the $900,000 issue of first mortgage 7½ per cent serial gold bonds of the Peninsula Farms Company, offered several days ago. These bonds are secured by more than 10,000 acres of land situated about thirty miles southwest of Redwood City. This land has a value, exclusive of improvements, of $1,707,630, and with improvements, the valuation of the property is in excess of $2,000,000.

NEW ISSUE.

The Harris Trust and Savings Bank and Dillon, Read & Co. have closed a contract with Libbey, McNeill & Libby, said to be the largest producer of canned food products in the world, for $10,000,000 first (closed) mortgage 7 per cent bonds, maturing in ten years. The agreement provides for a sinking fund which will retire at least 35 per cent of the issue before maturity. The offering is on about a 7.50 per cent basis.

Bond Market.

R. D. Spicer, vice-president of Stephens & Co., and at the head of the San Diego office, was a visitor yesterday at the Los Angeles headquarters. He said that while the bond market in San Diego is not as active as it was a few months ago there is still a good demand for high grade securities, while the rapid manner in which the compounded Compagnie du Boleo debentures were sold in the south was an especial source of gratification.

"The stock of this company," he said, "is quoted on the Paris exchange at about 700 francs, the par value being 100 francs. The debentures were practically sold out the second day after the public offering, and we have been taking care of orders by buying bonds in the East, as approximately one-third of the issue was distributed in New York, and the bonds were not offered there until several days after they had been available on the Coast."

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

The market opened weak yesterday, with trading restricted to a comparatively few issues. The softness extended to every department but was especially pronounced in the mining list where Tom Reed declined three and a half points to sales at 80 cents. At the close the bottom was still receding and the bid was 74 cents with no stock offered.

Industrials were affected. Globe Grain and Milling went to 36.00, the Goodyears to around 40.00; California Edison to 91.50; Los Angeles Investment to 78 cents. Oils were relatively somewhat stronger, but the close was generally weak and there was not much encouragement for the uplifters.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Ralph G. Dow, C.P.A., has been admitted as a partner to the firm of Arthur M. Loomis & Co., and the firm name changed to Loomis, Dow & Co.

TICKER TICKS.

Average price of twenty industrials, 79.43, a decline of .30 per cent.; twenty rails, 74.31, an advance of .20 per cent.

Oakland Motor Company reduces prices.

United States Tire Company cuts prices.

Ready for the Bolsa Chica Oil Company's No. 2 Well

THE derrick has been ordered, the casing has arrived, the rotary equipment is ready to move and the men are on their toes ready to start work on the Bolsa Chica Oil Company's Augur No. 2 well at Huntington Beach. Actual work will commence within a week.

"Our No. 2 will be just as sure a shot as our No. 1," says Irving V. Augur, Vice-President and Superintendent of Operations. "We have the cream of the field in the matter of leases. I do not care at this time to make a public announcement of the location, but it is on a direct line and adjacent to the best production in Huntington Beach.

"The three crews are ready to start in on a 24-hour basis, and our men will duplicate their former record for efficiency, carefulness and accuracy."

Bolsa Chica Oil Will Be a Repeater!

Bolsa Chica Oil is not a one well company. It is one of the most aggressive and the growing companies in the state today. Its program is conservative, but progressive. Its stock is not being bought for speculation, but is being held for an investment by hundreds and hundreds of stockholders.

You have your opportunity today to buy this stock at $1 a share. When the No. 2 is drilled through the cement and the bit goes into the oil, this stock will be withdrawn from the market without a word of warning. It will no longer be possible to buy it for $1 a share. Today is the day to buy. This company has large acreage; small capitalization; the best oil men in the state, and the finest equipment and leases obtainable. Watch Bolsa Chica Oil grow! Follow the lead of hundreds and grow with it!

INCOME Property for Sale.

FOR SALE—OR EXCHANGE—New and modern income property, high-class flats of 8 units, all under lease and bringing in $12,900 a year. The building was substantially constructed of the finest materials by the owner, as an investment, and it was built from cellar to roof—not just thrown together! There are tile baths double thickness, oak floors, the most expensive and durable plumbing fixtures and hardware that money could buy, and skilled workmen, under the personal supervision of the owner, were employed in putting these materials together. Consequently, the deterioration and expense of upkeep on this property will be practically nothing in the years to come. It is located in the exclusive Wilshire district, where values due to the high class of improvements that are constantly going on here must steadily increase. It is in the very heart of this favorite section, close to Lafayette Park. A locality which is recognized as the "Cream of the Wilshire." This income is about one-half what it ought to be, according to the rental scale in effect in Los Angeles today. The building was erected about 2 years ago, when labor and material were more reasonable and cheap, and for this reason, I am able to offer this handsome income property for only $85,000.

TIRE PRICES CUT TO PREWAR LEVEL HERE.

GOODYEAR COMPANY REDUCES ON TUBES ALSO; SAYS SERVICE IS DOUBLED.

Announcement was made yesterday by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California, that prices of both fabric and cord tires and tubes have been lowered 11½ to 20 per cent, effective at once.

"Goodyear tire and tube prices are now back to their 1913 level," says A. F. Osterloh, vice-president and general manager. "But a tire user today is getting fully twice as much service from a tire as he obtained eight years ago for the same money. Eight years ago tires that would run 5000 miles were scarce, but now a 10,000-mile performance excites little comment. So based on mileage, our tires cost only one-half as much as they did in 1913.

"Since that time wonderful changes have been made in tires; in fact, few commodities have kept pace with tires in improvements."

MARY MacSWINEY IN PARLIAMENT RACE.

"VICTIMS OF ENGLISH AGGRESSION" PROMISED RELIEF BY AMERICAN MONEY.

CORK, May 9.—J. J. Walsh and Liam Roisite, Sinn Fein members of Parliament, Miss Mary MacSwiney and Lord Mayor O'Callaghan are announced as Sinn Fein candidates in the Cork parliamentary elections.

BELFAST, May 9.—Typewritten announcements have been posted in Dundalk and the surrounding districts, stating that "through the efforts of the President of the Irish republic, loans of many millions of pounds have been raised in America for the relief of the Irish nation," and that "persons who have been in person or property victims of English aggression, shall receive due compensation from the treasury of the republic."

The announcement adds that recourse "to enemy courts" will be deemed a grave offense against the welfare of the State "in time of war," and that offenders will be dealt with accordingly.

K. OF C. WAR FUND HELPS WAR VETERANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Approximately $5,000,000 of the Knights of Columbus war fund will have been expended and committed on vocational and academic training for veterans by the end of the fiscal year, June 30, Supreme Treasurer D. J. Callahan announced today.

FAVORS WAR VETERANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Preference to World War veterans in employment in government reclamations projects would be given under a bill by Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho, passed today by the Senate and sent to the House.

STAR BOARDER HOLDS UP CHICAGO HUSBAND.

DECAMPS WITH WIFE AND 7-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER, POLICE ARE TOLD.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 9.—A hold-up in his own house by the "star boarder" and his wife and 7-year-old daughter taken from him was the story told the police today by William Simmons, a Pullman conductor. He asked the police to search for his missing family and the boarder, Alex Catholey, a cook.

According to Simmons, Catholey came to live at his home about two months ago. Neighbors soon started gossiping, Simmons said, but he ignored the rumors, as he trusted his wife implicitly.

"Sunday night I returned home and found the house dark and deserted," Simmons said. "Shortly afterward Catholey, my wife and daughter came in. When I asked where they had been, Catholey drew a pistol and told me to shut up, threatening to shoot me. Then the three of them left the house and I have not seen them since."

EARLY-DAY ARRIVAL DIES IN BAY CITY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—John Conway, one of the picturesque characters who linked the earliest days of American occupation of California with its present Statehood, died yesterday. He came to California as a child with the regiment commanded by Col. J. D. Stevenson, in which Conway's father was an officer.

Conway had been a broker. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

FOR BURNING ECZEMA

Apply Zemo the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid—Easy to Use—Does Not Stain

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any druggist for 35c, or $1.00 for large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive, antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

USE POSLAM FOR ECZEMA ITCH NO MORE

Every eczema sufferer should know just how greatly Poslam is able to benefit this stubborn trouble; how quickly it brings relief, stops itching, cools, soothes and comforts. To spread Poslam over an angry affected surface is to feel that here, in reality, is just the healing influence the skin demands. Treatment is usually surprisingly short and improvement noticed every day. Poslam is harmless. Use it for pimples, rashes and all eruptional disorders.

Sold everywhere. For free sample write to Emergency Laboratories, 245 West 47th St., New York City.

Urge your skin to become clearer, healthier by the daily use of Poslam Soap, medicated with Poslam.

Jones's Wonder Ointment

This Ointment is prepared from an old Welsh recipe and has been used for generations as a standard remedy for Itching, Eczema, Itching Piles, Chapped Hands, Cuts and Bruises. Known for its exceptional healing qualities.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.—[Advertisement.

RESIGNATION OF McKNIGHT WIRED

Assistant Adjutant-General Takes Definite Step.

Investigation of Connection with Fund Still Open.

Report on Guard Association Expected This Week.

Lieut.-Col. James S. McKnight, assistant Adjutant-General of California, has tendered his resignation by telegram addressed to Adjt.-Gen. Borree, the latter announced yesterday. The resignation, following an investigation of Col. McKnight's supervision of funds collected for the Los Angeles Infantry Veterans' Association, will be received for action to Gov. Stephens. Col. Borree stated that Col. McKnight expressed a desire in his telegram to resign in order to maintain harmony in the service and in order that no action of his should be a detriment to the National Guard. Col. McKnight has been for several weeks the principal figure in the investigation which first came to public attention when the Military and Naval Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce began an inquiry into the disposition of funds collected for the local National Guard organization through subscription. Following the Chamber of Commerce action, a board of inquiry was appointed by Gen. Borree at the request of Col. McKnight for the purpose.

The transcript of the hearings before the board, which filled a single, record typewritten pages, was delayed. During the board's investigation fifteen witnesses were heard and the sessions were attended by Col. McKnight and his counsel, Attorney Hubert Bonner.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

Get Your Proper Rating.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

The most valuable piece of information that we can get is the knowledge of our possibilities and limitations. When we know what we can do, and what we cannot do, we have learned the secret of how to make the most of our lives.

It is a great thing to have high ambitions and a faith in oneself, but it is an idiotic thing to aspire to heights one has not the strength to reach and to be full of an asinine self-conceit that makes one credit oneself with abilities one does not possess.

In all the world there is no more pitiable sight than to see men and women wearing themselves out in fruitless toil, trying to do something beyond their feeble little powers, throwing away the peace and comfort and happiness they might have had if they had been willing to do the thing they could, and dying at last, broken and disappointed failures, because they overvalued themselves.

There's hardly a family but has this wreck of a self-erected genius in it. Sometimes it's a girl who has a pleasant little singing voice, a trifle better than that of the other girls and boys with whom she associated. In her vanity she magnifies it into the glorious gift of a Patti or a Galli-Curci and nothing will do her but that she must have it trained.

She goes to some city where conscienceless teachers will pronounce any thin pipe a grand opera voice, as long as the money lasts for paying them their exorbitant fees for lessons. Buoyed up by false hopes, the victim of her own conceit keeps sending back home for money, bleeding her family white, often depriving little children and old people of the very necessities of life, only to fail eventually because she had not the ability to make good.

In any large city you may see these haggard, worn, bitter-eyed women, literally singing for their dinners in cafes. They are those who have come up from villages, sacrificing their youth and marriage to some good neighbor lad who would have given them comfortable homes because they overvalued their talent.

Sometimes it is a married woman who believes herself to be a second Sarah Bernhardt because she gets a round or two of applause in amateur theatricals, and abandons her husband, and children, and home, to play walking parts in number four road companies. Sometimes it is a girl who starves in attics trying to write or paint.

Sometimes it is a youth without quickness of wit, or glibness of tongue, or grace or charm of manner who insists on going in for the law or becoming a preacher, instead of sticking to the family grocery or foundry. Or, perhaps, it is a lad who believes himself to be so gifted that he is not willing to begin at the bottom of any business as ordinary people have to do, but refuses to work at all unless he can start out at the salary of a bank president.

Now, undoubtedly, self-conceit is a very necessary adjunct to success, but it must have strict limitations.

We cannot make other people have confidence in us unless we believe in ourselves, but in the general showdown we have got to give a reason for the faith that is in us. We have got to deliver the goods, and prove to other people that we have got the ability we think we have.

Emerson said that we should aim at the stars even if we only hit the barn door, which is good advice as far as it goes. But after having aimed at the stars a reasonable length of time and only succeeded in hitting the barn door, common sense would suggest that we select a mark that was within reach of our aim, and where we could hit the bull's eye every time.

There is more honor, as well as more profit, in doing a humble thing well and successfully, than there is in making an utter failure in attempting to do something high-falutin and romantic that we can't do. It is better to make a good loaf of bread than a poor sonnet; better to be a good actor in the kitchen than a bad actorine on the stage. The woman who is a gifted amateur musician, and a figure in her own social circle, is a million times more enviable than the demi-demi-semi professional singer who thinks herself lucky to get to sing in a restaurant while other people are gorging themselves with food.

Every person in the world who is willing to work, can make a good living if only he or she will do the thing that is within his or her range of abilities. Our failures are nearly all the result of our thinking too highly of ourselves.

Many a man, for instance, whose whole life is a nerve-racking struggle on the brink of bankruptcy, could command a handsome salary, and live in comfort on Easy street, if only he would work for someone else instead of trying to conduct a business of his own. He would be invaluable in departmental work, where he could follow his own little groove, but he lacks executive ability, and the financial acumen to conduct a business himself.

So the woman who fails as a painter, might make a fortune as an artistic dressmaker, where her sense of color and her knowledge of line would enable her to make good dresses instead of poor pictures. Many a tiresome preacher would make a good blacksmith. Many a relentless lawyer would succeed as a business man, and oh, the numbers of girls behind counters and typewriters, whose real vocation is the wash-tub and the gas range!

In these days, nobody need lay the flattering unction to his soul of being an unappreciated genius. There is no such animal. Theatrical managers, editors, business men, everybody is out on a still hunt for talent, for ability, for those who can do any one thing well; and if you can't get a job, or your work is not appreciated, be sure you lack the ability to do what you are trying to do.

Two years is long enough to spend in giving yourself a trial. If by that time you haven't got some tangible evidence of success in your hand, it is a tip that you have overvalued yourself, and need to revise your estimate, and try to get your real number.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Denies the Report.

SANTA ANA, May 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I find in your paper of Sunday, April 24, the statements that "Noah was nature faker."

It is impossible to get any history of the creation or what happened, only what we have in the first seven chapters of Genesis, so we are left with that history, and as there has been no one able to give a better origin of man, and that stands the test—so far.

Now as for Noah he had three sons as recorded and we now will give you some history and see if Noah was a faker. I am indebted to the "World's Great Empire" written by Mrs. L. C. McKenstrey of Boston.

Noah had three sons, Japheth, Shem and Ham. We trace the descendants of Noah's sons and the nations which originated from them.

Japheth the eldest son had seven sons, Gomer-Magog, Madai, Navan, Tubal, Meshech and Tiras.

Gomer settled Northwest of the Black Sea and from him descended the Russians, Germans, Gauls and Britons.

Madai settled south of the Caspian Sea and gave that country his name, Medi or Media and his descendants are called Medes.

Javan settled in the country afterwards known as Greece, and from him descended the Ionians or Grecians.

Tubal settled between the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea and from him descended the Iberians.

Meshech settled between the Black Sea and the country of Armenia and from him the Moschi descended.

Tiras settled in the vicinity of what is now called Constantinople in Europe and from him Thracians descended and that country was anciently called Thrace.

Then the second son of Noah had five sons namely: Elam, Asshur, Arphaxad, Lud and Aram, what were also the origin of different nations.

Elam settled south of Media and gave to that country his name, and it was anciently known as Elam, and his descendants.

Mizraim settled in the country now known as Egypt and from him descended the Egyptians. That country was first called Mizraim.

Phut settled in Africa and from him the ancient Lydians descended.

Canaan settled on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea and from him descended the Canaanites.

Allow me to trace only one line down so all can understand. Arphaxad, the third son of Shem, who settled on the River Euphrates and whose descendants were called Coldeans, now tracing them through the names of the first born son as follows:

Arphaxad, Salah, Eber, Peleg, Reu, Serug, Nahor, Terah, and Abraham. I simply will refer you to Jewish history which all well-informed people will recognize as reliable. I will admit that there have been some fakers that has come through Noah but Noah himself was a true and kind man of God.

R. M. STEWART, M.D.

Outside Advice.

DENVER (Colo.), May 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] While residing in California the past winter I had The Times sent to the house, and was more than pleased with the able manner in which you were carrying out traditions, as I had been an old subscriber during Gen. Otis's time when he held the scepter, and made history for your city, which even to this day still obtains and is bearing fruit. I noticed that your young men were constantly on the job—calling attention to petty abuses, such as the traffic ordinances and selling prunes on Broadway, they seemed to fully realize that Los Angeles was a great city and it truly is very wonderful. While I do not wish to be captious, your police protection is not good, the town has simply grown beyond the present methods and management; the police department is not adequate, entirely too small.

When we stop to think of the many old persons who come to Los Angeles bringing their all, they certainly deserve better protection even if they are using Los Angeles as a stepping stone to heaven.

The State of Delaware has restored the whipping post for minor crimes and it is working well, in fact, much better for less than a jail sentence.

The time will soon come when you will have to make many narrow streets wider and provide sidewalk room. The business men of the city will be forced, however, how less did all of them realize when the town was so small, to conceive

Where It Goes.

GASOLINE ALLEY—DOC LOOKED TOO PROFESSIONAL.

You Should Be the Same

A LARGE number of women's ailments are not surgical ones. Serious displacements or radical changes have not yet taken place.

A tiny part in a fine clock may become loose and cause the clock to gain or lose. If not attended to in time, the part may fall from its place and cause serious trouble. So it is with women's ailments, they start from simple causes; but if allowed to continue, produce serious conditions.

When the warning symptoms are first noted, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present troublesome ailment, and to prevent the development of serious trouble.

North Troy, N. Y.—"When I was a young girl I had a severe female trouble. Mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking several bottles I was strong and well. When my daughter got married she was feeling miserable and I recommended your medicine. She is greatly improved in health and has a beautiful baby boy four months old. So you see this letter comes from the third generation and you may use it as you wish."—Mrs. R. M. GREENAWAY, 567 4th Ave., North Troy, N. Y.

Hutchinson, Kan.—"I was about 13 years old when I developed a female weakness. My mother took me to a doctor and I doctored for several months. I was too sick to do anything, was as thin as could be, and my complexion was yellow. Mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it had helped her so much that she got some for me and before I had finished the second bottle I was feeling fine and have been ever since."—Mrs. J. A. Ten Floors in a Location Parading that Enables us to Sell for Less

Sketched In Our Store

This Is the Kind of Furniture We Are Selling At Much Lower Prices for Cash

Why pay installment prices for your home furnishings when a few minutes' ride in your auto or on the street car will enable you to share the savings afforded by our system of selling for cash in this inexpensive location?

We have ten floors and five warehouses full of desirable merchandise that we are selling at lower prices to reduce our stock. You cannot afford to pass by such a splendid opportunity to save money on the kind of goods you want—a comparison of values will quickly prove that it will pay you to come to Pasadena—we can serve you well no matter where you live.

Bedroom Furniture, Special

The pieces sketched above form part of a complete suite in mahogany finish at special reduced prices. We show an entire floor of these complete suites in the various Period styles and finishes at reductions of from one-fifth to one-third. In most cases twelve or more pieces comprise each suite, from which any number may be selected at the reduced prices.

—FOURTH FLOOR—

Mattresses and Springs

Our entire stock of dependable mattresses has been reduced in price twenty per cent. The reductions in springs range to as much as one-third.

—THIRD FLOOR—

Lamps and Shades, One-third Off

A special display of lamps and shades at one-third off includes many types of floor lamps, table lamps and smaller sizes. Shades and standards are priced separately, thus adding to the wide choice.

—THIRD FLOOR—

All Draperies at Reduced Prices

Our entire stock of drapery materials of all kinds is now specially reduced in price from twenty to forty per cent. A fine lot of imported cretonnes, lace nets, galloons, etc., are offered in a special display section at one-third off and represent wonderful value at the special reduction.

—MEZZANINE FLOOR—

Dining Furniture, 1-5, 1-3, 1-2 Off

You may choose from an entire floor of complete dining suites in the various Period styles and finishes at reductions of one-fifth to one-third. A number of dining tables in the Queen Anne and William and Mary styles are reduced to half price. Chairs to go with them are offered at special reductions.

—FIFTH FLOOR—

Breakfast Room Furniture

A choice selection of hand painted breakfast-room sets affords liberal savings, as do those without decoration. This is also true of those in reed, and several sets in fiber are cut to exactly half our former cash price.

—THIRD FLOOR—

Whittal Rugs at Lower Prices

Among a fine lot of Wilton, Axminster, Body Brussels and other rugs offered in various sizes at lower prices are a number of Anglo-Persian and other weaves made by Whittall at prices that approximate twenty per cent under last list prices. A noteworthy saving, when the scarcity and excellence of these fine rugs is taken into consideration.

—SECOND FLOOR—

Reed and Fiber Furniture Underpriced

All reed furniture, comprising an entire floor, is now specially priced and all fiber furniture is offered in a special close-out at half price.

—EIGHTH FLOOR AND BASEMENT—

All Living-Room Furniture Reduced

You may choose from our large assortment of Period style living-room furniture in mahogany and our choice selection of Italian Renaissance styles in walnut at greatly reduced prices. We now show a very complete line of library and davenport tables, also rockers, chairs and davenports in mahogany and cane at special reduced prices.

—ENTIRE SIXTH FLOOR—

Overstuffed Furniture at 60c on The Dollar

This is the wholesale stock of a manufacturer who discontinued making upholstered furniture and closed out his line to us at 60c on the dollar, a saving which we pass along to you. Large, comfortable, overstuffed davenports, rockers and chairs at a big saving, while the quantity lasts.

—SEVENTH FLOOR—

Porch and Lawn Furniture

Rustic hickory enameled and natural finish furniture, rattan, China sea grass and reed are among some of the types of furniture for porch or lawn use that we now offer at specially reduced prices, together with a fine line of canvas hammocks—all underpriced.

—BASEMENT STORE—

Ranges and Refrigerators Lower

You can get a good gas range or refrigerator here at lower prices, as well as furniture, rugs or draperies. Remember, we sell for cash and sell for less.

SALVATION ARMY FUND MOUNTING.

Thirty-Thousand-Dollar Mark Passed in Drive.

Scores of Volunteers Pitch Tents on Streets.

Industrial Committee Opens Work in Factories.

Contributions in cash and pledges of $22,450 have been made at the close of the first day of the campaign to raise $145,000, the budget needed to conduct the work in Los Angeles of the Salvation Army for the year, it was announced last night by W. T. Black, secretary of the advisory committee.

The industrial committee began its campaign yesterday among the factories of the city, but is withholding a report of collections until later in the week.

The Women's Maintenance Council, which opened its campaign Sunday before a meeting in Exposition Park, transferred the scene of its activity to the downtown streets and to wholesale districts.

Pitching their tents on a dozen street corners, and opening bureaus in banks and hotels, scores of volunteer women workers began securing enlistments to the Home Reserve, exchanging little membership buttons bearing the red seal of the Salvation Army for the dollars which Angelenos cheerfully contributed.

Among the women who had charge of tents yesterday were Miss Emma Leva, Mrs. C. E. Pinegar, Mrs. E. Fletcher Scott, Mrs. W. E. Hine, Mrs. F. B. High, Mrs. T. T. Perkins, Mrs. Jennie Keen, Mrs. E. Hine, Mrs. H. Davidson, Mrs. E. B. Fox, Mrs. Fane Norton, Mrs. I. B. Jones began work as director of enlistments in the downtown banks. The following cash contributions and pledges already have been secured by the advisory committee:

"DECOY" SHOES TRAP PILFERER

Marked Footwear Leads to Sentence for Athletic Club Thief.

Prior to November 19, last, Sidney Haggerty had heard about decoy ducks, but he had never heard of decoy shoes. When he appeared before Judge Reeve yesterday he admitted learning about the latter, which were left to catch him and stop petty thieving in the locker room of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. He pleaded guilty to grand larceny and, after Assistant Probation Officer Rusk had looked up his record, he was sentenced to San Quentin prison for from one to ten years.

The shoes were marked and left by officers of the club and found later in a pawnshop. Haggerty admitted stealing them, an overcoat from A. W. Neal and various other articles. He said he is a graduate of Santa Clara College.

been paid at his own request 10 per cent of the commission paid to a solicitor for collecting funds for the association. Two different meetings were held by the Chamber of Commerce committee and several witnesses were heard in the presence of Gen. Borree, who came here from Sacramento to attend the session.

At the conclusion of the committee hearing a report was submitted to the board of directors of the chamber and a resolution was finally made public showing that the Chamber of Commerce awaited the outcome of the military board of inquiry's investigation. This board began its deliberations about two weeks ago.

Maj. E. E. Kirk, senior officer of the local National Guard organization, has been heading the Infantry Regiment Association for the last few weeks, following the resignation of Col. McKnight, as president of the association during the Chamber of Commerce investigation.

GLASS FROM BELGIUM.

More Than Million Pounds of Window Panes Come in April.

Increased importations of window and plate glass from Belgium are reported by Customs Collector Elliott. Window glass pays a duty of from 7-8 to 2 cents a pound; plate glass from 6 to 12 cents a pound. March receipts were 12,400 pounds of plate glass, valued at $9545; April falling off to 1450 pounds valued at $632. March window glass imports were 977,000 pounds, valued at $59,000, while April showed 1,389,000 pounds, valued at $86,265.

Sidelights on Banking

Believing that a great many people are not taking advantage of all the varied services of modern Departmental Banks, the Guaranty Bank presents this series of short articles on banking, intended to clear up many common misunderstandings and to point out ways in which your bank can be of greater benefit to you. The next of the series will appear in this paper at an early date.

NUMBER EIGHT

Bank Expenditures

In a previous article we discussed the tremendous growth in industry, agriculture, and public and private improvements in Los Angeles, and the part the banks take in financing these activities. However, in considering this greater field of service of banks, the fact is often overlooked that the banks in themselves make up a very considerable unit in the commercial activities of the city. Aside from their functions in acting as a clearing house for all the financial operations of a great city like this, banks are large contributors to the general business welfare in the disbursements they make for payrolls and other operating expenses.

Huge Investment

More than $40,000,000 is invested by thousands of stockholders in the operating capital of the banks of Los Angeles. This figure is based on book value, the actual market value of Los Angeles bank stocks exceeding $80,000,000. But few other lines of business or industry in Los Angeles represent a greater investment.

Large Payroll

Officers and employees of Los Angeles banks number 2100 with an annual payroll of more than $6,000,000. The total amount of interest paid depositors on savings accounts by banks in the city totaled $7,148,000 in 1920. The banks of Los Angeles will pay nearly $3,000,000 in taxes this year. Further expenditures for rents and the many other items common to all active businesses, run into many millions each year.

Resources $37,000,000

Jacoby's 46th Anniversary Bulletin

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 10TH, 1921. PUBLISHED BY JACOBY BROS., LOS ANGELES

The Second Week of This Jacoby Anniversary Event Is Full of Interest

JACOBY'S had a little store
Down on the street called Main.
And folks came buying by the score,
And then came back again.
Since that time 46 full years
Have come and gone away.
We live much faster, it appears,
Than in that far-off day.
The wagon and the horse car set
The speeds for "75,"
Now motor cars and aeroplanes
To break speed limits strive.
Still folks are pretty much the same
In this day and the old,
And folks that play a strong, straight game
Are folks that win and hold.

—Mabel M. Parks.

Second Floor, South Building—Jacoby's

50 Doz. Turkish Towels Are Very Special at 56c

—Jacoby's 46th Anniversary event is notable for the attractiveness of the specials that appeal to the housewife, and this sale of towels is decidedly interesting.
—They are generously large bleached towels of heavy two-ply yarn and have fast color border.

16-in. HALF LINEN TOWELING 15c

—The brown toweling that is so well approved for dish or roller towels. Another very special Tuesday opportunity.

Second Floor, South Building—Jacoby's

Man Tailored Suits of Lochby Knit Tweed $34.98

Note the Model Shown in the Above Illustration

—The appearance of these suits is particularly apart, for the style and material are both particularly pleasing. Lochby knit tweed combines the suppleness of wool jersey with the appearance of imported tweed, and the effect is altogether fetching.
—The straight line belted coats have notch collar and four patch pockets.
—Colors include tan, gray-blue, blue-green, green-brown and heather mixture. Sizes 16 to 42.

100 SPORT SKIRTS AT $10.98

—Jacoby's secured these skirts 'way under the regular worth for the 46th Anniversary.
—They are pleated and show a variety of clever ideas, and the colorings are notably rich and effective. Sizes 26 to 32.

SPORT COATS IN WIDE VARIETY

—A stunning model of white flannel is $17.98, and flannel coats in sport colorings are $15.98. At $18.98, also, there are some smart effects in kitten's ear broadcloth.
—There's a strong line of the popular Jersey Sport Coats at $7.98, $9.98, $12.98 and $14.98.

Third Floor, South Building—Jacoby's

Two Famous Corset Makers Contribute to This Sale

—A corset that would please Madame 1921 might look a trifle queer to Mrs. "75," but they have no difference of opinion about the values in these three lots Jacoby's has gathered to feature in the 46th Anniversary.
—There are styles for all figures—and all are priced so much under regular that saleswomen and corsetieres are looking forward to a remarkably busy day on Monday.

Corsets Special $1.98

—New topless and low bust styles in corsets of pink broche having medium hip and light boning. Other models of pink coutil have low bust and long hip. Sizes 20 to 28.

Corsets Special $3.48

—A truly wonderful assortment of new models all made of fancy pink broche. They include medium and low bust and topless styes with medium or long hip. The right style for every type of figure and there are all sizes.

Rengo Belt Corsets $4.98

—A new model of this much-liked corset that has been secured to sell at a special price Monday. The material is a heavy pink brocade and the corsets are double boned and reinforced across the front. A comfortable and good-looking low bust, long hip style having elastic in back and spoon stay. Especially adapted for average and stout figures. Sizes 24 to 35.

Second Floor, North Building—Jacoby's

There Will Be Lively Times On the 3rd Floor With Sailors $2.98

—There are twelve dozen, all told, and Jacoby's is surely going to create a stir with them Tuesday.
—They are of rough straws, Bangkok, pebble Milans and fancy weaves in black, brown, red, Copenhagen, tan and some white. Styles include regulation sailors, roll brims, pokes, etc.

Third Floor, North Building—Jacoby's

Sanitas Scarfs Are to Be Almost Given Away at 79c

—These clever and attractive washable Scarfs of Sanitas, stenciled in a number of pretty designs and bright colors, make fine breakfast runners—time and labor savers such as Madame 1875 and Madame 1921 can both appreciate.
—They can be used on the breakfast table, on the buffet or on the dresser.

Sanitas Luncheon Sets 98c —Center pieces and doilies in various shapes—round, square, oblong—stenciled in rose color—some of the sets have 13 pieces and some of them 5 pieces.

Main Floor, South Building—Jacoby's

Do You Know Just What the Deltor Is?

The Deltor Layout is the clever new Picture Chart of instructions for cutting, putting together and finishing garments cut by Butterick Patterns.

The Deltor shows 'just how' from the first snip of the shears to the last stitch in the completed garment —To the amateur or inexperienced home sewer the Deltor Layouts give assistance that makes it possible for them to make garments that have the style and finish of those made by experts.

—Anyone with any knowledge of sewing knows that the first important step in garment making is the right placing of the pattern on the material.

Means Success to Amateurs

—By placing the pattern as shown by the Deltor, the amateur may know that the garment is cut from the least possible quantity of material and that each piece is so placed that when finished it will look exactly as it should.
—The Deltor makes it possible to cut the garment from one-quarter of a yard to a yard and a quarter less material than would be required otherwise.

Prevents Mistakes

—And of course the Deltor prevents the old expensive mistakes like cutting two sleeves for the same arm or two fronts for the same side.
—And the Deltor is just as helpful every step of the way. With it the amateur soon sews like an expert, and there's no danger of wasted material.
—The Butterick Pattern Department at Jacoby's will be glad to show you just how the Deltor helps.

There's an Old Saw That Says "It Never Rains But It Pours"

And Just When Los Angeles Found She Was in Need of a New Store She Also Began to Realize That She Was Short on Theaters

—We quote from the Express of 1875:

—"It really seems to us that Los Angeles ought to support a theater of her own from the coming Fall on. With the assistance of amateur talent, towns the size of Los Angeles, in England and Ireland, are frequently known to support theaters all through the year."

—It was at this same time that Los Angeles decided that she could support a "real" store—and so Jacoby's was started—and during all the 46 years it has been growing into a BETTER STORE—the kind of a store you like—the kind of store that likes to serve you.
—This Anniversary Sale is a fitting celebration for the passing of the 46th milestone!

Gorgeous Sports Silks in an Anniversary Disposal at $4.96

—Mistress "75" wore lovely silks and would have been delighted with these that are specially priced for the Anniversary.
—They are the ultra-smart "May Queen" and "Tai-ly-ho" stripes and plaids that will make up most wonderfully.

Second Floor, South Building—Jacoby's

The Very New Shades in the Anniversary Taffetas at $1.76

—The vogue of taffeta makes this special of first importance, and there are no less than 28 of the most liked colors and shades to choose from.
—This taffeta is one of the best liked brands and should create no end of enthusiasm at the Anniversary price.

Second Floor, South Building—Jacoby's

A Foremost Woolen Mill Sends 54-Inch Navy Serge at $1.06

—If Miss 1921 is planning to make the bathing suit she'll wear a-splashing in the surf this summer, she will find this serge admirably suited to this purpose.

Second Floor, South Building—Jacoby's

Men's Silk Sox And Think of It At 55c Pair

A prominent manufacturer sold them to Jacoby's for a much lessened price because he called them "seconds"

—Jacoby's may not mention the manufacturer's name because these sox are sold as "seconds," but the Bulletin is dependably assured that such imperfections as exist are very slight, and in the majority of instances are scarcely noticeable.
—The sox are of heavy silk and have double soles and toes and high spliced heels. A good color range.

Main Floor, North Building—Jacoby's

30 Patterns in Cheney Foulards On Sale at $2.96

—They are some of the most desirable patterns put forth by the famous Cheney Brothers. They are 40 inches wide and the quality is particularly good.
—There is sure to be a lot of interest in this Anniversary offering.

A HORSE APIECE.

Horse meat is advertised by a Missouri butcher, who announces that it is "tough but wholesome." There are a lot of chickens in the market of whom hardly as much can be said.

SOUNDS SUDSY.

President Pilsudski of Poland has been made a doctor of medicine by the University of Warsaw. He has a name that sounds like a powerful brand of home brew that might do duty as a medicine.

HELPING A BOOM.

The man who was said to have invented the moving-picture camera is dead in London. Southern California could at least float a flag at half-mast in honor of his memory. Think what he did for the State!

HIGH-PRICED BEEF.

What's all this fuss about a $35,000 cow? We've been buying steaks from a $35,000 cow right along. Anyhow, the butcher must have taken in that much for the animal at the rate he charged for the giblets.

NEED CABINET MAKERS.

Almost any man who is handy with a saw can get a job as cabinet-maker in Germany. There are many who would even give the task to the old Kaiser. They don't have such a thing as a built-in cabinet in Berlin. The cabinet will not stay built.

NO CONVICTION.

The jury disagreed in the case of Willis Dalton, the Chicago bank clerk who fled with $772,000 in Liberty Bonds and was captured in a down-State poolroom with the stolen property in his possession. The jurors apparently thought the satchel stuck to his hand when he left the bank and possibly the boy was not to blame.

THE GREAT BOOK.

If the family of Moses still owns the copyright on the Bible they have a mighty good thing. It is the one best seller, all right. Last year no less than 8,665,000 copies were placed and they represented 538 different languages or dialects. Few folk realize that there are that many different tongues in the world. The Bible is the one book in which they can be brought together. No other work has been so extensively translated. Get a copy.

BY 'EARSAY.

A Michigan husband cut off his wife's ears when he caught her in the company of her lover. Now she has to wear her hair so as to cover up the scars where her ears had been. Since this distressing affair when a girl is seen on the streets with her ears covered up by her hair everybody will think a jealous husband has been avenging himself against the work of a home-wrecker. Women whose ears are still intact will wish to now display them to the full view of the public to prove that their lives and morals are above suspicion.

DEGREE WORK.

The University of Warsaw has conferred its first honorary degrees. Woodrow Wilson, Herbert Hoover and Marshal Foch were made doctors of law. Polished gentlemen are the specialty of this university, but these three cannot be made Polish gentlemen even by degrees. However, Woodrow Wilson has been made a doctor of laws by so many colleges that it is no wonder he has gone into the law business with Bainbridge Colby. Herbert Hoover was honored because of his work for the relief of the women and children of Poland. He is also being repaid—by degrees.

THE BAD MEN.

Motor bandits are raising such havoc that in many States special legislation is sought in the effort to check their activities. The Illinois Assembly is about to pass a bill which would make the purchase of a stolen automobile a felony. The intent is to make it impossible to buy a car except from an authorized dealer or a registered owner. Men who deal in stolen cars would be quickly sent over the road. A new law also requires the display of a white tail light so placed that the license number is plainly visible from a distance of fifty feet at any and all times when on the road. In some States it is proposed to make auto banditry a capital offense—when accompanied by the use of firearms. When a criminal has a gun and a roadster his capacity for wrong is almost beyond reckoning.

SLIPPING.

The dean of St. Paul's Cathedral says that England is nearing its decadence, while America is only approaching its zenith as a world power and authority. The United States is the bulwark of Christianity and civilization. These are rather strange words to come from an English churchman, but are reassuring as far as America is concerned. If an American bishop were to declare that Great Britain had become decadent or was on the verge of senility many people would promptly declare the assertion both unkind and untrue. But the dean of St. Paul's should speak with some authority. The point is that everybody seems to expect the United States to keep the light burning on the altar of civilization. That seems to be our responsibility. We've got to take care of poor, decadent England, b'gosh!

THE BETRAYAL OF THE SOUTH.

Reapportionment is to be considered at a special session of the Legislature in the fall, according to an announcement by Gov. Stephens at Sacramento. Thus thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money will be spent and much time will be lost in settling a question which, but for lack of good faith on the part of Gov. Stephens and a violation of their oaths of office by certain legislators, would have been settled at the regular legislative session that started in January and ended April 29.

Whatever the considerations that impelled the Governor to remain silent and inactive while a disgruntled northern group in the Legislature blocked all efforts to obtain a readjustment of representation based on the census of 1920, the people of the State—of Southern California in particular—have been betrayed.

The Constitution of California specifies that the State Assembly shall consist of eighty members and that the State Senate shall consist of forty members, representation in each house to be determined according to population, and that representation shall be readjusted at the first session of the Legislature following a Federal census.

Under this clear and concise constitutional provision it became the duty of the Legislature to act at its recent regular session, and to the end that the Constitution of the State should be obeyed by those sworn to uphold it, two or three reapportionment bills were introduced, among them a bill by Senator Boggs which sought carefully and impartially to redistrict the State along strictly constitutional lines.

No favoritism was or could be shown in such a measure. The southern portion of the State, having the greatest population gain during the last decade, was allotted, under the Boggs bill, a minimum increase in the number of its legislative representatives.

In the case of Los Angeles six additional Assemblymen and two additional Senators were proposed.

With this arrangement the representatives from this county were persuaded to be content, despite their knowledge that upon a strictly mathematical basis, seven new Assemblymen and three new Senators could have been legitimately claimed for Los Angeles city and county.

San Francisco, because of the proportionately small increase in its population from 1910 to 1920, faced a possible loss of two Assemblymen and one Senator, but in the Boggs bill this loss was cut to a minimum, reducing the Bay City's delegation one member in each house. Other less populous districts suffered like treatment. Representation in large areas of the State was left unchanged.

Very little logical opposition to the Boggs bill developed and of the one or two reasonable objections raised, being purely local in character, adjustments could have been reached without affecting the general situation.

However, members of the San Francisco delegation, prodded by politicians at home, made certain overtures to the Los Angeles members, offering to support virtually any kind of a reapportionment measure satisfactory to Los Angeles that also left the present San Francisco representation intact. This offer was turned down by the men from Los Angeles, who were unwilling to consent to a raid on the mountain and northern counties of the State.

Not discouraged by this rebuff, the anti-reapportionists worked openly and industriously in the Legislature, candidly expressing a determination to prevent passage of any reapportionment measure whatsoever. Their objects were freely expressed and were known to those even remotely in touch with legislative affairs.

As adjournment of the session drew near the Los Angeles members of the Assembly and Senate found that there was danger of a deadlock and it was at this point that all eyes were turned to the Governor.

Knowing that Gov. Stephens is a Southern California man and being assured that he was aware of the universal demand in the south for passage of a reapportionment measure, it was at first believed that he would sufficiently awaken to his own obligations and official responsibility to demand that the Legislature act.

He remained, however, officially silent, and those legislators ordinarily controlled by the Governor's office, finding themselves free agents, joined with the northern group pledged to kill all reapportionment bills.

At the last minute, or rather, a little after the last minute, Gov. Stephens, replying to a most urgent telegram from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, announced that he was "in favor" of passage of a reapportionment measure at the regular session.

Perhaps if the Governor had sent this message to the Legislature, instead of wiring it to Los Angeles, where it could have no effect on the situation at Sacramento; perhaps if he had even caused it to be whispered to one or two of his expert State machine lobbyists, perhaps at that hour the situation might have been saved.

But the Governor did not say the word. He remained consistently silent. Reapportionment went into the discard where went all legislation opposed or neglected by the administration.

Now the Governor and his adherents say they were helpless in the face of an unfavorable Legislature, forty-one votes in the Assembly and twenty-one votes in the Senate being needed for passage of the reapportionment bill.

The administration was not helpless, however, when it needed fifty-four votes to pass in the Assembly the King tax bill, adding $15,000,000 to public utility corporation taxes during the next two years. Neither was the administration helpless when it put through the Governor's so-called "economy and efficiency" measures.

On numerous other occasions this "helpless" administration smothered the Legislature under a machine lobby that passed or defeated legislation according to directions from the office of the Governor of the State. When the administration desired to favor or oppose a bill Martin Madsen, private secretary to Gov. Stephens, called Assemblymen and Senators into his office and gave them their instructions.

Such instructions were withheld during the brief time reapportionment remained a factor in the State Capitol.

Therefore, to repeat the statement of a Los Angeles lawmaker, "Gov. Stephens, in asserting that he favored passage of a reapportionment bill at the regular session of the Legislature, either admitted that he was a figurehead in his own administration, lacking the courage to announce his personal views, or he fails to deal candidly with himself in assuming his present attitude."

Thus Southern California, which pays the bulk of State taxes and which is growing more rapidly than any other section of California, multiplying its interests and having greater need than ever before for adequate representation in the lawmaking body of the State, has again been made the victim of the gang of State machine politicians that regard this section of the State merely as a source of political and financial profit.

It is said that Gov. Stephens plans a tour of the South shortly to "square himself" for this reapportionment fiasco. His explanation will be awaited with interest.

Sat Upon.

OBSTREPEROUS POLAND.

All who have passed through the experience of poultry culture will recall that a bantam rooster is never so happy as when sinking his spurs into the comb of some redoubtable chanticleer about five times his size and weight. Fighting seems to be the one supreme aim of his existence, with the result that, unless kept in complete isolation, his own wattles are always bloody. For some still unexplained reason, strongly suggestive of atavism, the new republic of Poland conducts itself like a bantam nation. During the two short years of its existence it has come to blows with every one of its neighbors; and it is now engaged in a hostile attack on the forces of occupation stationed in Silesia to put into effect the terms of the Versailles Treaty.

Such an attitude on the part of the Polish people does much to discredit the idealism of the free nations that tried to right at Versailles a century-old wrong. It was to the personal interest of none of the Allied governments to reconstitute Poland as a national entity. The Polish populations claimed the right of self-determination, to form a government of their own choosing, to escape from the bondage of absent rulers. Great was the rejoicing among the free peoples of the world when the Polish republic rose from the ashes of consumed monarchies. But equally great is their disappointment to discover that the Polish populations do not possess the self-restraint and respect for the rights of other peoples under treaties that Poland itself has signed, necessary to the establishment and maintenance of stable government.

The Polish populations were granted much at Versailles; but they were not content. They seemed to regard their rights as superior to those of their neighbors. They claimed territory beyond the boundaries recommended by the experts at Paris on the ground that a majority of the people in such territory were Poles, that the real facts had been concealed by lying German and Russian census reports. In order to give the Poles an opportunity to prove their claims provisions were made in the peace treaties for the residents of the disputed districts to decide by plebiscites the nation with which they desired to unite.

In the plebiscite elections the decision was almost invariably against the Poles. One reason assigned for this by neutral observers was that the conservative residents, even when of Polish descent, feared the instability of the Polish republic. As a nation Poland was not conducting itself in a manner to inspire confidence. First came the reports of bloody pogroms on Polish soil. It was claimed that the Jewish population was being massacred, that their fate was that of the Armenians under Turkish rule. Investigations proved that, while the loss of life in the pogroms had been overstated, the massacres had actually taken place and the civil authorities had neither sought to prevent them nor to punish the marauders.

About this time last year the Poles were attempting to annex by force territory that had been allocated by the Peace Conference to Russia. This brought down upon Poland the powerful but badly organized and officered soviet armies. But for the passive support of all the Allies and the very active aid of France the republic of Poland would have been wiped off the map of Europe. After the Bolshevist armies had been repulsed Poland proceeded to negotiate a treaty of peace with the soviets without taking counsel with the governments that had made the Polish republic possible. The sentiment of gratitude does not seem to be a Polish characteristic.

Now comes their attack upon the Allied forces of occupation in the part of Silesia that voted in the plebiscite in favor of Germany. While the offensive was not regularly ordered or conducted by the Polish government, it has shown no disposition to restrain its lawless citizens. The Allied troops were sent into Silesia to protect the Polish populations against German dominion or reprisals; and they are now compelled to fight with the Germans against the Poles. Such ingratitude almost surpasses the understanding.

It is true that there are at least 1,000,000 persons of Polish blood living in German territory and that the greater number of these prefer to live under a Polish government. But it is equally true that there are more than 1,000,000 Germans possessing homes within the borders of the Polish republic and that nearly all of them would prefer that the territory had remained German. In drawing the boundaries of the new nations it was impossible to give to all the peoples of the border districts the government that they desired. The peace commissioners could not perform the impossible. They had to be content with giving to each section of Europe, in a general way, the government that a majority of the inhabitants wished. In some cases this right was denied for reasons of higher polity. An instance was the refusal to permit the section known as German Austria to unite with Germany.

Bitter personal disappointments could not be avoided. In order to reduce the possible dissatisfaction provisions were made in the treaties affecting the smaller nations for assisting the persons of one race living in another country to dispose of their property and find new homes with those of their own blood. Committees appointed by the Supreme Council are now performing that work in a number of the newly created states.

But the Poles apparently will submit to the decisions of the Allies only when they happen to be in their own favor. They took what they could get at Versailles, but were not content with it. As disturbers of the peace of Europe they are not far behind the Bolshevists.

While the world admires the bravery of the Poles it cannot condone their hopeless belligerency. The era has passed when peoples can live by conquests. The excuse given by the governments that partitioned Poland in the eighteenth century was that the Poles were such inveterate disturbers of the peace of nations that the only way to make harmony possible was to deprive them of nationality. The action of the modern Poles lends color to that contention. Personally, the Poles are intrepid, talented and often charming; collectively, they are well-nigh impossible.

ONLY ONE SENATOR SMITH.

Smith of South Carolina now is about the most lonely man in the Senate. He is the sole representative of the great and numerous Smith family. His name appears on the roll sheets as simply "Mr. Smith." He looks up with a puzzled expression whenever the clerk shouts his name and does not specify "South Carolina." It is the first time in many years that but one Smith has held down a seat in the Senate. For a long period there were four of that name answering to the hail of Senator. The elections last November were fatal to the Smiths, eliminating from the Senate Hoke of Georgia, Mark of Arizona and John of Maryland.—[Washington Dispatch.

OUR SUNNY FRIEND

Pride.

The tide comes in at Walby
And sweeps along the strand,
The long tide, the strong tide,
And covers up the sand.
But though I stand with aching eyes
And gaze far out from shore,
The ship of dreams we used to see
It sails the seas no more.

The rock we had for lookout,
Shaped like a longboat's prow,
It still defies the high tide's rise,
Your heart remembers how.
The day we quit our dreaming there
Pride told you east was best:
The day we quit our dreaming there
Pride drove me to the west.

You have your pride for company
Along your eastern way,
And I have pride for eventide
And pride for break of day.
And west, pride tells me still, is best
And urges still, be strong!
But, oh, the days are empty days
And, oh, the nights are long.

"The Campbells Are Coming, Hurrah, Hurrah!"

Reverend Shaw tells me he was to deliver a sermon one Sunday up Redlands way and he was delayed unexpectedly at the last minute and he phoned the organist to slip in something appropriate while he put the finishing touches into his collar-button adjustment.

He explained that the discourse would be about Isaac's courtship and from the text, "The camels were coming," and when he hurried over he guesses they couldn't have found a more appropriate piece in all the music books of the world, for they were playing just that.

THREL FALL.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE PESSIMISTS.

The recent winter was the best that ever struck the Middle West.
The skies were blue as skies of May, the sun was shining every day, the breezes had the scent of spring and summer birds came back to sing.
And men of wisdom said, "Great Scott! This kind of winter hits the spot, so let us cast all fears aside and take the gifts the gods provide.
It may be we will have to pay for every bright and sunny day, but while the sunny days are here we'll sing and dance and never fear." But there were grouches everywhere and they denounced the balmy air.
"We need cold weather now," they said, "with storm clouds looming overhead; we need all kinds of snow and sleet, we need a blizzard and repeat. This kind of winter is a flaw, a slip in nature's ancient law; and when she makes so bad a break she'll even things, and no mistake.
There'll be a blizzard in the spring and it will riddle everything; the fruit will wilt in winter's breath, the bugs that should have died the death will eat the corn and hay and oats and bear off our collective goats."
And thus the robe of gloom is worn by fellows who were made to mourn; they always miss the bliss and fun of basking in the genial sun.

EDITORIAL OPINION.

If Haywood really has gone to Russia, while his escape must make the Department of Justice look a little foolish, few persons except I.W.W.'s and the doters on "political prisoners" grudge him to soviet Russia. It is a gift that we are willing to make to our enemies, among whom he has long belonged. If his followers who happen to be out of jail would follow his example it would be the best disposition they could make of themselves. Here they are a nuisance and a curse. That is the secret of political success in Russia at present.—[New York Times.

It is worth noting that Senator La Follette, who has introduced a motion in the United States Senate in favor of the recognition of the Irish "republic," was one of the "little group of willful men" who opposed the United States going to war with Germany.—[Toronto Mail and Empire.

The report of the Near East Relief for the year ending Dec. 31, 1920, which has just been made public, is a monument to America's world-embracing philanthropy. The figures and the summaries contained in its pages are plain and matter-of-fact; yet between the lines one reads the story of the saving of a million lives and the restoration of health and physical strength to thousands of others.—[Boston Transcript.

There is no place in America now that is paradise from the Communistic standpoint. Why not Valparaiso? There could be substituted arson for athletics, nihilism for science, hell-raising for history, gunrunning for geometry, lying for law, rationing for rationalism, free love for philosophy, bombs for botany and Bolshevism for the Bible.—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Volstead Act is a law and it ought to be enforced. We are learning, however, that the basis of law enforcement is genuine popular approval. Popular approval has not caught up with the present law. What the country needs is more education on its present prohibition law and less legislation on the subject generally.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

That was a fine stroke of policy by which President Harding chose as the occasion for his first public speech since his inauguration the unveiling of a statue of Simon Bolivar in New York on the day when like honors were paid to the memory of George Washington at Caracas. The President thus signalized his purpose to cultivate the closest relations of friendship and commerce between the United States and the republics of South America and to fortify them against exploitation by the nations of Europe.—[Portland Oregonian.

THE DANCING CLASS.

BY PAULINE BARRINGTON.

"Margie—my little Marg—i—e—"
The room was deep and wide,
Vaulted high from side to side;
The floor shone like wet streets at night,
With softened yellow light.
"Margie—my little Marg—i—e—"
The piano banged and dreamed,
The jazz whistle blew and screamed,
The saxophone all alone
Deepened the tone,
"Margie—my little Margie."

One—two—three, one—two—three,
Follow me—"
Across the floor they slid,
Watching wall the steps they did.
Fifty—sixty boys and girls,
First long trousers, tied-up curls;
Two wavy lines of baby-youth,
Shy, uncouth,
White, slim and fair,
Without a care,
Beginning to know,
Beginning to go—
"One—two—three—one—two—three,
Follow me."
The teacher led with nod and glance
The dance.

The mothers went to dancing class
And sat around the edge
And watched their little children
Enter the social wedge.
They sat in jealous fear
And eyed with wise keen glances,
The safety of their stalwart sons
And dainty daughters' chances.
The little girls were neatly dressed,
Jawed and clawed to do their best,
To be demure and sweet;
And how to use their feet.
To always put the right foot forth,
The other foot—oh, what a fright!
Was hidden out of sight.

The boys were herded with the rest,
Nudging and giggling at some jest;
In collars stiff and shiny shoes
That never seemed to fit.
Each child was tabulated
As to what it was related,
Family old or none at all,
Amount of cash on ready call.
The children, curious little things,
Waiting to spread pin-feather wings,
Were taught the ones that were "quite nice."
The ones that had too much spice,
Beware the "baby vamp!"

So the mothers sat and talked with smiles, of course,
Without remorse;
And placed each shy young face
In its future social place.
The children curtesy when 'tis done,
"Dear teacher, we have had such fun!"

"Margie—my little Margi—ee—"
The jazz starts up its screaming
Across the empty floor;
For another class is streaming
Through the door.

"Janet," he began, "you know, I have always turned to you; that I have always thought of you. May I—that is—oh, will you be my wife!"

"What a start you gave me, Henry," said Janet at last. "Do you know I thought from your manner that you were going to ask me to lend you some money."—[Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Call the celestial speed cops—the earth is now racing with a comet.

There is really no need of a cor-respondence school for bootlegging.

Quoth Uncle Sam: "I'll sit in to keep the game going; deal me a band."

June 7 is the date now officially fixed for the appearance of the Wil-necke comet. There will be no post-ponement on account of wet ground, we are assured.

Will Woodrow Wilson be the first official representative of the United States to the Supreme Council? We think we violate no confidence in saying that he will not.

July 2 is the date for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight. Just about the third anniversary of the time when Gen. Crowder was doing his best to get Dempsey to go overseas.

The reports of the latest newspaper insurrection in Mexico appear to have been much exaggerated. The fool-killer is evidently asleep at the switch.

One authority says the only thing now needed by the government is to thaw out our credits. Personally, we have suggested something of the kind to our corner grocer, but he seems unable to take a hint.

We judge that Fred Beauvais, the co-respondent in the Gitllman divorce case, does not belong to the hobo cigar-sign class. No use to say, "It's the poor Indian," as to him. It seems to have taken care of himself all right.

We should not be too severe upon the kings and emperors who are so reluctant to give up their thrones on having lost them are trying to get them back. It is the only way most of them have of making a liv-ing.

David A. Walker has been recom-mended as United States Marshal for the western district of Texas. Meet Mr. Walker, he is the brother-in-law of Atty.-Gen. Daugherty, the latter having married Lucy Walker, sister of David A. And there is the old-fashioned saying about he who careth not for his own being worse than a heathen.

There is a deal of nonsense about the proposed laws making voting compulsory. Granting that it is re-hensible to neglect to vote, is it therefore true that a man has a right to absent himself from the polls? Suppose he does not care a hoot about the issues at stake, or doesn't think much of either candi-date? Are we to have no freedom left?

There is no disposition in America to criticise the position of France to compel Germany to behave. The splendid republic is next door to the Hun, and the leading men in France know what store Germany sets by a scrap of paper. Now is the time for France to make the future se-cure. She would be a fool not to embrace the present opportunity to guard her borders forever.

AN INCIDENT.

An old man sat with battered hat
Crammed down below his ears.
His hands, between his knees were lean,
And red and wet with tears.
Above his head the stone steps led
Into a building white,
Whose granite walls and lofty halls
Rose high into the night.
Along the street walked the "upper"
With eyes cast straight ahead;
They would not see the threadbare knee,
The bowed and weary head.
And some by chance would look askance,
But blush and gaze away,
Because their eyes would tell no
Though pride in them held sway.
And they moved on the while you
The steps the old man sat;
The tears had dried and he sat
There lay the battered hat.
Across his brow his hair like snow
Fell in a scattered drift;
His grimy frame was bent and bowed
His soul too great to lift.
Yet there was life, though gray with strife
Of years of sore privation;
A friendly touch would not be much.
Yet naught would mean salvation.
Then from the building white on high
There came a man and stood near.
He gazed along the crowded street
And saw the old man at his feet.
"Ah, ha," said he, in unbelief,
"Here is a man I have alone."
Did he reach down and take a coin
From those that lay upon his hat
Or give the old man bread to eat
That he might smile and walk the street?
His little eyes so blurred with rage
He did not see the old man's face.
He touched the gray and bowed head.
And, grinning, this to him he said,
"My friend, is there a chance or two
That you would care to buy a hat?"

DAUGHTER LOSES IN GIROUX SUIT.

Fails to Recover in Action Over "Gift" Ranch.

Forget and Forgive, Policy Advocated by Court.

Million-Dollar Trial Over Son's Death Next.

The first legal tilt in the Giroux litigation was won yesterday by Joseph L. Giroux, Hollywood millionaire, when Judge Luce gave judgment in his favor in the suit of his daughter, Virginia Saucer, to recover $26,000, the value of a ranch in Big Pine. This ranch Mrs. Saucer declared her father gave her in 1911, subsequently selling it and refusing to give her the proceeds. She said she received the interest on the $26,000 until she started suit against him.

Mr. Giroux denied that he made a gift of the ranch to his daughter. The court found from the evidence that there was correspondence which might be read either in favor of or against a gift of the land. In the court's opinion, Mr. Giroux intended his daughter to have a life interest in the ranch, but did not give it to her.

The suit only exemplified, he said, the necessity of making such contracts legal. In this case, neither father nor daughter anticipated litigation and therefore each was careless as to the oral agreement.

There has been much tragedy in the Giroux family, the court stated, and he hoped that in view of all this sorrow, the members will forgive and forget.

A suit for $1,000,000 is pending against Mr. Giroux, brought by his daughter-in-law, Solo Giroux, widow of George Giroux, who was slain by the father in Nevada.

Scott and Ritter represented Mr. Giroux. Earl Newmire is representing the Giroux girls.

FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS IS SOUGHT FOR HOSPITAL BUILDING HERE.

A drive for $50,000 with which to erect a hospital for crippled children is now being conducted by the Los Angeles Orthopaedic Foundation, with offices at 1036 Citizens' National Bank Building.

The movement has the indorsement of the Board of Education, the Los Angeles County Medical Association, the Social Service Commission, the Juvenile Protective Association and other prominent organizations.

Although it now has only a reconstructed barn in which to carry on its work, the foundation is treating 3000 crippled children annually; has restored sixty helpless children, so that they are now able to go to school and are almost normal physically; has made it possible for fifteen formerly bed-ridden children to get about and earn their own living, and, despite the fact that its work is restricted to children, enables 50 per cent of those treated to become at least partially self-supporting.

The work is being carried forward on a three-acre tract on Palm Drive, recently donated for this purpose. It is the object of the men backing the undertaking to raise the funds with which to erect on this tract a building in which it will be possible to accommodate all of the crippled children who are in need of treatment and cannot afford to pay for it.

To illustrate the work a cinema feature, donated by the Ince studios, is to be run or has been run in every motion picture house in the city. Outside the playhouses women with baskets in their hands will urge the public to contribute to the fund. Contributions may also be sent to the offices of the foundation.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN SOUTHERN COURT.

MRS. LEVEE ARRAIGNED ON MURDER CHARGE BEFORE LOUISIANA JUDGE.

Mrs. Mathilda Levee, a Los Angeles woman, who shot and killed her husband, Frederick Levee, in a crowded street in New Orleans Saturday, yesterday pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder in the southern city. Following her arraignment, Mrs. Levee was committed to jail without bail. The hearing was before the New Orleans City Criminal Court.

Mrs. Levee shot her husband after following him half-way across the continent. The killing came as a climax to many incidents in a troubled married life. Mrs. Levee had once before made an attempt on the life of her husband, it is said, and had many times created a great deal of excitement with her horsewhipping ventures. Mr. Levee was formerly an attorney of this city and was recently indicted by the grand jury here on a perjury charge growing out of an amended answer in his wife's separate-maintenance suit.

EXPLANATION FROM SEATTLE CHAMBER.

Apropos of the recent statement of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce showing that this port is outstripping Seattle, a letter from the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club has been received by The Times. While not denying that the total commerce for December of Los Angeles was 80 per cent more than that of Seattle for February, the Seattle chamber asserts the figures for both ports for December were: Los Angeles, $3,655,010; Washington customs district, $12,785,208. These figures, says the letter, "are for goods actually cleared in the Los Angeles and Washington customs districts and therefore are exclusive of the value of silk and other goods passing in bond." The letter also asserts that in December "when Los Angeles claims to have handled 467,861 tons, 462,209 tons of imports and exports were handled over Seattle docks. This was exclusive of the tremendous business done with Alaska and on the fleet of boats which ply on Puget Sound."

COMING IN CAR PROVES COSTLY.

Judge Learns Negress Has Limousine; Disregards Sole-Support Plea.

When Mrs. A. Fields, a negress living on Hewitt street, appeared before Police Judge Richardson yesterday morning to receive sentence for a violation of the Gandier ordinance, she was carrying an infant in her arms and pleaded for leniency on the grounds that she was the only support of the infant.

After learning from police officers that Mrs. Fields with her child drove to the Police Station in a large limousine, Judge Richardson fined her $500. The fine was paid in cash and Mrs. Fields with her baby motored away from the court.

Another Slash Made in City's Budget Figures.

The first survey of the estimated budget for the financing of this city for the next fiscal year was completed yesterday, when the Council's Finance Committee, sitting as a special budget committee, cut $30,143 from the estimates of the health, electrical and minor departments. To date $1,157,978 has been eliminated from the proposed budget and $812,134 must still be cut out from the estimated expenses in order to reach the $9,000,000 mark, a sum which can be met from the expected revenue for the period.

If possible the committee expects to begin on the second survey of the budget this afternoon. In this survey, as in the one just completed, the committee proposes to deduct most of the money from supplies and equipment items, leaving personal service reductions to the last. Several weeks will probably be needed to get the statement ready for the Council.

Holds Pink Rat License Wrongly Taken From It.

The status of the Pink Rat Cafe is just what it was before the Board of Police Commissioners revoked its license. Yesterday Judge Burnell held that the Police Commission acted in excess of its jurisdiction; further, that the meeting of the commission, at which it was decided to take away the Pink Rat's license, was held at a private residence instead of in the City Hall, and still further, that the usual three days' notice was not served on the proprietors to enable them to appear and defend themselves.

Suit was brought by O. W. Zacher against Mayor Snyder and the members of the Police Commission for a writ of review. The writ was granted by Presiding Judge Shenk and the return was made yesterday by Judge Burnell.

DRUG LAW VIOLATOR ESCAPES FROM JAIL.

WOMAN HELD ON CHARGE OF ATTEMPT TO SMUGGLE OPIUM TO PRISONER.

One man under sentence and a prisoner in Lincoln Heights Jail for a violation of the State poison law escaped yesterday; another man, arrested several days ago on a similar charge, was convicted and sentenced to ninety days in the City Jail, and a woman charged by the police with having attempted to smuggle drugs into the Lincoln Heights Jail was arrested.

Louis Fletcher, the prisoner who escaped, mingled with a crowd of visitors in the jail and walked out of the gates. He had sixty-one days to serve of a 150-day sentence.

Harry O'Neil, alias "Red" Peters, was sentenced to serve ninety days in the City Jail by Police Judge Chambers. O'Neil was arrested on a downtown street with several small lots of morphine in his possession.

A young woman giving the name of Eva Danforth called at the Lincoln Heights Jail to visit her brother, who is serving a term there, and was arrested by Jailers Kelly and Ross. The young woman, according to the officers, attempted to smuggle a quantity of opium to her brother while talking to him in the visitors' cage.

SUFFERS ON STAND.

Woman Suing Husband has Attack of Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Llewellyn Phillips, married for many years, suffered an acute attack of heart trouble while testifying in her separate maintenance proceedings against Charles H. Phillips, an oil man, in Judge Walton J. Wood's court yesterday. She was supported from the stand by her daughter and her attorney, Georgia P. Bullock.

Mr. Phillips, who is under contract with an oil company which is drilling at Huntington Beach, declared he is willing to support his wife. The court allowed Mrs. Phillips $70 a month, pending the trial of her suit, and awarded attorney's fees.

CAFE MEN MUST PAY.

Judgment Against Innocent Parties to Meat Sale Fraud.

R. C. Griffith, a San Pedro meat market proprietor, discovered that one of his cutters had been selling to a restaurant and pocketing the money. Griffith brought suit against Kirby Brothers, proprietors of a restaurant, to recover $2460, the value of the meat. The defendants set up that they were innocent purchasers and believed the cutter was authorized to collect. The case was tried by Judge Stephens some time ago and decided by him yesterday in favor of Mr. Griffith. The judgment, he said, imposed a hardship on innocent parties, owing to the venality of a third person.

HURLS SURPRISE IN BUNKO CASE.

Expert Identifies Signature of Bank Depositor.

Accused Defrauder is Linked with Berry Trial.

Cashing of Victim's Check is Testified To.

Taking the defense by surprise yesterday during the trial of Otis B. Berry, former local banker, Milton Carlson, a handwriting expert, testified that the signature of "Albert Johnson," a depositor of the Hollywood branch of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank, was in the handwriting of Clayton Dorchester, accused of defrauding Thomas Donahue out of $42,000 and Mrs. Ethel L. Hupp out of $30,000. Berry, formerly assistant cashier of the bank, was manager of the Hollywood branch at the time "Johnson" was a customer. He is accused of aiding the bunko men in their activities here by helping them to cash large checks.

Willie Dean, a cousin of Mrs. Hupp, was arrested and is now serving a term in San Quentin, for aiding Dorchester in defrauding Mrs. Hupp out of $30,000 in a fake stock deal. It was from a piece of paper on which Dorchester had written and handed to Mrs. Hupp, and which Dep. Dist.-Attys. Keyes and Stafford introduced in evidence, that Mr. Carlson formed his opinion that "Johnson's" signature was the same as Dorchester's.

Testimony regarding other accounts in the Hollywood branch of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank was introduced.

The prosecution also adduced testimony to show that the defendant cashed a check for $1176, said to have been given to "Johnson" by Mr. Donahue at the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank.

Paul Schenck and Richard Kittrelle are defense attorneys. The case will be resumed this morning.

Bellboy Admits Robbing Guests At Hotels Here.

Admitting on the stand that he had on several occasions stolen jewelry of guests in fashionable hotels here, Allen Doran, a bellboy, was held to answer yesterday by Justice Brown on a charge of grand larceny. He is accused of stealing a diamond bar pin valued at $1200, from Mrs. Hugh L. Rankin, then a guest at the Ambassador. The defendant stated that he sold the pin to a waiter for $150. Emil Studt, a waiter, is now under arrest on a charge of receiving some of the stolen jewelry. The case was prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill.

FOR OLD HOME BURIAL.

Body of Bank Clerk Suicide to be Sent Back to Illinois.

The body of Athol Sikes, the 19-year-old bank clerk who committed suicide last Saturday night, will be sent back to Mason, Ill., for burial after funeral services to be conducted today at 2 p.m. at the home of his uncle, Dr. I. A. McCarty, 1264 West Adams street, where the tragedy occurred. Sikes was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Sikes and was a clerk in the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Gray's Lake, Ill., of which his father is the president.

Ill health is said by relatives to have been the cause of the youth's shooting himself after officers from the University Police Station had been called by Mrs. Sikes in order to take a revolver away from him.

The youth died in an ambulance while on the way to the Receiving Hospital and the body was taken to the Ivy Overholtzer undertaking establishment.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Former Nebraskans to Celebrate with Luncheon to Old Friends.

Entertaining a group of thirty-five or forty friends from Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Taggart of 1762 Crenshaw Boulevard will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary this noon with a luncheon at the Rosslyn Hotel.

Former Nebraska neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Taggart have been invited to come from Santa Barbara, Pasadena, Long Beach and other cities near here to while away a few hours in renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Taggart were married at Palmyra, Neb., in 1871. After residing there for several years they moved to Nebraska City, where Mr. Taggart was for many years engaged in the abstract and title business. The Taggarts came here eighteen months ago.

CANCEL CITIZENSHIP.

German Charged as Head of Disloyal Organization in America.

In U. S. District Judge Bledsoe's court yesterday, by stipulation, the naturalization papers of Kaspare Schlaich were cancelled. The prosecution of the German began when charges of disloyalty were made against him growing out of the war.

It is asserted that he was one of the heads of an anti-American organization and it was charged that he had made remarks deprecating the course of this country in the World War. Schlaich is a contractor in Tulare county.

HELD FOR STEALING SAFE, SILVERWARE.

Four youths were held to answer yesterday by Justice Forbes on a charge of stealing $1500 worth of old silverware from the residence of Mrs. George F. Ferris, 585 West Central avenue, Sierra Madre, on April 30, and taking the safe it was in, as well. Asserted confessions of some of the four, R. H. Smith, Harry Kennedy, P. R. Robinson and J. C. Bidwell, relate how the safe was loaded into an automobile, taken to a canyon and opened. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello prosecuted the case.

William H. Holland.

NEW HEAD PROBATION OFFICER APPOINTED.

PASADENA CHILD WELFARE CHIEF IS NAMED FOR LOS ANGELES POST.

William H. Holland, head of the childrens' welfare department of the Pasadena schools, was appointed by the Supervisors yesterday as chief probation officer. He will succeed W. G. Stewart, acting chief probation officer.

Mr. Holland was selected from the certified list of the Civil Service Commission. The leaders on the list were Mr. Holland, William H. Reeves, City Commissioner of Pasadena, and Miss Mirian Van Waters, referee of the Juvenile Court.

Mr. Holland is 54 years of age, a Thirty-second Degree Mason, and for many years was a school-teacher. For a time he was superintendent of the George Junior Republic at Chino and has been principal of several schools in Pasadena during the past seventeen years. He was one of sixteen applicants for the office of chief probation officer, eight of whom passed. The salary has recently been increased from $225 to $275 a month.

FOR SOLDIERS' BENEFIT.

Film Folk of Hollywood to Aid Patients at Sawtelle.

The Film Folks' Jazz Review will be staged tonight in the Hollywood Woman's clubhouse in benefit of the ex-service men in the hospital in Sawtelle. The funds will go to aid those who have not received their government compensation and have no relatives to aid them.

There will be several vaudeville acts, headed by a one-act play directed by Penrhin Stanlaus and featuring Miss Clara Horton, Miss Claire MacDowell, Miss Francis Parks and Geoffrey B. Bering. Other screen stars to appear are Wallace Reid, Bebe Daniels, Wanda Hawley, Bert Lytell, Ruth Stonehouse, Neil Burns, Eddie Polo, "Speed" Hansen, Clarence Burton, Al Wilkie, R. A. Brantiger and the Campbell Sisters. Dancing until 1 a.m., will follow the program. Tickets are on sale at the Stewart & Burton drug store, Ed Wise clothing store, and the Krees drug store.

READY FOR A HOLIDAY.

U. S. District Judge Trippet made an order yesterday, suspending the weekly naturalization hearings during the entire month of August. It is intended to have the month as a holiday term, to be observed by all of the courts.

Fight is Opened for Half Million in Water Rights.

A water rights suit, which is expected to occupy two months in its trial started in Judge Hewitt's court yesterday. The suit, brought by the Rincon Ditch Company and others against Frank Pellisier and others, involves the rights to Sheep Creek water in the San Gabriel district. The estimated value of the water rights of this creek is $500,000. Chapman & Keetch represent the plaintiffs, and Haas & Dunnigan the defendants.

About a quarter of a century ago, it was stated in court, E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, started an action to determine the water rights in the creek. There was a trial and a retrial of the action. Since that time water has been taken from the creek by adjoining property owners and since 1916, it is asserted, the defendants have used more than their proportionate share.

The present suit is to determine the proportionate share each of the parties to the action shall have in the water.

LIQUOR COMES HIGH.

Stiff Fines Imposed Upon Men Who Violated Dry Laws.

Sentences as follows were imposed in U. S. District Judge Bledsoe's court yesterday on pleas of guilty for violation of the liquor laws:

Jesus Gonzales had two pints of whisky in his automobile when caught in San Diego county. It cost him $500 and the libel of the machine.

John Fleming hid six quarts of whisky at the side of the road near El Centro. The court assessed a fine of $300 and Fleming is to remain in the Orange County Jail until he pays the money.

Eusebio Ballin had twenty-four and one-half pints of whisky in Imperial county, where he was picked up. The fine was $300, with imprisonment in the Orange County Jail until the fine is satisfied.

HOTEL GUEST ROBBED OF VALUABLE GEMS.

A diamond ring and a stick pin valued at about $4000 were secured by a pass-key thief late yesterday afternoon from the rooms of George Dames in a hotel at Seventh street and Grand avenue. According to Mr. Dames, the ring and stick pin were taken from a dresser drawer in his room. The diamnds were three-carat stones.

Friends, no matter how reliable, are usually too busy to undertake the duties of executor of a Will. Relatives may shrink from the responsibility involved in the management of an estate.

Yet every Will must be administered. By whom, then? Preferably by an institution which makes the administration of estates its business.

The Bank of Italy's reputation for reliability is at stake every time it undertakes an executorship. Its management of all estates, therefore, must be businesslike, and at the same time, satisfactory to the persons concerned.

Mrs. Angel Told There Was No Hope.

Never Expected to be Well Again.

Tanlac Completely Overcomes Her Troubles.

"Tanlac has been our family medicine for the past two years," said Mrs. Bessie Angel, 8218 South Main St., Los Angeles, "and it's all we need, for it fills the bill every time.

"About two years ago I got into such a bad condition that I was told there was no hope of me ever being well. I was almost a complete nervous wreck, and my stomach was so weak I had to live on the lightest foods and had no appetite for anything. I couldn't sleep, and was altogether in a most wretched state.

"When I was right on the verge of despair I got Tanlac, and the relief it gave me was remarkable. I got so I could eat and sleep, my nerves and digestion got all right, and all the neighbors noticed how much better I was looking. Ever since then, whenever I have felt a little bad, I have got me a bottle of Tanlac, and it has never failed to set me right.

"A few months ago my son came home from work one day sick. He was as yellow as a pumpkin, and it turned out he had a bad case of jaundice. I started him on Tanlac, and in a short time he was all right again, and his health has been just fine ever since. So I think we certainly have a right to believe in Tanlac at our house."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles by the Owl Drug Co. and leading druggists.—[Advertisement.

DEATH TRYST OF AGED LOVER.

Man Who Sought to Recall Early Sweetheart Dies.

Methodists Protest Against Approving Dances.

Pasadena Theaters Merged and One is Closed.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, May 9. — John Thomas Eyster, the man who sought to snatch in old age the love he had lost in his youth and who found the experiment a failure, is dead at his home here, aged 88 years.

It was in 1914, when Mr. Eyster was 81 years old, that he announced his intention of a second attempt to find true love. His first attempt, many, many years before, when he was a young man in the mining camps, had failed. The girl he adored and whom he expected to marry, jilted him.

Thereupon Mr. Eyster foreswore women. He vowed he would ever remain a bachelor. And he did, until 1914. But the years had mellowed his wrath at the fair sex and a sentimental yearning tugged at his old heart. He even forgave in his heart the girl who had jilted him, for recollections of her prompted him in his new quest for love. He announced that if he could find a sweetheart of 22 years, who resembled the girl he had loved years ago, he would propose to her.

MANY WILLING.

It was known that he was well-to-do and his announcement brought a veritable procession of would-be brides to his door. Women of all ages and shades presented themselves to him, hoping that they possessed some resemblance to that 22-year-old belle of the early days. Mr. Eyster wearied of interviewing them, of turning them away. Then one day came a girl from Los Angeles whom Mr. Eyster regarded as the reincarnation of his boyhood sweetheart. He proposed without further ado, was accepted. And so they were married.

But they did not live happily ever afterward. They bickered. The husband said his wife was cool toward him and wanted him to wear silly clothes. She said he was stingy and that life was unbearable. Finally they were divorced.

The body of Mr. Eyster will be taken to his old home in Emmitsburg, Md., for burial.

PROTEST COMMUNITY DANCES.

Protests against municipal sanction of the community dances to be held this summer at Tournament Park under chaperonage of the Pasadena center of the Drama League have come already, though the league has just announced its plans for the summer. Rev. Harry Shepherd, the pastor, and the members of the Lincoln Methodist Church, have voted and inserted resolutions against the dances, holding, says Rev. Shepherd, that it is an impropriety for the city to sanction such affairs when many citizens are opposed to them.

The firm of Turner, Dahnken & Langley has taken over active control of four large Pasadena theaters, according to the terms of the deal closed last week.

It is reported that one of the theaters, the Florence, will be turned into a dance hall. This theater was closed by the new management upon taking it over. Mr. Langley states he is not ready to state what use will be made of it. The Raymond, Pasadena and Strand theaters will be continued under their present policies.

AL FRESCO DINING-ROOM.

Improvements to be made at the Vista del Arroyo here early this summer will include an out-of-doors dining-room, for summer use, and a new banquet hall, according to an announcement today by C. E. W. Moore, the manager. Work on the new improvements will start in the near future. The outdoor dining-room will be modeled on similar features to be found at European resorts.

FIRST CANDIDATE OUT.

Mrs. Clara Odell, member of the present Board of Education, is the first candidate for election to the board at the trustees election in June, to file a declaration with the clerk of the board. The other members of the board whose terms expire this year, Mrs. Beatrice Dane and George W. Woolley, have not announced themselves as candidates.

JUDGE STILES DIES AT HOME OF SON-IN-LAW.

WAS FOR YEARS PROMINENT AS LAWYER, POLITICIAN AND WRITER.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, May 9. — Judge Edward H. Stiles, formerly of Kansas City, Mo., died yesterday afternoon at the home of his son-in-law, E. J. Gates, in South Pasadena, at the age of 85. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mr. Stiles was a native of Connecticut. When 20 years of age he went to Iowa, locating at Ottumwa. In December of 1857 he was admitted to practice law. He rapidly rose to prominence as a lawyer and politician, and served as a member of the Iowa Legislature, first as a member of the Assembly, and then as Senator. In 1866 he resigned from the Senate to accept the position of official reporter of the Iowa Supreme Court. He advanced to the front ranks of the Iowa bar and enjoyed a large practice.

In 1886 he removed to and located at Kansas City, Mo., and for many years was a partner of ex-Gov. Thomas T. Crittenden of Missouri. He served for several years as master in chancery of the United States Circuit Court for the Western District of Missouri.

About ten years ago Mr. Stiles retired from active practice and moved to California. After coming here he prepared and published his "Recollections and Sketches of Early Lawyers and Public Men of Iowa."

He was a close friend of such famous men of Iowa as Mr. Justice Samuel F. Miller of the Supreme Court of the United States, and U. S. Judges John F. Dillon, George McCrary and Henry C. Caldwell.

Besides Mrs. Gates he leaves another daughter, Bertha V. Stiles, and two sons, Dr. E. H. Stiles of Tucson, Ariz., and M. V. Stiles of New York, an operatic singer.

HELD AS EMBEZZLER.

Los Angeles Mining Promoter Arrested at Santa Ana.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, May 9.—J. W. O'Day, Los Angeles mining promoter, was arrested in Fullerton Sunday on a charge of embezzling $500 from Milton MacMillan of Anaheim. The money, it is said, was to have been used to purchase mining land near El Toro.

With twenty-seven years and two months of continuous service to his credit, John A. Whalen, Southern Pacific track foreman, was put on the railroad pension list here today. He has been in the employ of the Southern Pacific since 1876 and has never had a vacation.

F. K. Smith of Huntington Beach learned not to talk back to a motor cop Sunday evening, when he was fined $25 for disturbing the peace. Smith was stopped for having only one light burning, and is said to have become abusive to Officer Stewart, and refused to sign the notice card.

FATHER OF CHARLES VAN DE WATER DIES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, May 9.—After having declined rapidly since his son, Congressman-Elect Charles F. Van De Water, was killed in an automobile accident near Pomona six months ago, Isaac Randolph Van De Water, 92 years old, a retired Methodist minister and a Long Beach pioneer, died here at 8:25 o'clock this afternoon at the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. F. Van De Water, 1321 American avenue. He had been ill with pneumonia for the past week.

Rev. Mr. Van De Water came to Long Beach twenty years ago. His wife, who, before her marriage, was Miss Jane Wilde of Duchess county, New York, and a direct descendant of Henry Hudson, has two brothers living here. They are John and Benjamin Wilde, who were connected with the early development and growth of Monrovia. It was because of them that Rev. and Mrs. Van De Water came to Southern California, and later settled in Long Beach. The old Van De Water home, which still stands at 321 West Fifth street, was one of the first to be built here.

Rev. Mr. Van De Water had been a member of the New York Methodist conference for fifty years. Mrs. Van De Water died in 1915.

POMONA PHYSICIAN DIES

Dr. Kenyon was Prominent in Medical and Fraternal Circles.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, May 9.—Dr. Frank P. Kenyon, prominent Pomona physician, passed away at the Pomona Valley Hospital last night following an operation ten days ago. Two weeks ago he was suddenly taken ill. He was found to be suffering from serious intestinal trouble and an operation was performed. He rallied from the operation remarkably well, but began to weaken Friday.

Of late, Dr. Kenyon had specialized in the administration of anaesthetics and his death takes one of the most useful and highly respected physicians from the ranks of the Pomona medical profession. He was born in Plymouth, Mich., in 1853, was a graduate of the Detroit Medical College and had studied medicine under many noted surgeons in this country and Europe. He came to Pomona in 1903, after having practiced in the East for many years and also having served as division surgeon of the Northern Pacific and Louisville and Nashville railroads.

Dr. Kenyon was a major in the Medical Corps during the Spanish-American War, serving in the Philippines with the Fourth Kentucky Volunteers.

In addition he was a prominent Elk, a Thirty-second Degree Mason, a Shriner and a Past Exalted Ruler of the Middleborough (Ky.) Lodge of Elks. He is survived by his widow. Funeral services will be held from the Todd & Patterson chapel Wednesday afternoon and will be conducted by the Masons and Elks.

OIL WORRIES SANTA BARBARA.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, May 9.—"Black gold," as petroleum is called, may be the undoing of the Country Club grounds and also of the grounds of the Santa Barbara County Club.

The former are located on the hills of Hope Park, three miles west of the city, within a stone's throw of a wealthy easterner, who has bought a homesite and has sunk a drill, seeking oil. Oil evidences are being found on the club lands, and geologists tonight stated if a drill were driven into the earth at a point about the middle of the lounge-room a 100-barrel well might be developed.

The fear of the old bogey has seized the entire populace. That many points in Santa Barbara could become oil districts is believed, and an ordinance has been by the council prohibiting for the black-gold [illegible] city proper, or within [illegible] town.

How long this [illegible] able to hold at bay [illegible] problem. If oil [illegible] higher it is said the [illegible] erty must surely [illegible] point of vantage, [illegible] lands can hold out [illegible] worrying many.

Science Proves the Danger of Bleeding Gums

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

Shipping

INTO the commercial history of Los Angeles is written a coveted record of transportation advantage. Take the thirty-six leading Eastern industrial centers of the United States, which have commodities to sell and raws to buy over Western seas, and the ships of the Pacific are miles nearer to thirty-two of them thru the port of Los Angeles than any other Pacific Coast point.

Furthermore, semi-tropical transcontinental trunk line railroads bring out-bound and distribute in-bound shipments the year round without climatic loss or tie-up.

Realizing this great trade advantage in Los Angeles' shipping facilities, "The Citizens" has prepared itself to act intelligently and speedily in all matters pertaining to shipping as banking is related to it. Its broad connections with native banks in foreign lands facilitate both the handling of shipments and the gathering of valuable trade data, and these advantages are available to all whose activities require the functions of a sound National Bank.

PLAN COLORFUL FETE SATURDAY.

Assistance League and Smith College Women Busy.

Gardens of Beautiful Home Given for Gala Event.

"Old-Fashioned Bar" Will be Among Chief Features.

Brilliant among the season's entertainments will be the Fete Champetre to be held in the beautiful Norchester gardens of Mrs. Chester Brown's home, 515 West Adams street, Saturday afternoon, with Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mrs. Hansen Moore, Mrs. Lawrence B. Burck and Mrs. Brown as hostesses.

The affair is being given as a benefit for the Assistance League's charity fund and the Smith College endowment fund, and promises to be of exceptional interest socially. Financially the entertainment is expected to turn a goodly sum into the hands of the treasury committee, headed by Mrs. Hansen Moore, and including Mrs. Samuel Storrow, Mrs. Rupert Hughes, Mrs. E. Bartlett Shideler, the Misses Kirkeley and a group of Smith College girls.

Many novel features are planned for the event, every imaginable kind of amusement and entertainment device and program being scheduled for the pleasure of the throngs of men, women and children participating.

One of the popular amusements will be the "wheel of fortune," presided over by Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. Eugene O. McLaughlin, Mrs. Arthur Wright and Mrs. Roberts-Kamm. Under their direction the guests will also be privileged to try their skill at that fascinating new out-of-door game, "lawn dice."

OUT OF PAST.

The American bar, savoring of this iniquitous days of the past, will be in charge of Mrs. Michael J. Connell, who will be assisted by Mrs. R. I. Rogers, Mrs. Leona Montgomery and a group of the younger set.

Under the direction of Mrs. Russell McD. Taylor, assisted by Miss Margaret Kellogg, will be the tea dansant, with the tennis court as its setting. A dancing contest for prizes and other special novelties will be introduced here during the afternoon. Tea will be served by a coterie of girls under the captaincy of Miss Cecile McLaughlin and Miss Mary Gray, in the group being Misses Marguerite and Carolina Winston, Adelaide and Helen Duque, Winifred and Agnes Golden, Olga Simpson, Marguerite Brunswig, Georgia Kean, Florence Marsh, Genevieve Murray, Camilla Schneider, Margaret Brown, Julia Valentine, Eleanor MacGowan, Dorothy Gray, Mary Forve, Florence Kays, Byna Kingsley, Corinne Eisenmayer, Florence McGarry, Avis Hughes, Harvie Wallis, Marion Wicmore, Ann Morse, Bernice Carr, Mrs. Edward McLaughlin and Mrs. Edgar Miller.

Another offering of special interest, particularly to lovers of book, music, art and other treasures, will be the "Saints and Sinners" corner, patterned after that corner in one of Chicago's famous book stores. Here will be offered for sale personally autographed books, paintings and compositions, donated by the many famous authors, artists and musicians, who are living in Los Angeles.

In charge of this corner will be Mrs. Force Parker, Mrs. Gene Stratton Porter, Mrs. Elinor Glyn, Mrs. Lee A. Phillips, Mrs. Milbank Johnson, Mrs. Robert London, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Rob Wagner and others.

The dernier cri of the event will be the shower of sport hats. These will be dropped from the sky, down upon the multitude by Francis Hawks, the aviator. It will be a case of "catchers, keepers," for it is announced that those fortunate enough to secure one of the beautiful sport hats donated by Collins, Mme. Vera and others, will be privileged to retain them—free of cost.

AT FISH POND.

A fish pond will be another mecca for the sportsmen and sportswomen to test their skill with line and hook. Mrs. Charles Ray will be in charge, with the following assisting: Mrs. Harry Dana Lombard, Mrs. Kirk Johnson, Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. Sam Bonsall, Mrs. Joseph Hall, Mrs. Frederick Stearns, Mrs. Ralph Dyar, Mrs. Leon Hirt and Mrs. Stanley Anderson.

Under the direction of Mrs. Frank Gillelen a number of lads, dressed in blue coats, white pants, blue arm bands and "jazz" caps, will roam the grounds selling balloons during the afternoon. In this group of salesmen will be Robert London Moore, Lawrence B. Burck, Jr., Alex. Jr., Dickie Gillelen, Billy Bonsall, Bob Hastings, Ben Harwood, Stoddard Jess II, and Arthur Wright, Jr.

Fortune-tellers will, of course, be on hand to predict the future for the inquiring throngs. There will be also six booths of unusual beauty, which have been presented to Mrs. Shepherd by W. A. Clark, Jr., and these will be located about the garden for the exhibition and sale of many novelties.

One of these booths will be in charge of the California Country Club, Mrs. Giles Hall presiding as chairman. Assisting will be Mrs. Earl Lewis, Mrs. Frank Kelly, Mrs. Harry Carroll and Mrs. Georgia Hansen. Frank Kelly and Harry Carroll will serve as "barkers," while the latest in sport clothes and goods will be bartered and auctioned among the crowds.

Perhaps one of the most interesting of the afternoon's events will be the indoor concert to be given in Mrs. Brown's spacious drawing room. The program will be unusual in many ways, offering the compositions of famous local composers. Mrs. L. J. Selby will be in charge of this feature.

A nominal admission charge will be made for the Fete Champetre, the hours for which will be from 2 until 6 o'clock.

TRY OUT SAFETY ZONE.

Chain System Put Into Effect at Seventh and Broadway.

New safety zones for pedestrians, made by stretching chains 105 feet in length on the four corners at Seventh street and Broadway, were used by the traffic police for the first time yesterday. All drivers of automobiles were required to halt twenty feet back of the crossings and pedestrians leaving or boarding cars were instructed to walk inside the chains that were stretched parallel with the street car tracks. The new plan will be tried out for several days under the close observation of Captain of Traffic McDowell. It is expected by the police to prevent much congestion and contribute to the safety of pedestrians.

Saturday morning the response was in thorough keeping with the Savings to be realized. Today—the offering continues—and Mothers should hesitate no longer!
—These are splendid Norfolk Suits in recent styles and popular colors. The woolens used are of the best and the workmanship is above question. Special tailoring features give added strength—and every Suit has two pairs of pants.
—Ordinarily these Suits would command prices far in excess of $9.75 and $13.50. In both cases the number is limited. Wisdom and economy would suggest an early visit to Bullock's Boys' Store—today. It's on Bullock's Fifth Floor.

Bloomer Dresses $2.95-$3.50

—Perfectly bewitching little Dresses that combine practicalness and serviceability with a charming appearance—priced Friend-Makingly low in Bullock's Infants' Section.

—They're all well made of strong materials—and may be had in light or dark blue—in pink—or in tan; some are enlivened with bits of hand embroidery or stitching; every Dress should prove of unusual interest to some Mother in Southern California.
—There are about 30 Dresses at $3.50 and about 20 Dresses at $2.95—today—on Bullock's Fourth Floor.

French Kid, 16-Button-Length Gloves, $5.95

—are available at Bullock's today. Bullock's offered French Kid Gloves just like these a short time ago and all were sold within a very short time. They are over-seam sewed; have three pearl buttons at wrists and come in white, mode, gray, tan, beaver. — At Bullock's—First Floor.

MAKE REPORTS ON CONVENTION.

Women Tell Aims of League to Unit of Voters.

Councilmanic Candidates Are Heard by City Club.

Outline Needs of Salvation Army to Ebell Members.

BY MYRA NYE.

That the National League of Women Voters is an organization of women, who wish not only to vote but to vote right, and that the organization has two purposes—to foster education in citizenship and to support improved legislation—were the points emphasized by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette and Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant in their reports before the Los Angeles County Unit yesterday at the luncheon at the Friday Morning clubhouse.

These members of the county unit were delegates from Southern California to the national convention in Cleveland last month, which was attended by leading women from all the political parties notably the Republican and Democratic.

"We want to be as up-to-date as the fashionable skirt in all our deliberations and addresses," Mrs. Bryant reported the North Carolina delegate as saying; "long enough to cover the main points, but short enough to be interesting." Both reports yesterday showed that these women manifested their ability to be brief, efficient, explicit and interesting.

Following in the train of the national league the local group of women will work through seven departments: American citizenship, protection of women in industry, child welfare, social hygiene, improvement in election laws and methods, study of food problems and unification of laws concerning women, particularly marriage and divorce laws. It was pointed out by Mrs. Burdette that other organizations such as the Federation of Women's Clubs and the Parent-Teacher Associations had similar departments, which were for education only, while the League of Women Voters puts all the stress upon the legislation regarding these problems.

"The league makes its call to the brave, the intelligent, the forward-looking women," said Mrs. Burdette. "Its program is so patriotic, so sound, so obviously needed, it aims so certainly for the benefit of mankind that its success is assured. It is nonpartisan, nonsectarian, and in no sense of the word a 'woman's party.'"

Mrs. Arthur J. Heineman presided and introduced the speakers.

The Woman's City Club.

None of the eighteen candidates for the City Council failed to appear yesterday before a jury of women, which wished to pass upon their fitness for the position they seek. The jury was composed of the members of the Woman's City Club meeting in Lincoln Hall. Mrs. Ida Works Darling, the only woman candidate, presided, and the session was lively.

"If I have to listen to the dictation of yellow newspapers, I don't want to be a city official," said Councilman Ralph Criswell. "W. J. Sanborn, Dr. Langdon and myself have been subjected to a tirade of abuse for the past six weeks because we dared to stand against the Hearst bludgeon in the Bullock deal."

Following an address by a Salvation Army woman, who told of the vice conditions in the city, whereby girls of 13 have become mothers and are in the Salvation Army Home, Councilman Fred Wheeler rose and declared he had fought against such conditions and had always tried to help the Salvation Army.

Councilman Sanborn's speech was the shortest. He said: "A Councilman need not be an orator. All he must know is how to say 'Aye' or 'No' and when to decide. That is what I want to do and I want to work for the greatest number of people possible."

W. C. Steele was the only one who had the opportunity to register his opinion concerning the Normal Hill cut. He said he was against it.

That the women do not regard the fight as over and themselves as losers in this matter was manifest yesterday in the applause given Mrs. Emma L. Reed when she criticised the Councilmen who voted for the cut. An effort to bring the question of the cut before the people by referendum is being considered by women's organizations.

The Ebell Club.

Garbed as a nun, Madame Genevra Johnston-Bishop yesterday gave an illustrated lecture-recital, "The Passion Play in Song and Story" before the Ebell Club. She sang "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth" (Handel) and Gounod's "Ave Maria."

Col. Lee, social secretary of women's work in the Salvation Army, who has been in service thirty-one years, told of the day nurseries, the sewing classes that are thronged by girls and women, of the 10,000 quarts of milk given to hungry babies every month, of the rescue home for mothers from 13 years of age to 30, and of the Redondo Beach Recreation Home, where, last summer, 721 mothers and children were made happy by the first vacation of their lives. This talk inaugurated the annual drive for funds to carry on the work of the Salvation Army in Los Angeles.

A resolution was passed that will be presented at the State convention in Yosemite Valley to the effect that every child in California be asked to give a penny toward preserving the redwoods of the National Park. Will C. Wood, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State, heartily approved the plan and stated to the president of Ebell, Mrs. C. H. Toll, that he will do all in his power to further it, since it is an educational measure as well as one of conservation.

Fashion's Forecast

by Annabel Worthington

No. 9,949.—Lady's and Misses' Dress. One of the most attractive styles for a gingham frock is given in No. 9,949. It would be very pretty in red and white check with white organdie collar and cuffs. The long overdress hangs straight from the shoulders.

The lady's and miss' dress. No. 9,949, is cut in sizes 36 to 42 bust.

No patterns are kept in the Los Angeles office of The Times. To get patterns send the price (in stamps or well-wrapped coins) and the number and size of the pattern desired to this address:

SIMPLE SIMON'S SPELLING BEE.

The players should stand in rows or in a semicircle, as in the old-fashioned spelling bee. Failure to spell the words according to the "Simple Simon method" may incur forfeit. A suitable prize, such as a box of candy, shaped like a dictionary, may be given to the best speller.

Examples of Simple Simon spelling—icy should be spelled I. C.; easy, E. Z.; eighty, A. T.; arrow, R. O.; essence, S. N. S.; Emma, M. A.; cayenne, K. N.; pity, P. T.; essay, S. A.; cutie, Q. T.; Elsie, L. C.; beady, B. D.; ivy, I. V.; energy, N. R. G.; Essex, S. X.; wire, Y. R.; effigy, F. E. G.; Obi, O. B.; Katie, K. T.; envy, N. V.; effects, F. X.; forty, 4 T; busy, B. Z.; seedy, C. D.; city, C. T.; decay, D. K.; ditty, D. T.; excuse, X. Q. S.; etc. The idea is to use the least possible number of letters to give the sound of the word. For variety a sentence might be tried. Thus: "I see I am too wise for you," would be spelled "I. C. I. M. 2 YS. 4 U." This game is much more amusing than the regular spelling bee. Only the shortest words should be given to younger players, but older boys and girls may try variations as, for instance, asking such questions as this: "What's the coal bin when the coal is gone? Spell the answer in two letters." (Answer, M. T.—empty.)

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Mrs. Miller to be Hostess.

Mrs. Edgar Gale Miller (Louise Forve) is to be hostess at a tea on Friday at her South Pasadena home, to which she has bidden a company of the debutante set and very young matrons.

At Chinese Dinner.

In honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Haskell of Shanghai, China, and Miss Katherine Ryan, who sails for Honolulu next month, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Haskell of South Burlington avenue gave a Chinese dinner on Sunday for a company of ten. The guests were in Chinese costume and the menu and decorations were Chinese.

Mrs. Earl Returning.

Mrs. Edwin T. Earl, who has been visiting in the East for several months, left Washington, D. C., yesterday on her return trip home. She is accompanied by her son, Edwin, Jr., who is on his way home from a trip abroad. Mrs. Earl visited in New York and other eastern cities.

Musicale and Luncheon.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayo Thomas of 1333 West Fortieth Place announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mildred Thomas, to H. A. Armstrong of Gainsville, Tex. The marriage will take place at the Church of the Angels early in June.

Assistance League Tea-Dansant.

Many parties promise to make the Assistance League tea-dansant at the Ambassador tomorrow one of the gayest the league has sponsored. The Woman's City Club is co-operating and the proceeds from the theater and the tea-dansant, which is to be in the zinnia grill, will go to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Hansen Moore is to entertain a coterie of friends, and Mrs. Hancock Banning and Mrs. Homer Laughlin, Jr., are to entertain a large party together. Mrs. R. D. Shepherd will have a party and Mrs. Thomas Wright and Mrs. Arthur Wright will entertain together. Others who will have parties include Mrs. Herman Darling, Mrs. Emma L. Reed, Mrs. John S. Myers, Mrs. John P. Coleman, Mrs. Robert T. Brain, Mrs. Hagbert C. Fallang, Mrs. Oscar Soudan, Miss Lillian H. Matthiessen and Miss Joy Bennett.

House Warming.

Miss Pearl Hunsberger entertained with a housewarming at the new home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hunsberger of 412 West California avenue. There was dancing. Red and white roses adorned the house. The guests included Misses Erma Patterson, Dolly Schaefer, Addie Schaefer, Betty Bullard, Lyndall Haven and Messrs. Frank Butterfield, Paul Camp, Edwin Stivers, Ed Monlot, Vern Nyman and Carl Bowman.

An Attractive Tea.

As a courtesy to Mrs. Raymond Deewald of Bremerton, Wash., Mrs. Nicholas Cordary of 1357 South Alvarado street entertained at a small tea. Mrs. David C. Sample (Mme. Jones-Simmons,) who now resides in Fresno, also shared honors, and a group of former pupils of Mme. Simmons furnished a music program. Mrs. Edward Howard poured. Mrs. Deewald accompanied Mrs. Sample to Fresno yesterday.

Atlanta Visitors.

Misses Martha and Mattie Smith of Atlanta, Ga., are guests of Mrs. F. del Barrio and Miss Barrio of Kingsley Drive for an indefinite time. Miss Martha Smith is a talented musician. Mr. and Mrs. A. Wodehouse are to entertain at dinner Sunday in their honor at their ranch home at El Monte.

At Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curran of South Ardmore street entertained a company of sixteen at dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Richards of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Curran are just back from a trip to Bakersfield.

To Tour Europe.

Mrs. H. Lou Zuckerman of 736 South Harvard Boulevard is leaving shortly for New York, accompanied by her sisters, Mrs. Leland Offer and Miss Esther Goldberg, where she will meet Mr. Zuckerman later to sail with him June 30 on the Imperator for Europe. In Hungary they will join his father and brothers, from whom he had not heard until recently since the beginning of the war. The family will return to America with Mr. and Mrs. Zuckerman.

In New Home.

Mrs. Mabel V. Pritchard has sold her home on Elden avenue and has purchased another at 262 South Benton Way, where she and her little daughter, Evelyn Vi-Ella, will reside.

Return to Long Beach.

Mrs. Norvell Annesley of Pittsburg, Pa., has returned to the Hotel Alexander, Long Beach, for the summer. She passed the winter at Coronado and San Diego and also visited the Imperial Valley.

Marriage Announced.

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. E. R. Morris announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Chatterton Morris, and Richard N. Smith on Tuesday, May 3, at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral. Rev. V. D. Ruggles officiated.

In quitting San Quentin at 7 o'clock this morning John McNamara will leave behind his brother and cellmate, James B. McNamara, who pleaded guilty to dynamiting The Times Building Oct. 1, 1910, and who is serving a life sentence. Nineteen counts of an indictment remain against John McNamara here, but it is regarded as unlikely that they will be pressed. Federal indictments at Indianapolis also are hanging over him. These are based on transportation of dynamite and nitroglycerine on passenger trains in violation of the interstate commerce laws.

Reports printed yesterday to the effect that McNamara was released a day ahead of time were denied by the prison officials last night.

CALL HIM BANKRUPT.

A petition was filed in the United States District Court yesterday that L. Zeben be declared a bankrupt. The petitioning creditors are Roberti Brothers, with a claim of $961; Kling Manufacturing Company, $792.50; and Parmelee & Dohrmann, $208.42. It is set out in the bill that Zeben is not only guilty of various acts of bankruptcy, but that he concealed a stock of merchandise consisting of furniture, for the purpose of defrauding his creditors.

Whooping Cough.

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under 5 years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.—[Advertisement.

SAYS LOVE FLEW AS HAIR WENT.

Woman Avers Man Broke His Promise to Wed When She Had to Shave.

The love of Ben Goldstein, a rich merchant seemed to be chilled, when, after an attack of influenza, Mrs. Anita Taurog's hair fell out and she was forced to shave her head. She put on a wig and the transformation did not please him, she said in Judge York's court yesterday, where she is demanding $50,000 damages for lost love.

Mrs. Taurog was anxious to marry Mr. Goldstein, she said. At his request she had bought a diamond engagement ring, upon which she paid $100. The balance of the money she says Mr. Goldstein paid. Then came his refusal to marry her, she said, followed by humiliation and the distress of her friends. The case will be resumed today. Attorneys Philip Cohen, S. A. Miller and Louis Kaufman represent Mrs. Taurog. Attorney C. W. Fourl is defending the case for Mr. Goldstein.

NEW SCHOOL FOR BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Work Will Begin on Costly Structure at Once.

Intermediate Institution in Hollywood Planned.

Additions to Other Buildings Projected by Board.

A high school for Boyle Heights to cost $324,000 and to be erected at Fourth and Fickett streets, a $280,000 structure to house the Hollywood intermediate school together with additions to schools which will mean an outlay of $318,000, are included in the program announced last night by the Board of Education after prolonged consideration of various sites offered. Construction is to begin as soon as plans can be prepared.

The first unit of the Boyle Heights institution is to be built at once. The plans are to call for a central unit around which a larger high school can be built. According to the instructions given Hunt & Burns, the architects commissioned to draw the plans, the new school is to be one of the finest in the city on a par with any in this country.

The Hollywood intermediate school is to be started at once. A saving will be effected in this instance, as the business manager is to have the plans prepared in his office. It is estimated that at least $7500 can be saved in this manner.

The other schools to be improved, with the amount to be spent in additions, are: Albion school, twelve rooms, costing $84,000, with T. Beverly Keim as architect; Alpine school, ten rooms, costing $70,000, with Parker T. Wright as architect; Fifteenth-street school, 10 rooms costing $50,000, with Frederick J. Soper as architect; Santa Fe-avenue school, ten rooms costing $84,000, with Thomas F. Power as architect.

ON MURDER CHARGE.

Accused of the murder of Rosa Gonzales on the 9th inst., Jose M. Soto was arraigned yesterday before Justice Brown. He was arrested by Detective Sergeants Rico and Rico. The defendant was committed to the County Jail and hearing was set for Friday

AUTOISTS SAVED MONEY.

Replying to resolutions aimed at the organization as a result of the defeat of the Ream, Sample and Morris bills at the recent session of the Legislature, Secretary Mitchell of the Automobile Club of Southern California, in a statement issued yesterday, declares that the action of the club will save the motorists of the State approximately $11,000,000 in the next two years in unnecessary taxation.

"The Automobile Club of Southern California," Secretary Mitchell's statement says, "is justly proud of its share in the defeat of these uncalled-for and penalizing measures. If it were not for the advent of the automobile, the majority of improved highways in the State would be mere trails or cow paths.

"Southern California, particularly, has been largely built up by the factors of the automobile and the automobile trucks. More residents, more investment, more population and more prosperity has been brought to the southern portion of the State through these means than by any other single medium.

"The overloading of trucks has always been and in future will be even more staunchly opposed by the Automobile Club of Southern California. Its warning signs to owners and drivers as to overloading are found on the roads and highways, together with its thousands of directing signs all over the southern counties, and the upbuilding and preservation of the highways is one of the prime objects of the club."

As Mr. Mitchell also pointed out, the club has spent many thousands of dollars in aiding to extend, construct and guard the welfare of the highways, and is in perfect accord with the plan to use all fees derived from the motoring public on the highways. But it has also, he added, "a duty to its members and to all motor owners, to protect them against any extortionate taxation, which, had the proposed laws passed, would have been little short of a fine for owning and operating automotive vehicles."

TRAFFIC SIGNAL ZONE EXTENSION APPROVED.

SYSTEM TO BE PUT IN FORCE ON THIRTY-ONE MORE CROSSINGS.

The traffic signals now in use on Broadway between Third and Seventh streets will be extended to thirty-one crossings, according to a contract approved by the City Council yesterday upon recommendation of the Finance Committee. This additional system is to be acquired from the Acme Signal Company and is to cost $50,685, to be paid for in eleven monthly payment. The system now installed will be purchased at a cost of $4200.

This system of traffic control has been discussed for a long time by the Councilmen and the Acme Company. It was installed on Broadway as an experiment and those familiar with its workings declare that it is giving excellent service and is relieving the traffic jams in the area covered. Acceptance of the contract was recommended by the police traffic department.

The signals are operated from a central station and alternately release traffic north and south and east and west every twenty seconds.

Under the contract which the Council directed the Mayor and City Clerk to sign, the payments for the signal system will be made in the shape of rentals, and if after the system has been tried eleven months it proves satisfactory the Council is to pay the Acme company the sum of $1 for title to the signals which have been installed. The contract received the unanimous support of the Council.

Sign Bills, is County's Plea to Governor.

By a resolution the Board of Supervisors yesterday asked Gov. Stephens to approve fifty bills of vital interest to this county. Among the measures are: Flood control; providing a revolving fund to take care of the Sheriff's expenses for transporting prisoners to State institutions; giving the grand jury the option of employing an expert when required instead of an auditor to go over the county books at an expense of $17,000; providing for a public auction of criminal exhibits no longer required as evidence; providing that trust funds shall be placed in banks instead of keeping them in the County Treasurer's vaults, and the Arcadia Balloon School land bill.

The Supervisors oppose the bill authorizing the county to publish a list of its demands and the minutes of the board in a newspaper. This involves an expense of from $25,000 to $50,000 a year, it is said.

BLISTER IS OUTLAWED.

SALT LAKE CITY, May 9.—The State Industrial Commission has decided that a man cannot claim compensation for injuries as a result of a blister incapacitating him for work.

ASK VENUE CHANGE IN RED CASES.

Attorneys for I.W.W. Say Judge Willis Prejudiced; Set Trials for Three.

Charging that Judge Willis, while pronouncing sentence upon eleven I.W.W., convicted of criminal syndicalism, indicated that he was prejudiced against that organization, H. O. Mulks and J. H. Ryckman, attorneys for James Olson and seven other defendants accused of a similar offense, yesterday filed a petition for a change of venue in the remaining cases. Copies of the petition were served upon Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney. Trials of Olson, Jack Gavesl and Henry Matlin were set for tomorrow and other cases pending are to follow.

In the petition the defense attorneys assert that Judge Willis used the following language, in part, in sentencing other I.W.W., some of whom are now in San Quentin:

"Now, if this government does not suit you, the better thing for you to do would be to go right back to the government you came from; that would be the best thing for you and the best thing for the United States. The people of the United States are not going to be dominated by some form of government that is imported here from some other country. We expect to continue here a representative form of government for a great number of years."

The decision of the court, which goes on to point out fallacies of the I.W.W. doctrines, is quoted at length. The motion for a change of venue will be argued tomorrow morning, when the defendants are to appear for trial. Earlier in the day the defense attorney petitioned the court to order the District Attorney to file a bill of particulars, outlining the prosecution's case. This was denied.

ON TWO CHECK CHARGES.

Although C. W. Goodman was held to answer yesterday by Justice Hanby on two counts of passing fictitious checks, he was released on his own recognizance pending his trial in the Superior Court. He is accused of passing a fictitious check for $10 on B. Gruell and one for $20 on C. B. Blumberg on the 1st inst. He was prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello.

OUTDOOR JAIL IS THE LATEST.

County Keeps Many Prisoners Handcuffless Outside Now, Due to Overcrowding.

Get your reservations early for the county's new outdoor jail. "Outdoor jail!" one hears you say. Yes, even so, for the County Jail is so crowded now that there is no room for more prisoners inside, so the authorities are keeping selected ones outside.

How the authorities select them, and the operations of this jail, where there are no handcuffs and they mostly do even as you and I, will be told in a special article in The Times next Sunday.

WOMAN'S BULLET VICTIM REPORTED IMPROVING IN HOSPITAL.

Police detectives yesterday continued their investigation of the shooting of Charles E. Everett, 40 years of age, by his stepdaughter, Mrs. Lulu McBride, 34 years of age, when he called at her home at 628 Agatha street Sunday. Mr. Everett, who was shot through the lung, is in the County Hospital, and is reported by his physicians to be improving. Mrs. McBride is in the City Jail, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon.

According to Mrs. McBride, she shot her stepfather when he called at her home Sunday to continue what she calls "his persecutions." Mr. Everett, in a statement to the police, declared that he called on his stepdaughter only to "square up family troubles."

From what the police were able to learn yesterday, Mr. Everett, who is said to be separated from his wife, married her seventeen years ago, after she had left her first husband. The first husband, according to the family, later committed suicide.

According to the investigating officers, Mr. Everett, his stepdaughter and his wife have had quarrels for a number of months.

TERMINAL PLAN BATTLE OPENED.

Constitutionality Question is Raised by Railroads.

Three Companies in Demand for a Rehearing.

Federal Supreme Court May be Resorted To.

which it has invested a half-million dollars. Its objections to the construction of a viaduct at Alisо street will be withdrawn in the event permission is granted to complete its new freight terminal at Alameda and Eighth streets."

Commenting upon the application for a rehearing, C. W. Durbrow, general counsel for the Southern Pacific, said yesterday, among other things:

"The Southern Pacific Company objects to the order in so far as it requires the participation in the expense at Alisо, Macy and Seventh streets where those streets cross the tracks of the Salt Lake and Santa Fe at the river; or the expense for separating grade crossings at Alisо street over the tracks of the Pacific Electric; and at Macy street and Seventh street over the tracks of the Los Angeles Railway because the Southern Pacific does not operate a railroad in the vicinities named.

"The Southern Pacific and Salt Lake lines are anxious to provide for the consolidation of their terminal facilities at the earliest possible date and their plan can be carried into effect without any legal obstacles; whereas the plan proposed by the commission requires the city to vacate something like nineteen acres of city streets and the Plaza itself, and to provide for the Pacific Electric's entrance into the new depot requires the city to construct a subway along Main street at an expense of several million dollars, which, according to the testimony of the carrier's engineers, is impractical.

"Outside of urging the constitutional and legal questions which are involved, the application raises the broad question of expediency and policy controlled by the practical engineering and financial questions.

"The Southern Pacific Company has erected a commodious modern passenger station in Los Angeles under an order of the State Railroad Commission. These facilities are adequate to accommodate all passenger demands of the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake lines for a period of at least twenty years and the effect of a union station at the Plaza would be to require the Southern Pacific to scrap these facilities resulting in the loss of several million dollars' worth of property now owned and used by the Southern Pacific Company, as well as obligating the company to share in the entire expense of the Plaza layout."

CHILD IS SUBJECT OF HABEAS CORPUS WRIT.

GRANDFATHER, FOSTER PARENTS BOTH WANT BABE BORN OUT OF WEDLOCK.

Testimony in behalf of the petition for a writ of habeas corpus, involving Alfonso Cabrillas, the 3-year-old child of Louise Cabrillos, born in this city out of wedlock Oct. 3, 1918, was partially heard in U. S. District Judge Trippet's court yesterday. The argument in the matter went over for a week and in the meantime the child is remanded to the custody of its foster parents, Emilio and Chorita Angel, 733 New High street.

The point in the petition in behalf of the writ is that the child was taken by the Children's Home Society of California two weeks after its birth in a proceeding that the mother did not understand at the time. Later on, the child was adopted by the Angels, and it is asserted that the court had no right or authority to allow the adoption of an American-born child by an alien, as such an act, it is asserted, would expatriate the child. It was further asserted that the Angels intended taking the baby to Mexico to live, but the testimony taken yesterday was to the effect that while the Angels might have threatened to cross the line in 1918, they had not yet done so.

The fight for the custody of the baby in the care of the Angel family is sponsored by the Children's Home Society of California, which was represented at the partial hearing yesterday by G. A. Hooper.

The grandfather of the baby, Francisco Cabrillos, who is a prosperous rancher in San Diego county, is backing the writ to get back the child. He offered to pay for the care of the baby with the Angels, but they refused to receive it.

REROUTING DELAYED.

First-street Cars Must Continue to Stop at Second and Olive.

An order of the Board of Public Utilities directing the Los Angeles Railway to reroute the West First street cars east on First street from Olive to Broadway has been withheld and the cars will continue to stop at Second and Olive streets until further developments. It was announced yesterday, following a meeting of the board.

At the office of Chief Engineer Osborne yesterday it was stated that a committee from his office, General Manager Kuhrts of the railway company and citizens from the Bunker Hill district on Thursday will make a tour of inspection along the proposed new route.

TOURNEY PLANS MADE.

Committees Named for Military Attraction in July.

Preliminary arrangements for the military tournament in Burbank, July 2, 3 and 4, were made last night by the executive committee of the Southern California Military Tournament Association, meeting in the offices of the Glendale Press. Thomas D. Watson was named chairman of the temporary finance committee. Other committee chairmen are: Publicity, L. T. Greene; grounds, Raymond Wells; outside co-operation, L. T. Rowley.

PORT NOTES.

Despite the season's strike, eleven vessels arrived at the harbor yesterday, including three lumber steamers, four oil tankers, one passenger steamer and three freighters.

The Atlantic, Gulf & Pacific freighter West Haven arrived from northern ports to load a cargo of citrus fruits at the outer harbor dock destined for Baltimore.

The Luckenbach Line freighter Edward Luckenbach arrived from New York, via San Francisco, bringing a heavy shipment of steel and manufactured products, after discharging, the vessel will go into dry dock at the Los Angeles shipyards for repairs amounting to $60,000.

The general Petroleum Company's tanker Yorba Linda arrived from Tampico with a cargo of oil, while the Union Oil tankers Lansing, La Placentia and Washington arrived to be tied up.

The Isthmian Line freighter Steel Age arrived yesterday afternoon from New York with a consignment of general cargo, consisting of steel, pipe, etc., for discharge here.

After discharging 200 tons of cargo from Liverpool, the Williams-Dimond freighter sailed for San Francisco last night.

ROUND PEGS FOR ROUND HOLES.

Most Positions in Southern California Are Filled Through "Times."

"It costs money to keep changing employees," said a business man recently. "We find it pays to exercise care in picking them out. The reason we use The Times for help-wanted advertisements is because we get a better grade of applicants, and this applies to common laborers as well as to $5000-a-year men."

Because it appeals to industrious people, The Times, through its want-ad columns, is depended on to find competent employees in all lines, city and country, male and female, store, office and factory.

SUBMARINES COMING.

Nine "R" Type Undersea Fighters Will be Quartered Here.

Nine submarines of the "R" type will leave Norfolk Navy Yard for Los Angeles Harbor today, the longest voyage to be undertaken by underwater craft since the German "U" boats invaded the shores of the United States during the war period.

The submarines, chaperoned by the Camden, a mother ship, will be permanently attached to the Pacific Fleet with their base at Los Angeles Harbor upon their arrival here. The vessels delegated to make the record trip are the R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4, R-5, R-6, R-7, R-8 and R10.

Tests were recently made by the submarines on the Atlantic Coast, demonstrating that they were capable of making the trip under their own power. The westward trip will be made through the Panama Canal, with the first stop at Key West, Fla.

MEXICANS' TROUBLES PUT UP TO HARDING.

TRANSPORTATION TO BORDER REFUSED BY EMPLOYERS, COMMITTEE SAYS.

A telegram, calling attention to unfavorable conditions which imported Mexican laborers are reported to have experienced in Southern California, was forwarded to President Harding yesterday, according to statements of A. M. Villarreal and C. Sanchez, members of a repatriation committee which they say represents several hundred Mexicans here.

They declare that thousands of Mexicans, now unemployed and unable to support their families, were brought here by the railroad companies, which have since refused to transport them back to the Mexican border.

From a high railroad official it was learned last night that a delegation, representing from 300 to 500 Mexicans, had requested the railroads to furnish free transportation or half-fare rates to El Paso, whence the delegation said the Mexican government had agreed to furnish free transportation to the interior. The official declared that the Mexicans are not employed by the railroads and though they may have been brought to this country by the companies, they left the employ of the railroads to accept ranch jobs, thereby ending mutual obligations. The official also stated that the Mexican delegation had endeavored to procure transportation from various charitable organizations.

FOR AUTO ROBE THEFT.

William P. Daly, who pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile robe, valued at $100, on December 22, last, from R. L. Patterson, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Reeve, to six months of hard labor. He will probably be given a chance to join the Sheriff's detention crew now working on the county road through the Malibu ranch.

GETS JAIL TERM.

Charles Freshman was yesterday sentenced by U. S. District Judge Trippet to serve nine months in the Orange County Jail, following his plea of guilty of violation of the Harrison Narcotic Law. His partner in the enterprise, J. F. Coffman, was fined $1000 following his plea of guilty, about a month ago.

Semi-Annual Sale Sample Garments

1/4 1/3 1/2 Less

Exclusive, One-of-a-Kind Models From Not One but Many of the Country's Leading Designers—Creating an Ensemble That Could Not Possibly Be Presented by One Maker Even at Regular Prices

Hamburger's originated the first Sale of Sample Garments in Los Angeles—and with each successive occasion, since the institution of this event, greater stress has been placed upon the preparation—each season showing a tremendous growth over the one preceding. This Spring Sale of 1921, therefore, is the culmination of all previous accomplishments, attaining greater comprehensiveness and presenting better values.
The second busy day of the sale will find hundreds of women completing summer wardrobes—each enjoying the satisfaction of knowing that no better models are made, and surely none that even approach these in attractiveness of pricing. Coats, wraps, capes, dresses, suits and skirts—covering every possible garment need—the size range having been made absolutely complete by the addition of higher-value garments from Hamburger's regular stocks, each reduced in price proportionately.

There Never Could Be a Lovelier Assemblage of Silk and Wool

Frocks

for Women and Misses

1/4, 1/3, 1/2 Less

Frocks that bespeak their aristocratic origin from the hems of the skirts to the tips of their saucy collars.

Beautifully gay in color and combination are the sports togs designed for distinguished gatherings at the club—or the filmier frocks that might appear at tea or garden party.

Darker silk frocks in great profusion and those fashioned of wool fabrics—all attaining a distinctiveness of style never found in models at ordinary prices.

Wraps and Coats

for Women and Misses

1/4, 1/3, 1/2 Less

From the formal evening wrap through the stages of plain wrap, jaunty cape and sports coat, there is not one phase of fashion left untouched in this event. The fabrics, styles and colors are as diversified as were ever assembled at such price reductions.

Suits

for Women and Misses

1/4, 1/3, 1/2 Less

It is a fact well known that Sample Garments are always numbered among the choicest of a designer's creations! Think, then, what this opportunity means to the women of Southern California.

Here in one department there are arrayed the handsomest of exclusive suit models from many designers—and on every one a splendid saving!

Sports Skirts in Exclusive Designs

for Women and Misses

1/4, 1/3, 1/2 Less

There is great demand at the present time for models to serve the practical purposes of the sports skirt while displaying a "newness" of design. Here are just such skirts—and all at marked reductions.
